2 San Rafael Annex Plans Move Ahead

Councilmen Act To Add Nunes Ranch, Terra Linda

On a motion by Dr. Charles W. Aby and second by Fred Jensen, the city council approved a resolution of intent to annex the Nunes ranch, which will push the northern limits of the city to Lucas Valley road. Eichler Homes, Inc., plans to continue building homes on the Nunes land with access from Del Ganado and Monticello roads in Terra Linda.

A long-standing petition by residents of Terra Linda for annexation to the city also got official encouragement.

DISTRICT FACILITIES

Councilmen decided the recreation and firehouse facilities now owned by the Terra Linda Community Services District would be of sufficient value to take care of the $75-per-lot annexation fee which the city charges.

In other words, instead of requiring the $75 fee for each of the 1,126 developed lots, the city would be willing to accept the four and a half acres of recreation and firehouse facilities as the annexation fee for all of Terra Linda.

With the annexation fee question resolved, the Terra Linda residents were given consent to go ahead with circulation of petitions for annexation. Terra Lindans hope to put the matter to a vote in November.

CHECK ON DITCH

City Manager Dan E. Andersen said he has tried to get assurance from the county that the entire ditch would be repaired without cost to the city. However, he has not been able to pin down that assurance.

Mayor John F. McInnis and other councilmen stressed that completion of the ditch would be one of the conditions required before Terra Linda is annexed.

RECORD ERASED

Board Kills 'Debate' On Fluoridation

Alarmed at the idea of being involved in any kind of a "debate" over the issue of fluoridation, the Marin County Board of Supervisors unanimously voted today to "delete from the minutes and expunge from the record" any action it might have taken in that direction.

Doubt seemed to exist as to just what the board actually had done.

Every member seemed convinced it had not meant to sponsor anything that could be called a debate, yet that word crept into the minutes of April 12 and County Clerk George S. Jones confessed that "how the word 'debate' got in is unknown."

The flurry developed when Mrs. William Loran, chairman of the pro fluoridation Children's Dental Health Committee of Marin County, showed up with proposed rules for the combat.

Mrs. Loran put in a letter including the clause, "the board has suggested a debate," basing this on a communication from Jones after the board had decided on a meeting proposed by Dr. Stephen A. Duff, vice chairman of the anti-fluorida-

Close Council Races To Be Settled Tonight

Cities Will Count Absentee Ballots In Vote Canvasses

Winners of city council seats in five Marin municipalities will be decided tonight as absentee ballots are opened at official election convasses.

Councils of all nine cities that held elections last Tuesday will meet tonight to canvass returns. In five — Belvedere, Larkspur, Mill Valley, San Anselmo and Sausalito — the canvass will be crucial, for it will determine who will be sworn in as new councilmen.

COMBINE MEETS

San Anselmo and Sausalito councils will combine the vote canvass with regular meetings.

Count of the absentees will determine two out of three of the councilmen to be seated in Larkspur. James Lienkaemper was assured election with 550 votes, without the absentees. Closely grouped behind Lienkaemper were L. A. Daveler with 519, Mrs. Jane W. Epidendio with 510, and Daniel Allen, incumbent mayor with 503. There are 35 absentee ballots to be tallied.

Count of the absentees will determine the winners of one seat in Belvedere, one in Mill Valley and one in Sausalito.

IN BELVEDERE

In Belvedere, the contest in doubt is between Dr. John H. Flint, who received 242 votes in the unofficial tally last week, and Vice Adm. Frank E. Beatty, who got 226. There are 34 absentee votes to be counted.

Dr. Robert P. Watkins, incumbent mayor, was assured re-election in the Belvedere voting, with 351 votes without the absentees. Incumbent Councilmen E. G. (Ned) Weed appeared safely assured of re-election with 268 votes—needing very few of the absentees to defeat either Flint or Beatty.

In Mill Valley, count of 70 absentee ballots will determine whether incumbent George Blackwell or William M. Secor wins a council seat.

UNOFFICIAL TALLY

In the unofficial tally, Blackwell had 1,319 votes and Secor, 1,304. Michael Wornum easily won election with 1,597, and George D. Monardo appeared safe in second spot with 1,378.

The San Anselmo contest in doubt is between a pair of running mates: John M. Reichmuth and Robert E. Rouse, candidates of the San Anselmo Citizens for Good Government. With two council seats at stake in the Hub City, incumbent Mayor Arthur W. Smith easily won re-election with 1,157 votes. With 30 absentees to be counted, Reichmuth had 1,000, and Rouse, 996.

In doubt in Sausalito is whether Michael A. Harris or Carl G. Wooley will fill the third of three seats at stake in the election. In last week's tallk, with 67 absentee votes remaining to be opened, Harris had 744 votes, and Wooley, 712.

INCUMBENTS SAFE

All the council meetings tonight are to begin at 8 o'clock.

After the new council is constituted, the San Anselmo city fathers will tackle two matters held over from the former administration: Whether to allow San Anselmo Garbage Disposal to continue a temporary rate

Anti-Rhee Mobs Battle Police, Army In Korea; Scores Killed

VIOLENCE IN SEOUL—Two policemen in Seoul, South Korea, swung their clubs yesterday as they helped break up a riot staged by opponents of President Syngman Rhee in protest of the Rhee regime's handling of the March 15 presidential election. Demonstrations were continuing today. (AP Wirephoto via radio from Tokyo)

Martial Law Imposed; U.S. Voices Concern

SEOUL, South Korea (Wednesday) (UPI)—Die-hard anti-government rioters battled police and troops into the early dawn today after a day and night of bloody street fighting which held President Syngman Rhee a virtual prisoner in his own presidential palace.

At least 82 were reported dead in Seoul, along with 300 seriously injured. Five were reported killed in the southern port of Pusan.

Two Americans were injured in Seoul.

The government decreed martial law in six Republic of Korea cities to combat mushrooming demonstrations which started as a protest against last month's national elections. The demonstrators charged the elections won by government candidates were fraudulent.

U. S. Ambassador Walter P. McConaughy called on President Rhee to express concern over the rioting and to add the hope the government would take into account "basic causes and grievances behind the disorders."

(In Washington, the United States appealed to the South Korean government and anti-government demonstrators to settle "justifiable grievances" without further bloodshed.

(The State Department endorsed and repeated the statement issued by ambassador McConaughy.

(Department spokesman Lincoln White refused to say whether the United States was suggesting that Korea hold new elections when it urged Rhee to "take account of the basic causes and grievances" behind the demonstrations.

(Secretary of State Christian A. Herter called in Korean Ambassador You Chang Yang to discuss the riots.)

Government troops and armored cars firing at point blank range rolled them back with heavy casualties but the mobs attacked again and again.

A group of 10 trucks assaulted a police box at Tangdong, two miles east of Seoul. Another group in 20 trucks fought a running gun battle with police.

But by morning, most of the city was quiet except for army jeeps and trucks warning over loudspeaker systems against further violence. Citizens were told to remain indoors.

In Pusan, rioters broke through a police barrage of tear gas and rifle fire to tear up police headquarters, smashing windows and furniture and finally setting fire to the building.

Policemen there had to escape over the rooftop to avoid mobs which also burned or destroyed several police vehicles and fire trucks and engines.

Yesterday's wild demonstrations partly were in protest against police violence earlier in Masan and also against the alleged election frauds.

In Seoul, the fighting raged close to American Army installations and homes occupied by Americans but there was no known attack on any of them. U. S. troops were kept in their bases as a precaution.

San Rafael To Try Parking Fee Plan

San Rafael is all set to try a new method of discouraging all-night parking in residential streets, and at the same time give those without garages the right to park in the street by paying a monthly fee.

On a motion by Dr. Charles W. Aby and a second by Fred Jensen, the city council last night asked the city attorney and city manager to draw up this ordinance:

Everyone, whether he has a garage or not, may park all night in residential streets by paying a parking permit fee of $7.50 per month. Those without permits may not park more than one hour at a time between 2 a.m. and 6 a.m.

Aby reasoned that the $7.50 fee is more than the usual parking fee in town and should tend to make motorists put cars in driveways or garages wherever possible.

On the other hand, those who find it impossible to provide offstreet parking space may still park on streets by paying $7.50 each month and getting a permit card to put in their cars.

Aby suggested that the system of permits be tried for a year or so.

City Atty. Albert E. Bagshaw said this parking permit system may be constitutional because the permit is available to all citizens, just so they put up the fee. A similar Santa Ana ordinance appears unconstitutional, in the city attorney's opinion, because it provides permits for "hardship cases" to be determined by the city treasurer.

The new proposal for San Rafael would not concern itself with "hardship" cases. Everyone who pays $7.50 and has a permit in the car would be exempt. All others would be tagged if they left cars for more than an hour between 2 and 6 a.m.

City fathers indicated that the ban against all-night parking in the downtown business area would continue in effect. Permits would be allowed only for residential areas.

County Budget Handed To Supervisors

A 213-page volume containing Marin County's proposed budget for the fiscal year 1960-61 was submitted today to the Marin County Board of Supervisors by County Administrator Donald A. Jensen.

Its total for funds affecting the entire county was as previously revealed, $11,747,250, calling for a rate of $2.494 on each $100 of assessed valuation on the secured roll.

To this is to be added $452,315 for county library costs, not affecting the entire county, involving an extra 14.88-cent rate, boosting the total in affected areas to $2.6428.

MEETINGS SET

Jensen said copies had been given to each board member and to all department heads.

The board decided to start daily conferences with department heads on April 27, skipping the next day but thereafter proceeding steadily save for weekends until the final figures are settled upon.

As compiled by County Auditor-Controller Leon A. deLisle, the preliminary figures represent "stringent 'pruning' through budgeting procedures," said Jensen. He said he had subsequently conferred about them with department heads.

Few new services or programs are being recommended, said Jensen, with these exceptions:

MEDICAL CARE

Jensen recommended a full-time medical director to head the county medical department and the nursing staff at hospital and farm, due to annual outlay of $750,000 and staff of 55 employees.

A juvenile bureau is recommended jointly by the sheriff and administrator, initially consisting of two employees.

Jensen recommends a new county collections officer for the auditor's office, on the ground that though establishment of the office will cost $9,300, "collection of just debts" will more than make up.

No budget has been established for mental health, Jensen noted, pending a report to the board from the Mental

Damage Costs Family New Marin City Home

It was in-and-then-out-again for Mrs. Beulah Augustus and her five children at the new low-rent housing project in Marin City.

Twenty-four hours after moving into their spanking new apartment at 48 Cole drive, the Augustuses today were given three days' notice of eviction by the Marin County Housing Authority.

The rules are strict in the new homes, Mrs. Augustus found.

Bert Kiahn, housing authority executive director, said he had received a complaint yesterday of drinking by Mrs. Augustus and three male guests.

He investigated, he said, and found a toilet seat had been torn off and there were fingerprints on the newly painted walls.

The county welfare department placed the four children, ranging in age from 9 to 6, in foster homes. Mrs. Augustus was served notice of eviction today—first to be ousted from the project into which the first residents moved only last Friday. She is separated from her husband.

Declared Klahn:

"This eviction should serve as a warning to all present and future tenants that the housing authority will not tolerate for one minute any violation of the lease agreement or overlook abuse of the property.

NMWD Board To Consider Contract

Approval of a contract with the City of Petaluma and the Sonoma Flood Control and Water Conservation District for construction of a viaduct and delivery of water to the Novato area is expected tonight at the regular meeting of the North Marin Water District directors.

The meeting, scheduled for 8 p.m., will be held in the district office.

U. S. Aims Sharp Words At Castro

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States today called on Prime Minister Fidel Castro of Cuba to realize the danger which "international communism" poses to his and other free countries.

In a statement issued by the State Department, this government also came the closer yet to branding Castro a dictator.

It said one of the hallmarks of dictatorship "such as that of Hitler and Mussolini was the muzzling of the free press." It noted that 95 per cent of Cuba's press "is under government control."

It's Election Day For Two States

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) carries his West Virginia presidential primary campaign to the steel-manufacturing city of Wheeling for factory tours and speech-making.

Kennedy and Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.) are entered in the May 10 West Virginia primary as Democratic presidential candidates. Humphrey is to resume his West Virginia campaigning next week.

Louisiana voters will elect a successor to Gov. Earl K. Long and experts predict ballad-singer Jimmie Davis, a Democrat, will run away with the race.

Davis is opposed by Republican Francis Grevemberg and States Rights nominee Kent Courtney. The Republicans haven't elected a Louisiana governor since Reconstruction days.

Many, including Long, feel Davis assured his election in the traditionally Democratic state on Jan. 9 when he defeated New Orleans Mayor deLesseps S. Morrison in a Democratic runoff.

SECOND TRY

Case is seeking his second six-year term in the Senate while Morris is making his second bid for a GOP Senate nomination. He ran third in a three-way primary in 1958.

Case is rated a slight favorite but some Republican observers said Morris gained strength in a campaign they viewed as a scrap between GOP liberals and conservatives.

Thorn Lord, Merced County (Trenton) Democratic chairman, is a heavy favorite to beat Richard M. Glassner, of Newark, for the Democratic nomination.

In West Virginia Kennedy began gringing up religion on his own yesterday instead of waiting for others to ask about it. He said the change in tactics stemmed from his recognition that his Roman Catholic religion is "quite obviously hanging in everybody's mind."

He added: "I just thought that, rather than wait, I'd bring in out into the open."

AREA PRAISED

In Los Angeles, Democratic national chairman Paul Butler toured the city's Sports Arena, site of the 1960 Democratic National Convention, and called it "the greatest convention hall in the country today."

A member of the arrangements committee, Camille F. Gravel Jr., of Alexandria, La., said "I think the whole setup is ideal."

Butler said he will recommend to the committee that the Democratic candidate make his acceptance speech at the final session in the Los Angeles Coliseum which seats upwards of 100,000 persons.

Woman Gains On Sergeants In Walk Race

Dr. Barbara Moore, a vegetarian who walked herself out of her shoes while descending the steep eastern slope of the Sierra Nevada, starts from the Nevada state line 13 miles west of here. She walked 53 miles yesterday over Donner Pass.

Sgt. Patrick Moloney and Mervyn Evans start from a bivouac 10 miles west of Lovelock, 90 miles ahead of Dr. Moore who left San Francisco a day behind them. They did 10 miles less than Dr. Moore during their last stint.

The servicemen said their attempt to beat the record of 79 days for walking across the country is not related to Dr. Moore's hike, and refuse to speed up their schedule of around 45 miles per day to race with her.

But she still thinks she can pass them. David Solomon, her escort, said she plans to cover 65 to 70 miles a day from now on.

"She's feeling stronger than ever," he said.

Dr. Moore, 56, suffered a sore ankle crossing the mountains.

"My escort left me for hours and I didn't have a pair of shoes to change," she said.

"But I'm fresh as a daisy," she added.

Retail prices of food in the United States rose 4.3 per cent from December, 1952, to December, 1958.

THE SENATORS' NO. 1 ROOTER

President Eisenhower, a hand to his glasses, looked out over the ballpark yesterday as he attended the Washington-Boston game in Griffith Stadium in Washington, D. C. and helped root the hometown Senators to victory. With him are Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, right background, and Alfred Gruenther, left, president of the American Red Cross. Special Disarmament Organization Planned

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Eisenhower administration has decided to create a special disarmament organization to mastermind negotiations with the Soviets on arms reduction.

President Eisenhower has given a go-ahead to the project with the aim of upgrading the importance of disarmament policy in the day-to-day conduct of foreign relations.

Experts from many government agencies and departments are to be grouped into a single staff led by a high-ranking chief whose sole responsibility will be development of disarmament strategy.

Their head is to be a distinguished civilian whose background and reputation will give him easy access to all Cabinet officers as well as stature with foreign government leaders.

Authoritative officials who disclosed this today said the decision has no connection with repeated charges by Sen. John Kennedy (D-Mass) that U.S. negotiators "are ill prepared" and "inadequately instructed" for talks with the Soviets. Kennedy is a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Administration leaders began considering this move last November, they said.

Kennedy, in a Wisconsin speech March 25, called upon Eisenhower to create an "arms control research institute" to coordinate government-wide planning, research and development in the disarmament field. He said it should report directly to Eisenhower.

Despite Kennedy's advice, the administration has decided that the new disarmament organization is to be put within the State Department and will not be made part of the President's executive offices.

San Rafael's new street lights on Fourth street, which have received wide publicity, are illustrated and explained in the April issue of Public Works magazine, published monthly in Ridgewood, N. J.

The article is written by Norris M. Rawles, San Rafael supervisor of public works. Rawles says he believes San Rafael's new lights are second only to those on State street in Chicago. He points out that installation of new 62,000-lumen lights and modernization of the main street provide an answer to the regional shopping center "threat."

Man Sent To Prison For Non-Support

A former Marin County resident, who has failed to support his wife and three children since 1957, must serve a maximum of five years in state prison for felony non-support.

Judge N. Charles Brusatori of Marin Superior Court ordered the prison sentence yesterday for Frank Hagain, 44, who was arrested in San Diego and returned to Marin on April 4 after a three-year search.

The judge noted that Hagain has been prosecuted for non-support since 1954 and drew a suspended prison term in 1957 for felony non-support, for which he served a year in county jail. When Hagain got out in 1958, he left the state.

District attorney's investigators William Bemiss and Antoan W. Adam tracked him down to San Diego The investigators estimate that Hagain's family has received about $6,000 in county welfare aid because of Hagain's failure to support them.

Trampolines 'Out' For Corte Madera

The Corte Madera Town Council said a flat "no" last night to a proposal for a trampoline center on Tamalpais drive adjacent to the Corte Madera Shopping Center.

By a 4-to-0 vote, councilmen turned down an appeal from promoters of the center for a reversal of the planning commission's denial of their application to build the center. Councilman Albert E. Kogler was absent.

The councilmen, after considering the matter for an hour, found there was "no reason to reverse the planning commission decision."

TWO-YEAR PERMIT

Jumpolene, Inc., which proposed to build the center, said the planning commission findings were not valid for denial of a conditional use permit. It asked for a permit for two years.

Zoning administrator William McBride, in a letter to the council, said the application did not meet the requirements of the zoning ordinance. No parking area was to be furnished; the proposal called for use of surplus area in the shopping center. And the area was to be enclosed by a six-foot fence, whereas the zoning law requires complete enclosure of facilities such as gymnasiums.

Mayor Roger F. Morse said the proposed center had a "completely unsatisfactory design," calling for principal access off the parking lot.

'NOT PRACTICAL'

"Any sort of situation that would cause a stream of pedestrians to move across a busy parking lot doesn't seem to be practical. It would be inviting an accident every day it is in operation," the mayor said.

Al Silver, secretary of Jumpolene, told the council that trampolines were a very healthful activity. According to statistics of the last eight months, there have been only 42 injuries among four million jumpers, he said.

The center would be a "condition," so it would fit the conditional use section of the zoning ordinance, he claimed.

He noted that other jurisdictions had granted use permits for trampoline centers.

The National Trampoline Assn. soon will have intercity competition in the sport, Silver said. The trampoline center would be a boon to the shopping center, giving parents a place to leave their children, he said.

The traffic problems would exist, whether or not the center is allowed, he added.

A representative of the shopping center said the merchants thought the trampolines would be an attraction to bring people to the center and increase business.

CHARLES K. GLENN

Seminary Students Pick Georgian As President

He succeeds John F. Welch, who will be graduated along with 79 other students April 29.

Glenn won the contest over T. L. Epton, a religious education student, in a runoff after the first ballot had been declared indecisive because no candidate had received the necessary 51 per cent of the votes.

In the initial vote, by secret ballot, Glenn received 87 votes; Epton, 57; Robert Nowell, 22, and James Rigler, 15. In the runnoff, Glenn received 116 to Epton's 63.

An honor graduate of Furman University at Greenville, S.C., Glenn enrolled at Golden Gate in 1958 and this year served as program vice president of the student body and editor of the biweekly student paper, the Strawberry Pointer.

Other officers elected were:

Jack Johnson, Sand Springs, Okla., program vice president; Mrs. George Maeda, Honolulu, social vice president; Joan Garey, West Memphis, Ark., secretary; Jerry Brumbelow, San Antonio, Texas, treasurer; Joe Tarry, Lovington, N.M., historian; Kenneth Glass, Scottsboro, Ala., athletic chairman; Elwyn Gunn, Dallas, Texas, editor, Strawberry Pointer; Jerral Miles, Live Oak, Sutter county, music director; Ramona Kitchens, Glendale, Ariz., pianist, and Mrs. Edward Smith, El Dorado, Ark., organist.

MEMPHIS ZOO SCENE OF JUNGLE DRAMA

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—Midnight, the sleek panther, is behind bars and looking ferocious once again in the safety of its own cage.

The 125-pound animal sprang through a cage door accidentally left open at the Memphis Zoo yesterday, and spent two hours of freedom stalking attendants. It clawed the arm of attendant Charles Headden, 25.

Then the animal, frightened by police with riot guns and an attendant with a shotgun, retreated into a dark closet of a refreshment stand and was trapped.

Way Cleared For Final Passage Of Rights Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Rules Committee cleared the way today for final congressional passage Thursday of civil rights legislation aimed at guaranteeing the voting rights of Negroes.

The committee approved a resolution calling for House acceptance of changes the Senate made in the bill before passing it April 8.

House concurrence in the 16 Senate revisions would send the bill to the White House for President Eisenhower to sign it into law.

The House, which approved its own version of the bill March 24, will receive the Senate measure Thursday on a take-it-or-leave it basis as a result of today's committee action.

The rules committee, which channels legislation to the floor, assured final House passage by permitting the House to act on the measure by a majority vote.

Without rules committee clearance, the House would have required a two-thirds majority to send the civil rights bill to the White House.

Accident Victim Now Reported Satisfactory

Mrs. Pierrette Nordan, who was badly injured when her car overturned on Highway 101 in San Rafael Friday, was reported in satisfactory condition today at San Rafael General Hospital.

Hub Site Eyed For Trampoline Center

The San Anselmo City Council tonight will consider an application of Jumpolene, Inc., for lease of the property where the old Northwestern Pacific Railroad powerhouse was recently demolished. The company, which is seeking trampoline center sites in many communities, propose such a center in the area, which is just off Sir Francis Drake and Center boulevards.

The old brick powerhouse, used for many years for city equipment storage, was torn down early this year. No use is now being made of the property, although surfacing for a parking lot has been discussed.

Jumpolene has received approval of plans for such a center at the Nave Shopping Center in Novato.

An application for a similar trampoline setup at the Corte Madera Shopping Center was turned down last night by the Corte Madera Town Council. Still another application, for a center in Terra Linda, was held for further consideration yesterday by the Marin County Planning Commission.

Trampoline Center Request Delayed

Unofficially, the postponement request was so that developers could study the trampoline center already approved for the Jumpoline Inc., at the Nave Shopping Center, in Novato.

Lagunitas Trustees Set Meeting Back

The Lagunitas School District board will meet at 8 p.m., April 26, in place of a meeting regularly scheduled for this Thursday.

The change, according to Clerk Winifred S. Frederick, was made necessary because there is no chance of having a quorum this Thursday. The board will hold a special meeting Friday at 8 p.m. to discuss the preliminary 1960-61 budget and to evaluate personnel.

Crosses Party Line

Said Maas, after delivery of the $250 phonograph:

"It just goes to show what a good Democrat can do against a bunch of Republicans."

Tam Panel To Eye English Program

A committee of Tamalpais Union High School District English teachers will study reorganization of the district's English curriculum in a month-long workshop in August, to come up with a new course of study they hope will be good for at least three years.

The district board last night approved plans for the workshop after hearing a panel presentation on ideas the English teachers want to explore.

Among other things, the teachers want to know:

1. Should a second semester of American literature be required? One semester is now required for juniors.

2. Should the present oral English program be continued as a separate course or incorporated into other courses throughout the three years of English now required?

3. Should a fourth year of English be added to the requirements? Many students take a fourth year now, even though it is not required, the teachers said.

4. Can new research in semantics and linguistics, and the effects of mass media and propaganda be incorporated into the advanced English courses?

At the workshop teachers will do research, discuss their ideas and hear discussions from persons outside the district. In the fall they will present their recommendations to the English teachers to work into their curriculum. During the year a course of study will be developed.

Plans for the workshop were discussed by Robert D. Torrey, director of instructors; Maurie Ballard, Edward C. Bode and Albert L. Lavin, English department chairmen at Redwood, Tamalpais and Sir Francis Drake High Schools, respectively, and Harry L. Belgrade, representative of the district English teachers at large.

Within 12 months, Torrey said, the board probably would be hearing from several other departments with similar requests, particularly the mathematics and language departments.

Not more than 10 teachers will take part in the summer workshop on the English curriculum. They will be paid at a rate not yet determined.

The board hired the following teachers for 1960-61: Karen Andrews, homemaking, Tamalpais High; Robert Baugh, language, Redwood (he is now a substitute at Tamalpais); Freeman D. Blake, social studies, Redwood; Vincent Boyle, English, Drake; Robert Ewen, English, Redwood; Lyle J. Fisher, mathematics, Redwood; David Hawkins, mathematics, Tamalpais; Luverne Lull, business education, Drake; Marilyn Robison, physical education, Drake; John Passone, English, Drake, and Gerald Warren, industrial arts, Tamalpais.

Resignations were accepted from Mrs. Roberta Yankey, a long-term substitute physical education teacher at Drake, effective immediately, and from Harry Worthylake, industrial arts teacher at Tamalpais, effective at the end of this term. Mrs. Joan M. Smith was appointed to replace Mrs. Yankey for the rest of the year.

The board authorized Supt. Chester G. Carlisle to enter a contract for an audit of the district's 1959-60 financial transactions, as required by law.

'DEBATE'

tion Marin Pure Water Committee.

The letter suggested procedure and covered four points:

1. That the resolution be based on "the subject that is being voted on" soon by the people and be worded to include the U.S. Public Health Service's recommendation of fluoridation "at approximately one part per million is a beneficial public health measure to reduce the incidence of tooth decay."

2. That members of the debate teams, two to a side, be qualified local people with no outsiders.

3. That the debate be during the first week of May rather than between May 23 and 27 as suggested by Duff.

4. That a group of scientists weigh the arguments and make a summation of conclusions.

Mrs. Logan suggested a resolution embodying these points. The board recoiled in horror. Sample outbursts:

Chairman Walter R. Castro: "We don't want a hassle. Let's keep it under control, like that Pt. Reyes National Park matter."

Supervisor William Gnoss: "That word 'debate' has caused the feeling that we're going to have a terrific thing."

Supervisor William D. Fusselman: "This board has no place in the picture except to offer a room. It's fantastic. This is before the voters and we should bow out; we have no place in it."

Supervisor Vera Schultz: "I believe we should clarify how the board got into the position of sponsoring the meeting, and withdraw its sponsorship."

Supervisor James Marshall: "Isn't it possible just for both sides to get together and arrange something?"

Mrs. Loran expressed readiness to withdraw if such a discussion wouldn't serve the public interest. Everybody agreed that there was just no telling how the thing got christened "debate."

"I move," said Fusselman, "that any statement in the minutes with reference to fluoridation reflecting action hitherto taken by the board be deleted from the minutes and expunged from the record."

The demonstrations began early today when thousands of teen-agers massed outside the National Assembly building and began a march on Rhee's official residence. They smashed their way through police barricades and shouted "down with dictatorial government."

The government called in the combat-ready 15th Division and soon armored vehicles were roaring through the streets, raking the rioters with machine gun and cannon fire.

BUDGET

Health Advisory Board.

Jensen pointed out that an increase in tax rate for capital improvement from 43.7 to 46 cents is recommended, continuing the basic 42-cent rate for Civic Center and the normal program of setting aside $48,000 for a veterans memorial auditorium.

"An important feature of this budget," said Jensen, "is a revised capital improvement program for board review and decision. This program seeks to outline the complete needs of the county in capital improvements, including recreation and the airport, over the next seven years.

"As a master plan for future development, decision in this respect will be of particular importance."

Due to Novato incorporation, Jensen pointed out, there will be $128,730 less general fund revenue and $90,000 loss in sales tax revenue allocated to roads—but expenditures won't drop proportionately.

Jensen said it's indicated that $70,000 more than last year will be required to bring unappropriated reserve to normal level, and general fund balance is estimated at $147,748 less than last year.

Decision in February to include a one-step 5 per cent salary increase for county employees resulted in net increase of approximately $150,000 in expenditures, Jensen said.

"Marked increases" were noted in costs of departments caring for indigents and delinquents, including 24 per cent boost in the probation department budget, 65 per cent rise in Juvenile Hall budget, 30 per cent boost in general relief and 16 per cent increases in medical department and hospital and farm.

But Jensen said he has recommended decreases of around $120,000 in departmental requests. Nor are county services to Novato provided, though no decrease is given the sheriff's office and planners since both plan to utilize staff freed from Novato work for other jobs.

Two Offices Burglarized In San Rafael

Burglars prowled through two doctors' offices at the Professional Medical Center in north San Rafael this morning, ignoring valuable equipment and narcotics but taking petty cash, San Rafael police reported.

Further north, in Novato, thieves broke into the North Bay Garden Supply and Alves Pools at 7596 and 7592 Redwood Highway. A $67 table model radio is missing from the garden supply firm, but nothing seems to be gone from the pool company, sheriff's offices said. A crowbar was used to break a window at Alves Pools. The rear door was pried at the garden supply.

The doctors' offices entered were those of Dr. Gerson Jacobs and Dr. Maurice Salomon at Professional Center Parkway, across Highway 101 from Terra Linda. A cleaning woman from Vallejo discovered the break-in this morning and called police.

Officer Richard Douglas said the theft may have occurred between 2 and 7 a.m. today. Persons who were working late report seeing a car parked near the offices, he said.

Novato Trustees Set Secret Meet

A closed executive session of the Novato Unified School District board will be held tonight at 8 o'clock in the district offices at 1015 Seventh street.

Under discussion will be a review of district personnel who are due for tenure, announced Supt. William J. J. Smith.

YOU ARE INVITED TO VISIT HISTORICAL MOUNT TAMALPAIS CEMETERY

A Peaceful Place of Rest Serving all Faiths

Here, within view of Marin's famous mountain, is a lovely setting guarded by gracious trees. Quiet and beauty speak of peace and rest, just as they did 80 years ago when Marin pioneers chose it as a final resting place for their families.

Here, all faiths will find that which meets their own needs and preferences. Here are well-kept grounds and gardens, the beautiful Angelus Garden mausoleum for above-ground burial, as well as Marin County's modern new crematorium, and the lovely Chapel of Light columbarium.

At Mount Tamalpais, careful provisions assure lasting care. An Endowment Care fund of a quarter-million dollars—growing year by year—will keep this site serene and beautiful. And with less than a tenth of its large acreage yet used, Tamalpais will be able to serve Marin communities for generations to come.

A five-minute drive from downtown San Rafael brings you to this secluded spot of ages old beauty. We welcome your visit any day . . . so you can consider arrangements in advance of need, as so many Marin families are doing today.

Board Creates New Kentfield District Posts

Three posts for acting assistant principals in the Kentfield School District were created by district board members meeting last night.

Named to fill the posts were William Hartley at Adeline E. Kent School, John Richard at Wolfe Grade School, and R. Harold Hybert at Greenbrae School.

DePue reported that interviews had begun to find a principal for the Greenbrae and Wolfe Grade schools, with the field narrowed to five from the original 30 applicants.

In other business, the district board:

1. Heard a report that construction on the first addition to the Wolfe Grade School probably will be completed ahead of the Sept. 5 schedule.

2. Considered preliminary plans for a sport area at the Kent School, to contain two baseball diamonds, a 100-yard track and a field sport area, estimated to cost $12,000.

3. Heard that a sixth grade would be added in September to the Wolfe Grade School, which now has five grades.

4. Appointed George Renworth as principal of the Kentfield summer session. Renworth will move from principal of the Greenbrae-Wolfe Grade schools to become principal of Kent School in September.

5. Heard a report on a proposed eighth grade course in economics. A method of financing the course has not been found.

6. Approved hiring of accountants Weiser, Dreiman and Weseman of Oakland to audit district books.

State Calls Bids For 101 Repaving

The state Division of Highways today called for bids, to be opened May 18 in Sacramento, for repaving of portions of Highway 101 between Puerto Suello Hill in San Rafael and the Sonoma County line.

The work is to be part of an overall estimated $171,000 resurfacing job on state highways in Marin, Napa and Sonoma counties. The job includes sections of Highway 29 in Napa and sections of Highway 1 in Sonoma and parts of other state routes in Napa and Sonoma.

'LACK OF COURAGE'

Retiring Planner Rips Into Belvedere Council

By DEE DEE ABRAMSON

A retiring Belvedere planning commissioner last night leveled a verbal blast at the Belvedere City Council for what he termed "ineffective action and lack of courage."

Commissioner Thomas L. Wark's outburst came during the commission's discussion of a second proposal for amendment of the subdivision ordinance, which was referred to the commission for its recommendation by the council two weeks ago.

"This is an insult to our intelligence," Wark said. "The mayor (Dr. Robert P. Watkins) bulldozed the council members into giving a vote when they did not have all the facts. I am insulted at both the resolution and its referral to this commission. We did not propose our recommendation lightly."

The planning commission's recommendation to modify the subdivision ordinance to permit construction of homes on pilings on the western tidelands of Belvedere Island was rejected by 3-0 vote of the city council.

"The people of Belvedere are not going to buy this land. . . . With the next tax increases and the sewer bond issue coming up, it is Pollyanna-ish to assume they will," declared Wark.

He added: "This is my last night on the commission and I feel we have been trifled with. We have spent months getting concessions from Belvedere Properties, Inc., which they have given us. I feel the council's decision to give this back to us shows no courage."

Commission Chairman George Goddard nodded vigorously during the outburst. Commissioner Thomas M. Lacey commented: "I do not think this resolution merits any consideration. This accomplishes nothing that the present subdivision ordinance does not accomplish."

Commissioner Joseph C. Marshall added, "What can I say?" Commissioner Kenneth E. Frost was absent.

The resolution, proposed by attorney Carl Hoppe, whose property abuts that of the proposed development, calls for making it "unlawful to subdivide inundated land in Belvedere and unlawful to include any inundated land in lot subdivision." The reslution gave "inadequate fire-fighting eqiupment and destruction of public health, safety and welfare" as reasons for the proposal.

Goddard said, "Now that the election is over, I think the council will get down to brass tacks and we should not be offended by its turning down our resolution. . . . They had other things on their mind." And Wark added, "Yes . . . politicking."

The commission will give the city council at tonight's adjourned meeting copies of the three engineering reports on the proposed subdivision.

Washington Firms Prepare To Begin Nicasio Dam Job

Marin County's prospects are for abundant water supply during at least the next few years, Marin Municipal Water District officials indicated today as preparations started for immediate construction of the Nicasio dam by low bidders who received their contract yesterday.

Check of the bid of three Washington state firms showed it in order although nearly a million dollars under engineering estimates. The contract accordingly went for $1,780,569 to Cherf Brothers, Inc., Sandkay Construction, Inc., and Cheney Construction, jointly, when the award was made at 4 p.m. yesterday.

This group, lowest of eight bidders, is expected to be under way by May 1 to complete the job under a penalty-clause arrangement in early December.

This, it was explained, means that rainfall of the 1960-61 season can be impounded in a reservoir with a maximum capacity of 7,500,000,000 gallons —largest in the county and comparing with a top limit in the present largest, Kent Lake, of 5,500,000,000 gallons.

Construction will entail erection of a dam embankment and spillway, installation of outlet pipe and inlet structure, and relocation of the Pt. Reyes-Petaluma county highway.

It was on this last item that the low bidders scored heavily below estimates, setting a figure of $952,775 as against the $1,625,546 which had been estimated.

Planners Delay Action On Drake's Bay Tract

Marin County planning commissioners agreed yesterday to postpone consideration of a "resort type" subdivision at Drake's Bay to their May 2 meeting.

Members agreed they were not well enough acquainted with the proposed project and noted that developers are asking many exceptions to subdivision requirements.

Consideration of the proposed Drake's Bay work, some 50 acres about four miles southwest of Inverness Park at the southeast end of Limantour Spit, took up an hour of the afternoon meeting at the county office building on Grand avenue in San Rafael.

Promoting the subdivision is a corporation which includes 10 persons, San Francisco attorney Benjamin P. Bonelli explained after the hearing.

Among concessions asked for the proposed development are requests that no sidewalks be constructed "because of the nature of the project," that roads be private, that no curbs and gutters be constructed "because of the nature" of the project.

Most important to the commissioners was the request that the tentative map submitted yesterday be approved without specific plans for sewage disposal and water availability.

Bonelli countered by saying the soil in the area is appropriate for septic tank use. Water is available from a creek in the area, which has a 1,000-acre watershed controled by the subdividers, he said.

A letter from the Marin County Fire Department noted that no water storage was provided on the map. The letter recommended six-inch mains instead of the minimum four-inch one.

Road grades need not be as steep as the planned 16 per cent grade, there are as few as possible roads for the number of lots, no soil tests indicate the area's suitability for septic tanks and road access was doubtful, with some very narrow access stretches interspersed with wider ones, VanPelt said.

Bonelli answered that he had no "worries" about suitability of septic tanks, and that a reputable firm had designed the subdivision.

"The design of the entire subdivision is considerately at odds with the type you say you want," commission member Margaret Azevedo commented.

Tract Map Approved

The San Anselmo Planning Commission last night approved a tentative map for the portion of Rafael Club Estates that will be in San Anselmo.

The 55-acre subdivision, planned for a hillside that straddles San Rafael and San Anselmo, will include a clubhouse.

A total of 24 lots will be in San Anselmo. Developers are John J. Farrar and William Batey of Key-Marin Realty. The San Rafael Planning Commission already has approved the portion of the tract in San Rafael.

The action taken last night is scheduled to be reviewed by the San Anselmo City Council May 3.

Ross Meeting Delayed

The Ross School Board did not meet last night as scheduled because of lack of a quorum. Supt. Stephen Parodi said the meeting has been re-scheduled for 8 o'clock tonight at the school.

Rebel Force Boldly Attacks Town In Cuba

HAVANA (UPI) — An insurgent band of troops believed led by ex-Maj. Manuel Beaton attacked the East Cuban city of Palma Soriano today in one of the boldest moves yet carried out by the anti-Castro forces.

Reports from Oriente province said the insurgents battled government troops for half an hour before being repelled. The reports said the government troops took some prisoners but there was no immediate confirmation here.

The attack was considered significant here because of its very boldness, with the insurgents daring to come out of the Sierra Maestra mountains in a hit-run raid. Premier Fidel Castro has been personally directing operations against the guerrillas.

Castro returned to Havana yesterday and ran into reports of new opposition. Today he resumed his attacks on the United States and said President Eisenhower had "no right" to speak out against him, the Cuban revolution or the Cuban government.

AT RESERVE MEET — Capt. John D. Reiner, Naval Reserve, of Lafayette, who is president of the Department of California, Reserve Officers Assn., will preside at the department's 32nd annual convention April 29, 30 and May 1 at Bermuda Palms in San Rafael.

Annexation Petition Accepted By Board

The Richardson Bay Sanitary District board, at a hearing last night at the Trestle Glen treatment plant, accepted a petition for annexation of Little Reed Park and the area above Hawthorne Terrace.

The acceptance will be forwarded to the Marin County Board of Supervisors for its approval, according to secretary Samuel A. Fletcher.

THEY HAD THEIR RUNNING LIGHTS ON

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The Coast Guard received a call to investigate an eerie green light several feet above the Mississippi River and moving downstream.

Out went a 40-footer with a full crew. The boat caught up with the green glow early yesterday, 14 miles south of New Orleans.

It was a swarm of lightning bugs.

Population Surge Seen As Causing Boom In Building

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—President John Noble Richards of the American Institute of Architects said yesterday that "in the next 40 years we will have to double everything we have now—homes, schools, hospitals, factories and so on," because of the population growth.

"Space is our most precious commodity.

"I think there will be more vertical building, more multi-story apartments with open areas behind. Also I think there'll be a reaction among the people against tract homes."

Alto Project Given Conditional Approval

Marin County planning commissioners looked long and decided yesterday to approve an addition to the Goodman Building Supply Co., Alto, if . . .

The addition to the building supply layout at 775 Redwood highway was approved after a 40-minute discussion.

Mrs. Mary Summers, planning director, told the board that if the yard was allowed to continue to operate, it would be the only industrially zoned area on the Redwood highway from Sausalito to Corte Madera.

Commissioners discussed the long history and "why" of the zoning, then voted to approve a smaller and lower addition than requested, with provisions that a foliage screen be planted on the frontage road, that it be painted a subdued color, and that lumber storage be discontinued in the non-conforming part of the yard land.

In other business, the commission:

1. Tentatively approved a change in building plans for the Mariner Oaks apartment development in Tiburon, noting that the new plans kept to the aim of the original. Tentative approval was given, pending legal advice on methods needed to change approval of plans.

2. Continued to the next meeting a hearing on unapproved grading 6 -shrd in a portion of Las Colindas Unit 6.

3. Approved a tentative map of Red Hill subdivision Unit 2, if sidewalks are provided on both sides of the street.

4. Approved construction of a self-service laundry on the southwest side of the Redwood highway just north of the DeLucchi Fish and Poultry Market, Ignacio.

5. Set for the May 2 meeting a hearing on a petition to rezone from commercial to apartment on Labrea way between Pt. San Pedro road and Adrian way in Santa Venetia.

6. Approved plans for construction of a five-unit apartment house in the Golf Links Tract on Merrydale road north of San Rafael.

7. Approved an application from Carmen Webb for establishment of a restaurant at the intersection of Carrie and First streets, Tomales, subject to architectural supervision and the provision that any other future use on that site be reviewed by the commission.

8. Approved plans of Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. for a building to house telephone communication equipment on Highway 1 near First street, Tomales. The building will be a small wood frame structure.

9. Approved plans for construction of a four-plex in Marin Terraces Subdivision 2 just west of 11 Homestead boulevard, Mill Valley.

10. Approved the addition of a second-story to an existing residence at 387 Pine Hill road, Tamalpais Valley, without provision of on-site parking.

11. Postponed to the May 2 meeting decision on whether to allow Douglas M. Christensen to build a home with an overhanging deck jutting beyond the property line on a hillside lot in Kent Woodlands.

Harbor Loans Approval Near, Mill Valley Told

Engineer Jesper C. Strandgaard told the Mill Valley Parks and Recreation Commission last night that "within a couple of weeks we should have complete approval of both the feasibility report and the loans for the Mill Valley small craft harbor."

Strandgaard, with his associate Stanley M. Bala, has prepared the feasibility report.

The engineer said Mill Valley has taken the first steps to purchase land needed for the harbor by making the first agreement last Friday to buy some land from Herb Shapiro. Strandgaard said a condemnation suit is to be filed for about an acre of the Alexander property.

The city feels, he added, that it will be possible to make negotiated purchases of the Biggio, Bothin and Bowd properties, totaling about 15 acres.

Strandgaard said Mill Valley is the only city in California applying for these loans which has submitted final plans. "We should be in good shape," he said.

A special meeting of the commission has been set at 7:30 p.m., next Monday to discuss capital outlay and the summer recreation program, according to Mrs. Lee Collor.

The commission also:

1. Heard a report from William Wood that some of the wood has rotted in the municipal golf clubhouse and it will be necessary to replace some of the foundation and put in a concrete retaining wall, for which the city has authorized spending $400.

2. Went on record saying no commercial sign should be displayed on any park or recreation facility.

3. Decided to review the caterer-custodian contract at the golf club with the idea of reducing the loss of revenue to the city.

4. Authorized the city manager to replace the meters at the municipal tennis courts.

5. Studied an over-all plan of municipal golf clubhouse remodeling submitted by Carl Book, Mill Valley architectural designer. The plans, with work donated by Book, will be sent to the architectural advisory committee for consideration.

Man Jumps To Death From Window

Jay Derlen, 54, owner of Novato Upholstery, leaped to his death last night out of a second story window of his hospital room at San Rafael General Hospital.

Deputy County Coroner Harold Keaton said Derlen dropped about 30 feet to the pavement on the east side of the hospital and apparently died instantly. He had been ailing for a long time with a heart condition.

He and his wife, Lillian resided at 67-A Kensington road, San Anselmo.

Keaton said Derlen had been despondent because of his long illness but had never actually threatened suicide.

His family had visited him earlier last night. The nurse looked in, then left. About 8 p.m., Derlen's window was open, and he was gone from his bed.

Funeral arrangements are pending.

AT BREAKFAST MEET

San Rafael Businessmen Plan Advertising Program

Fifty San Rafael businessmen met for breakfast today in the Independent-Journal Building and voted unanimously to conduct a community-wide institutional advertising program.

Al McLeod, chairman of the retail merchants committee of the Greater San Rafael Chamber of Commerce, said the program will begin as soon as a special advertising subcommittee lays out the plans. The program will probably begin with a series of newspaper display ads and, after about a year, may also include billboards, radio time, direct mail and folders.

"Our trading area," said McLeod, "is now ready for such a program because we are anticipating the huge population expansion within the next few years. Moreover, we must also educate many Marinites who work in 'the City' that their wants can be filled in our places of business."

Irving Chapman, who presented the rough layouts of the advertising campaign, said such a program will not only build business traffic, but will encourage new capital investments.

Charles Catania emphasized that the big problem is to educate Marinites that they can be served here.

Other items discussed briefly were improvement of parking and traffic flow, improved customer service, revitalized sales promotion events, store modernization efforts and the attractions of new stores.

A. F. Schmitz was named chairman of the new advertising committee.

Novato Planners To Meet Tonight

The Novato Planning Commission, which became an official body on April 13, will hold its organizational meeting tonight at 8 o'clock in the city hall.

The meeting is primarily a study session with Mrs. Mary Summers, county planning director. A permanent commission chairman will be selected, according to acting chairman Harley McAskill.

There is a 300-mile stretch of straight railroad track in Australia—between Port Pirie and Kalgoorlie.

Marin Boy Turns Up In Tennessee

The boy hitchhiked to Nashville and apparently intends to stay there and go to school, the chief said.

COUNCIL ROUNDUP

Opposition Fails To Block Subdivision

Opposition by residents of Elkin Court last night failed to block a four-lot subdivision in San Rafael off Scenic avenue behind the Elkin Court homes.

Last month the city planners approved the subdivision proposed by John Farrar and his engineer, Robert Kane, who agreed to widen an existing water district road from the present 12 feet to 15 feet. Kane pointed out that use of the road is the only way to develop the four lots, and it is not economically feasible to widen the road to more than 15 feet.

Residents of Elkin court appealed to the city council last night. Councilmen said they think the road is too narrow, but since they could see no other feasible way to develop the land, they took no action. This means Farrar may proceed with the subdivision.

In other actions last night, the city council:

1. Bought a fire truck chassis for $2,578.12 from Ames Ford Sales. This was the lowest legal bid from among four auto dealers. DeLong Chevrolet submitted a lower bid of $2,311.60. However, it was tossed out because it was not accompanied by the required 10 per cent bond.

2. Called for bids on an estimated $28,250 project to install a storm drain on Lindaro street from Woodland avenue to Second street.

3. Asked Norris Rawles, public works director, to draw up a list of particulars on what must be done to bring an unaccepted portion of Elizabeth way up to city standards. About 300 feet of Elizabeth way, between Fairhills Manor and San Rafael Highlands, installed by Lloyd Grandi, was never accepted by the city. City Atty. Albert E. Bagshaw said the city can set up an assessment district to improve the road and assess the cost on a front-foot basis. He reported that Grandi offered to repave the road but said other improvements required by the public works department cannot be met. Rawles will specify the requirements.

4. Asked the public works department to submit some sketches showing "Welcome to San Rafael" signs to be posted at the entrance to the city. Councilman Louis H. Baar proposed a six-by-four foot redwood sign that will cost about $210. He said he knows of someone who is willing to donate about $1,100 for the signs. Mayor John F. McInnis said he has heard that someone may even donate four times that amount.

5. Councilman Baar reported that a council committee and B street merchants are working on a possibility of bringing diagonal parking to the west side of B street on this condition: That sidewalks would be cut back four feet at merchants' expense, thus widening the street to allow diagonal parking on one side.

State's Sheriffs For Death Penalty

Undersheriff Michael N. Canliss of San Joaquin County, secretary-treasurer of the California State Sheriffs Assn., said today this stand was taken in one of several resolutions adopted at the 66th annual convention at Palm Springs.

The death penalty, the sheriffs concluded, is a deterrent to many professional criminals who otherwise would use unnecessary force in the commission of ordinary crimes.

Actors Approve Pact

More than 1,500 guild members, meeting in the Hollywood Palladium last night, voted unanimous approval of the agreement reached April 8.

STOCKS TODAY

COMBINED AP & UPI

NEW YORK—Stocks fell sharply today with the recent favorites suffering the heaviest losses.

The list improved at the outset on buying attributed to the improved outlook for steel production, the report of record March personal income, and the continued flow of good earnings reports, but made a complete turnabout in the afternoon as selling came into the market.

Volume for the day was estimated at three million shares compared with 3,200,000 yesterday.

Losses of key stocks range from fractions to a point or more. A few small gains were held.

Pt. Reyes Park Debate

The San Rafael Lions Club will have its own debate tomorrow on whether the Pt. Reyes Peninsula should become a national park. Lothar Salin will present the "pros" and Bryan McCarthy, the "cons," at a luncheon meeting at 12:15 p.m. at Travelers Inn, with Gordon Phillips as moderator.

West Marin Holds District Merger Meet

The first of three meetings on possible unionization or unification of school districts in West Marin was held last night at Point Reyes Station.

It was a meeting of the augmented committee of the Marin County Committee on School District Organization, and most of the trustees of school districts from Bolinas to Sonoma County were present.

The meeting was mostly introductory in content. Procedures were outlined on what the county committee must do in order to get up a study for recommendation of changes.

County school office representatives pointed out that the study does not, at this time, propose to recommend one district for the entire area, but rather, probably will recommend several districts.

A second meeting will be held at 8:30 p.m., May 16, at Tomales High School, but no recommendation will be made until after a third meeting.

HELP ASSURE DAY FOR SENIORS —First contributions to fund for "Marin Seniors' Day," to be jointly sponsored June 2 by Marin Rod and Gun Club and San Rafael Rotary Club, are presented to Manny Charnow (left) by William T. Bagley (center), secretary of Marin Senior Coordinating Council, and Jack Farrar, San Rafael real estate developer.

Clubs Agree To Sponsor Seniors' Day

Marin Rod and Gun Club and San Rafael Rotary Club today announced they will jointly sponsor "Marin Seniors Day" on June 2 at the Rod and Gun Clubhouse and picnic grounds at Pt. San Quentin.

The event will be for all senior citizens of the county, without charge. There will be fishing from the club pier, and a chicken barbecue luncheon. Games will be in progress throughout the day.

The event is scheduled to start at 9 a.m. and continue until 4 p.m. Prizes will be awarded to seniors attending, said Manny Charnow, chairman.

William T. Bagley, secretary of the Marin Seniors Coordinating Council, will be chairman of the host committee. J. P. O'Connell of San Anselmo will be master of ceremonies, assisted by Don Bennett of Larkspur.

Special invitations are being issued to residents of the Marin County Hospital and Farm and to organized groups of senior citizens, said Charnow.

Tickets for the day's activities are available to all senior citizens free from Charnow.

Giacomo Puccini, Italian composer of "La Boheme," "La Tosca" and other popular operas, died in 1924.

ST. BERNARD ON WRONG END OF THE RESCUE

MT. BALDY (AP) — His faithful St. Bernard didn't come to Don Palmer's aid when he got stranded on a mountain ledge near Mt. Baldy.

Palmer followed the deputies down a steep 1,000-foot cliff. The rescuers carried the 165-pound Simon Bolivar in a litter, people style, all the way.

Plastic Bags Still Taking Their Toll

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Filmy plastic bags continue to suffocate one child a month in California despite a 1959 law requiring a warning label, the state Public Health Department reported today.

Twelve children died in 1959 of suffocation directly connected with plastic film products, and two such deaths have been recorded in the first three months of 1960, the department said.

In addition, there have been 28 suicides in which plastic film products were involved.

Map Of Tract Wins Approval From Planners

Tentative map for a six-lot subdivision on Palm avenue between Olive and Magnolia won approval of the San Rafael Planning Commission at a special meeting yesterday afternoon.

The commission granted the approval to the subdivision to Edward W. Burgar Inc. and George Wark on these conditions: The cul-de-sac leading into the subdivision from Palm would have 26 feet of paving, three-foot sidewalk all around the curb, not setback variance on Palm avenue but a five-foot setback variance on homes facing the cul-de-sac.

A group of residents, headed by Dr. Rafael G. Dufficy, who opposed the subdivision originally, agreed that the project would be acceptable with these conditions.

The planners also gave architectural approval for a new storage and sales building for Sherwin-Williams Paint Co. The new building will go up on the southwest corner of Third and Brooks streets.

Ends Recruit Training

Kenneth C. Barnes, Navy apprentice petty officer second class of Tomales, has been graduated from nine weeks of recruit training at the San Diego Naval Training Center.

Planners In Larkspur To Consider Rezoning

The Larkspur Planning Commission for the fifth consecutive time, at 8 o'clock tonight, will consider a petition by Schultz Building Co. for rezoning of about 37 acres on Bon Air Hill in Greenbrae.

Schultz seeks a rezoning from one-family residential to multible residential.

At the last four commission meetings, two members have been absent. A four-fifths favorable vote is required for rezoning.

The commission also will hear an application by James Stockman, proprietor of the Edgewater Inn, for a variance to permit a bill board on the west side of Highway 101 just within the City of Larkspur. The commission gave Stockman permission to erect the sign at its meeting April 5, then discovered later that the property was zoned residential and not, as it thought, industrial.

Stockman had been forced to remove a billboard from a site in Corte Madera because it was non-conforming.

Several other items postponed from previous meetings will come before the commission again.

They include plans of Eugene Bissatini for a six-unit apartment house at Hillcrest and Bayo Vista avenues; the tentative map of Piedmont Terrace, an 11-lot subdivision between Chevy Chase and Piedmont road, and a request for business rezoning of a residential lot immediately south of the Garden Spot nursery at 1144 Magnolia avenue.

Marin City Organ Concert Scheduled

The First Presbyterian Church of Marin City will present Wilbur Russell, minister of music at San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo, in an organ concert at 8:30 p.m. Saturday.

The concert will be in the Marin City lounge. Russell will be accompanied by the bell choir of San Anselmo and the First Presbyterian church choir.

A new organ, recently purchased by thec hurch, will be dedicated at the concert.

A dinner in the auditorium will precede the concert, according to Harry Bailey. He said persons wishing to make reservations should see Mel Unruh of 103 Woodland avenue, San Anselmo, or James Quiett or Jesse Berry of Marin City.

Parking Area Offered At Corte Madera Wye

The state Division of Highways is willing to lease a 1.1 acre parcel of land at the Corte Madera traffic interchange on Highway 101 to the Town of Corte Madera or to private enterprise for parking purposes, the town council learned last night.

The land, previously used by commuters for parking their cars before boarding buses to San Francisco, was fenced recently by the state. The council then asked the Division of Highways for reconsideration of this action.

LETTER READ

In a letter read last night, J. P. Sinclair, assistant state highway engineer, said it was to the state's best interest to see that the parcel was fenced. The state's intention was to see that the property be returned to local tax rolls as soon as possible, he added.

He pointed out that the state cannot expend gasoline tax funds to provide parking.

Sinclair said a drainage ditch running the length of the property was a definite hazard. In the past the state has had problems from damages and injuries suffered by individuals trespassing, he added.

The engineer said the state had planned to offer the "excess" land for sale at public auction. When the town indicated interest in buying it, the state canceled plans to sell at auction.

PRICE TOO HIGH

(The state put a $28,000 price tag on the property, however, and the council decided against the purchase.)

Last month the town zoned the property as a low-density one-family residential district.

The state still wants to dispose of the property, Sinclair said, and would be willing to consider leasing for parking purposes, if a variance were made for such a use.

Town Manager Arthur H. Brandow said there was still shoulder parking available at the interchange at peak periods.

The matter was referred to the planning commission on suggestion of Mayor Roger F. Morse. The commission will get in touch with representatives of improvement associations east of the highway to get their recommendations on what should be done.

Police Chief Frank L. Nelson in a memorandum to the council, recommended that deliberate or flagrant violations of the town's burning ordinance be prosecuted.

Mayor Morse noted that it was a burden on taxpayers to have to turn out fire equipment if a fire was caused by a violation, rather than an accident. Violation of the ordinance is a misdemeanor punishable by a maximum of $100 fine or 30 days in jail, or both. The recommendation was referred to the police and fire committee for review.

The council, after a public hearing, adopted an ordinance which changes the composition of the board of adjustment from three planning commissioners to two commissioners and one at-large member.

Another ordinance was introduced which provides that all land being annexed to the town be zoned as "R1A," low-density residential district, until it is zoned to conform with the general plan. A public hearing will be held May 16.

The council also:

1. Cancelled a previous request to the Public Utilities Commission to hold in abeyance a public hearing on crossing signals of the railroad on Tamal Vista boulevard. An agreement has been signed with Paganini and Fifer interests for installation of flashing signals at their expense if the traffic situation makes them necessary before 1968.

2. Approved an agreement with Reed School District for a Marin Estates playground project. The district is to buy the equipment and the town will install and maintain it.

3. Approved a stop sign policy setting up procedures for determining when a stop sign is necessary.

There are no railroads in Iceland.

Frank Lane Explains Controversial Trades

NEW YORK (AP)—The real reason Frank Lane, dynamic general manager of the Cleveland Indians, traded away slugger Rock Colavito and Herb Score, once appraised as a million-dollar pitcher, was that he was simply fed up with both of them.

In an exclusive telephone interview with the Associated Press today, Lane frankly told why, on successive days, he swapped outfielder Colavito to Detroit for Harvey Kuenn, and left-hander Score to the Chicago White Sox for Barry Latman, a 23-year-old unproven right-hander.

Lane did not say directly he was fed up with the two players but he candidly explained the shortcoming of each and told why he believes, contrary to general opinion, the trades greatly improve the Indians.

Among other things, Lane intimated that the departure of Colavito and Score, long-time buddies and roommates, would result in greater harmony on the Indians. He believes Colavito is an overrated player and that Score has slipped to the point where he was useless to the club.

Laue emphasized, however, that he still regards both as fine young men and has no personal grievance against either.

"Joe Gordon doesn't like me," Lane said Score told him. "He doesn't have any sympathy for me. I'd like to be traded to a manager who is more sympathetic."

That just about made up Lane's mind.

"When Herb began to look for sympathy," Lane said, "I knew we couldn't keep him any longer. As a matter of fact, I told Herb that if he wanted Joe to like him all he had to do was win some games for us."

Lane attributed Score's failure to win in recent years to a mental condition. Score's record last year was 9-11.

"It's more psychological than physical," he said. "I believe he still hasn't gotten over that terrible eye injury he suffered in 1957 when he was struck by a line drive hit by Gil McDougald. He keeps thinking it could happen again.

"I don't think Score is through. I just think he can't win for Cleveland. Maybe he'll pitch more effectively in Chicago with the bigger park and a manager like Al Lopez who knows him and likes him and may give him more sympathy."

As for the Colavito-Kuenn trade, Lane has a lot to say.

"I made a survey this spring of eight or nine of the league's best pitchers. Without mentioning the pitchers' names, I asked them to name the most dangerous hitters and the toughest to pitch to. Rocky was high on the list of most dangerous but the pitchers agreed they can get him out with certain pitches.

"Every pitcher rated Kuenn as either the toughest or the second toughest to pitch to with men on bases. Rocky was far down the list.

"Rocky helped us only when he hit a home run. His other weaknesses detract from his value. He is slow, his arm is erratic, he is not the best outfielder, and he can't move up a runner. When he doesn't hit a home run, he either strikes out, flies out, or grounds the ball to the left side of the infield. He doesn't know the first thing about the hit-and-run. He is always swinging for homers. They glamorize Rocky but don't help the club.

"The fans remember only the home run. They don't see the liabilities. I can see Rocky hitting 50 to 55 home runs in Detroit and still he will not be as valuable as Kuenn. That's because Kuenn is the more complete player.

"Detroit doubtless is chortling with glee over getting Colavito. They may not do so when they realize his home runs don't necessarily win games. We had him. We know."

EX-NAVY END SIGNS WITH OAKLAND PROS

OAKLAND (AP) — The Oakland Raiders' passing-catching combination will consist in the main of quarterback Paul Larson and end Ron Beagle.

Beagle, an All America end at Navy in 1954 and 1955, signed yesterday to play for his former coach, Eddie Erdelatz. Larson, the nation's leading collegiate passer in 1953, signed a contract with the American Football League team Saturday.

Larson, ex-California ace, played with the Chicago Cardinals in 1957.

Beagle spent the last four years as a Marine Corps officer. Erdelatz called him the best end he had coached in his nine years at Annapolis.

Playing with the Raiders will be the 6 foot 1 athlete's first try at professional football. He is 26 and weighs 195.

Ingo, Patterson Ready To Sign For Title Fight

NEW YORK (AP)—If the lawyers clear up the details, heavyweight champion Ingemar Johansson and Floyd Patterson may be able to sign official contracts late today for their return fight at the Polo Grounds June 20 or 22.

"I hope so," said the unbeaten Swede, who arrived last night from Switzerland. "From what I understand everything is supposed to be ready. I want to fly back to Swizerland tomorrow and start hard training."

AGREEMENT

According to the promoters, Feature Sports Inc., one of the major barriers in the way of the fight was cleared yesterday when FSI reached an agreement for the purchase of all stock of Floyd Patterson Enterprises. This stock is held by Patterson and his manager, Cus D'Amato.

The manager is unlicensed in New York but the ex-champion has said he will fight in New York whether D'Amato is in his corner or not.

OBSTACLES

Two other obstacles have to be cleared by the promoters, however, before they can get around to the important business of selling tickets and the television rights.

First, the state athletic commission wants to get a long look at the contracts.

Gen. Melvin Kruelewitch, commission chairman, said every word will be inspected to make sure everything is clear and above board before approval is given.

CONFERENCE

Another state agency was deeply concerned. Attorney General Louis Lefkowitz called in all of the principals for a conference today to discuss some of the hangovers of the first fight last Juue 26.

Among those requested to appear were Johansson, his adviser Edwin Ahlquist, Patterson, D'Amato, FSI president Roy Cohn, and their attorneys.

Sign or not, Johansson and Patterson are getting an education. If the legal-beagling keeps up, they may qualify for law degrees before they step into the ring.

Giants, Dodgers Ready For Year's 1st 'Crucial'

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — It's Giant-Dodger time again, with San Franciscans aching for revenge over the world champions from Los Angeles.

The two National League leaders, each 4-1, opened a two-game set today in new Candlestick Park.

The Dodgers beat the Giants 14 of 22 games last season and won nine here in Seals Stadium.

The Giants were leading the league by two full games when the Dodgers came to town with eight games left last season.

Roger Craig beat Johnny Antonelli 4-1, Don Drysdale whipped Mike McCormick 5-3, Johnny Podres bested Sam Jones 8-2 and the Giants were out of the lead. They never recovered from the sweep, finishing third.

Podres, a southpaw who whipped the San Franciscans three-for-three in 1959, today opposes southpaw Billy O'Dell, late of Baltimore.

O'Dell, 10-12 in the American League last season, pitched and lost to Chicago in relief last Thursday night. Podres is still 0-0; and was 14-9 in '59.

The Giants are running this season, eight stolen bases in nine attempts, and it will be interesting to see if manager Bill Rigney keeps them moving against Dodger catcher John Roseboro.

Roseboro is the guy who nailed the Chicago White Sox in the World Series every time they started for second.

Manager Walt Alston indicated rookie Tommy Davis, leading hitter in the Pacific Coast League last season, would start in right field in place of Duke Snider, who had little success with southpaws (.133) last season.

Alston however, has left-handed hitters who murder the leftys—Wally Moon hit .391 against them while Norm Larker was .360.

TAM FAVORED AS MCAL RACE OPENS FRIDAY

Tamalpais Indians, champions of the Marin County Athletic League's recent tournament, are favored to win the league round-robin title in the pennant race that begins this Friday.

Three games are on tap, including a double-header at San Rafael's Albert Field. The twin-bill starts off with Novato against Redwood at 4 o'clock and the nightcap at 6 o'clock features Marin Catholic against San Rafael's Bulldogs.

Montana Ready For 1st Title Bout Since '23

The snow-capped Rockies provide a backdrop for one of the most usual fight promotions in years. Men in high-heeled cowboy boots and 10-gallon hats are debating the merits of champion Gene Fullmer and challenger Joey Giardello who meet tomorrow night for the National Boxing Assn. version of the world middleweight title in the Montana State College fieldhouse.

Not since Jack Dempsey and Doc Kearns sacked Shelby in 1923 for the heavyweight match with Tom Gibbons has a title bout been staged within the boundaries of this mountain state. The bitter taste of that costly production in Shelby, some 200 miles away, still lingers.

Nobody will go broke this time. Thanks to the television sponsors who are putting up a reported $100,000 and a booming gate sale that already has produced $85,000, the promotion appears to be a guaranteed success.

Giardello, a 12-5 underdog, has finished training at Livingston, some 25 miles to the east.

TED TIES GEHRIG MARK — Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox is greeted by teammate Gary Geiger (37) as he crosses the plate after hitting a homer in the second inning of yesterday's American League opener in Washington. It was Ted's 493rd homer in his long major league career, and tied him with the late Lou Gehrig of the Yankees in fourth place on the all-time home run total list. Ahead of them are Babe Ruth (714), Jimmy Foxx (534) and Mel Ott (511). (UPI Telephoto)

LAST TIME ALL SEASON?

Washington Senators Lead Loop On Opening-Day Win

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

The American League starts its 60th season in four cities today with everybody trying to catch the Washington Senators.

An estimated 125,000 fans should turn out in good weather hoping for at least partial answers to three big questions:

Are the New York Yankees really that bad?

Has Frank Lane traded away the Cleveland Indians' pennant chances?

The American League, left at the post when the National League started its race on April 12, staged its "presidential opener" before President Eisenhower in Washington, D.C., yesterday when Camilo Pascual set a club record of 15 strikeouts in a 10-1 victory over the Boston Red Sox. Washington fans thus were assured of rooting for a first-place team at least one day of the season.

Pascual, whose 17-10 record and six shutouts stamped him as a star last season, pitched a three-hitter and his 15 strikeouts broke the club mark of 14 held by Walter Johnson and Jim Shaw. The Red Sox' run resulted from the 493rd homer of Ted Williams' career — tying Lou Gehrig's lifetime total. Jim Lemon, Bob Allison, Earl Battey and Billy Consolo homered for the Senators.

An estimated 35,000 fans will see the White Sox open at home against the Kansas City Athletics, but the day's top crowd —about 40,000—is expected at Cleveland's Municipal Stadium where the fans apparently are debating whether to hoist the American Flag or Frank Lane to the centerfield flag pole.

The Indians will have American League batting champion Harvey Kuenn playing centerfield and batting second while the Tigers will have ex-Cleveland favorite Rocky Colavito in right field and batting fifth. Kuenn and Colavito were the principals in Sunday's senational trade that brought the fury of many Cleveland fans down on Lane's head.

A crowd of about 20,000 will see the Yankees open against the Red Sox in Boston and another 30,000 will see the Senators play the Orioles in Baltimore.

Early Wynn, 40, a 22-game winner in 1959, has been named to pitch for the White Sox against 16-game winner Bud Daley, a left-handed knuckleballer who beat the A.L. champs three times last season. Minnie Minosa and Gene Freese, two of the Sox' important winter acquisitions, will be in left field and at third base respectively when Chicago takes the field. Ex-Yankees Hank Bauer and Norm Siebern will make their debuts for Kansas City.

Can You Afford Their Services?

These days, sickness or accident might readily require the services of doctors, nurses and other persons.

That is why Metropolitan is ntroducing two new policies which aim to help meet these heavy costs.

The first of these is intended for the individual or family who already owns one of the Metropolitan basic coverages for hospital and surgical expense.

The second new policy is designed for the individual or family not yet covered by one of the Metropolitan basic medical expense plans.

It, too, is designed to help you obtain necessary medical care in serious circumstances. And also provides payment towards "at home" medical expenses. Both these policies are at a cost within the average budget.

Your Metropolitan Representative will be glad to tell you in detail all the features of these two policies . . . so why not call him today?

CALIFORNIA OUTDOORS

Poor Salmon Rapidly Losing Their 'Homes'

Take a look at this picture: During the past 100 years, the salmon spawning area of California's lush Central Valley has been reduced from 6,000 to 300 miles.

Why?

Listen to Walter T. Shannon, director of the California Department of Fish and Game:

"As California's population has mushroomed, there has arisen a constantly increasing need for dwellings, industry, water diversions, hydroelectric power, more intensive agriculture, highways and other appurtenances of modern human civilization.

"Haste, lack of knowledge and indifference have often permitted these developments to come about with little regard for fish and wildlife."

"So what,?" you say.

IMPORTANT RESOURCE

"The salmon resource is important to this state in a number of ways. It supplies recreation to a great number of citizens and provides economic benefits to sporting goods suppliers, boat renters, motels, restaurants, gasoline stations and other associated businesses.

"The commercial fishing industry supplies a livelihood for 1,800 fishermen fishing from 1,600 boats. This contributes to the economic welfare of many seaside fishing communities of the state."

Shannon said that in 1956 the value of commercial salmon landings to fishermen was nearly four million dollars and sport fishermen spent 150,000 angler days fishing for salmon. It costs the average salmon angler $16 a day when he is out fishing, for a total annual expenditure of $2,400,000.

The villain, so far as the salmon is concerned, is the gravel industry, which removes spawning gravels from stream beds.

SPAWNING CONDITIONS

When salmon go upstream to spawn they look for at least four conditions:

1. Water of high quality and oxygen content, free from silt, abrasive and toxic materials and with a temperature below 57 degrees.
2. Water depth an average of two feet.
3. Water velocity of about four feet per second.
4. Gravel of various sizes up to 12 inches in diameter, relatively free of fine materials so as to permit a flow of water of high oxygen content around the eggs to keep them alive.

The salmon eggs are laid under the gravel and stay there to develop for a period of two months or more before they are hatched out into small fish.

Therein lies the problem.

If the gravel is removed it ruins the area for spawning. There no longer is a constant supply of gravel being washed down into streams during the winter rains because dams have been placed in most streams. "It is no longer possible to take a few of the riffles out and permit the salmon to go up to the next one because over 90 per cent of the original spawning area has been lost and there are few next riffles to go to," said Shannon.

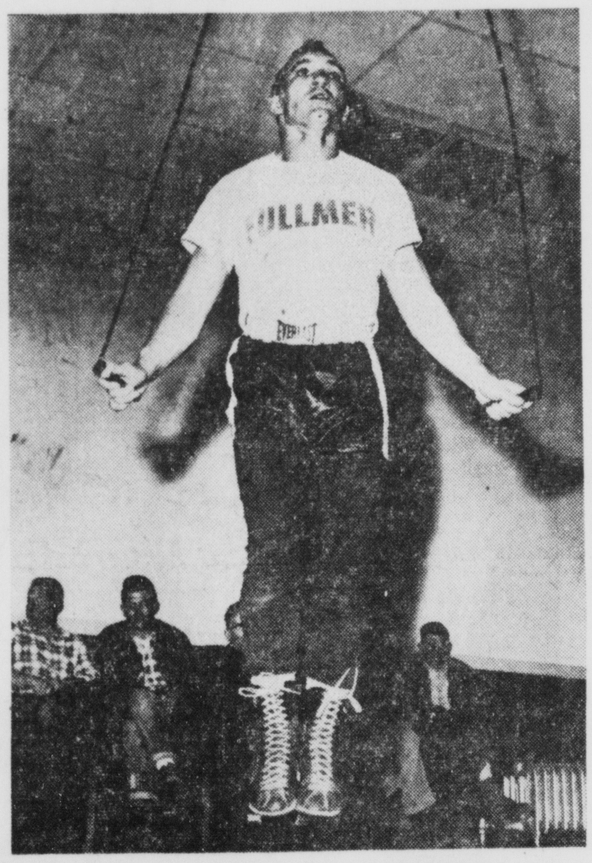
The director said that of the 436 sand and gravel producers in the state, eight were operating in the major salmon spawning areas during the fall of 1959. The Merced River has been damaged by these operations more than any other in the Central Valley.

POSSIBLE SOLUTION

Shannon has a possible solution to the problem.

Pointing out that stream-laid sand and gravel deposits underlie large areas of California and constitute a virtually inexhaustible reserve, he suggests restricting gravel removal in salmon spawning areas.

"In the light of these inexhaustible reserves," he adds, "building programs, highway construction, airport development and the like will not suffer from a lack of material if control is exerted over that minor segment of the gravel removal operations in this state destroying the salmon spawning grounds."



CHAMP IN PEAK CONDITION

Middleweight Champion Gene Fullmer jumps ropes as he winds up training for his title fight with Joey Giardello tomorrow night. The 15-rounder will take place in the field house at Montana State College in Bozeman, Montana.

Palmer Top Money Winner In Golf

DUNEDIN, Fla. (AP)—Arnold Palmer, winner of five golf tournaments and $44,300 this season, leads the pros in the money earned category.

The weekly standings issued by the Professional Golfers Assn. showed Palmer, who plays out of Ligonier, Pa., has garnered the prize money by entering 13 tournaments and finishing in the top five eight times.

Ken Venturi of Palo Alto was second but far behind with $23,300 won in eight tournaments. Dow Finsterwald of Tequesta came next with $21,800 earned in 10 events.

Women Golfers Ready For Big Dallas Tourney

DALLAS (AP)—Thirty women professionals of the golf tour will compete in the $10,000 Dallas Open tournament that starts Thursday. Favorites are numerous but Fay Crocker's getting the most attention.

The veteran from Montevideo, Uruguay, leads the money winners through seven tournaments and also boasts the top stroke average. Miss Crocker has banked $5,908.80 and averaged 73.48.

Sad Sam's 'You-Or-Me' Attitude Key To Great Pitching Success

HANLEY

One simple remark Bill Rigney made about Sam Jones after another no-hitter eluded the Toothpick Man in the middle game of the Cub series perhaps best described the secret of Sam's success.

"Everytime he goes out on that mound he gives you a good day's work," said the Giant manager.

Certainly the big fellow has lots of ability—a hummer, a change up and a sweeping sidearm curve—but there are a number of other pitchers in the National League, and the American, too, with as much if not more ability.

Not all of them, however, have Sam's "you-or-me" attitude with every batter he faces. That is the only way his big competitive heart allows him to work—as hard as he can on each batter stepping to the plate.

That was the way he pitched to Walt Moryn the other day when The Moose came on as a pinch-hitter with two out in the eighth and belted a homer on a 2-1 pitch for the only marker and only hit off Sam in his second win of the 1960 season that is just one week old.

JONES' "you-or-me attitude, just as Rigney's simple yet penetrating remark pinpointed the secret of his success, was reflected in a comment Sam made after that game.

"I didn't want to walk The Moose," he said. "I wanted to make him hit or strike out. I was just trying to get them out one at a time."

And there was no bitterness in Jones because Moryn did hit. "Give the guy credit," he said. "He really hit it." Jones was satisfied because "we won it" although he readily allowed "sure, I'll take the no-hitter if I get it."

THERE WAS another time when Sam was bitter about being deprived of a no-hitter. That was the night of June 30 last year when an official scorer capriciously called a tarnished topper that did not get off the infield grass a hit even though a clean play by Andre Rodgers, who twice fumbled the ball, would have nipped the admittedly speedy Junior Gilliam at first base. The scene of that robbery was the Los Angeles Coliseum and even the Dodger fans lustily booed the call and shared Sam's bitterness.

In an ironical parallel, Gilliam's "hit" also came with two out in the eighth inning, just as Moryn's did the other day. But there the parallel ends. Nobody found fault with Moryn's smasher, least of all Sam.

All Giant fans know of Sam's near-misses with the perfect one in those games and also how a midwest storm halted a no-hitter he had in the works against St. Louis last September at seven innings. They know too that he already has one no-hit game in the books, a 1955 job for the Cubs against the Pirates. Some may have forgotten that last May in Seals Stadium the mazing Sam, the Toothpick Man, had another no-hitter going with two out in the seventh.

THAT WAS on May 13 when Sam struck out an even dozen Phillies and finally wound up with a two-hit 6-0 shutout. The first hit in that game came in the seventh, not a big smash like Moryn's or an odious one like Gilliam's, but nevertheless a clean hit even though it was a swinging bunt down the third base line by Willie Jones on which Jimmy Davenport had no play. Gene Freese later in the eighth inning removed whatever curse, if any, attached to the topper by Sam's namesake with an undisputed pinch-hit single to left.

Koch Quint Captures Keg Title

Koch Fiberglas team defeated Del's Liquors, 2636 pins to 2559 last week in their playoff for the Men's 830 Scratch League championship at Greenbrae Lanes.

Herm Salkin's 554 series led the champions. Other totals for the winners were Phil Dunning 550, Nick Nacca 574, Ed Clinton 507 and Sam Pillus 488. Nacca's 203 was high game.

GREENBRAE'S "Early Thursday Nighters" League will reach a tension-loaded climax this week in the final round of competition.

Drake Market is in first place, but only by one-half game over the Flatiron Hotel—so the final night should be a thriller.

The Drake team took over the lead in last week's play by winning three of four points from McPhail's while the Flatiron was losing a 3-1 count to Swain Realty.

Dodgers Get Pitcher From Montreal Club

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Los Angeles Dodgers have purchased the Montreal contract of pitcher Ed Rakow, making him eligible for immediate service.

To get him officially on the roster, the Dodgers had to send rookie outfielder Al Norris to St. Paul of the American Assn. Norris hit .265 for Spokane of the Pacific Coast League last year. Rakow was with the Dodgers through spring training and did an impressive job in relief.

Elorde To Defend Title In S. F. Bout

MANILA (AP)—Flash Elorde, the world junior lightweight champion, has agreed to a return match with Harold Gomes in San Francisco July 6, Elorde's manager said today.

Manager Lope Sarreal said he has accepted practically all of the terms, including the purse for Elorde and the July 6 date and the site. The offer was from San Francisco matchmaker Benny Ford.

"There are a few details we still have to iron out, but they are minor in nature," Sarreal told the Associated Press.

Sarreal said, "We want to be sure that Sammy Richman will abide by all stipulations in our return match contract." He did not elaborate. Richman is Gomez' manager.

S. Africa Negroes Report For Work As Boycott Fails

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa, (UPI)—Heavily armed police and troops seized more than 160 Negroes today in a series of raids carried out to crush the last traces of a failing stay-at-home strike.

African workers threatened with loss of their jobs and closing of schools already were pouring out of their native townships in mass disregard of a stay home call from native nationalist leaders.

Today soldiers with fixed bayonets raided African townships near Port Elizabeth and rounded up "undesirables" in what police called "operation cleanup."

Other hundreds of troops lined the main entrances to New Brighton Township to guard the way of Negroes wanting to return to work. Armored vehicles were stationed along roads leading into the townships.

Police, who rounded up some 450 Negroes yesterday, said the stay-home campaign by the banned African National Congress seemed a "complete failure" in Port Elizabeth where thousands of natives jammed into buses to go to work as usual.

No violence had been reported in other big South African centers. In Johannesburg Africans reported for work as usual and officials at bus terminals said the scene was normal.

There were no reports of Africans remaining away from their jobs anywhere in the country.

Africans flocked to work in the port city of Durban, scene of much of South Africa's racial troubles, and in Johannesburg, where the stay-home campaign had been concentrated.

At East London, about 500 miles from Johannesburg, four magistrates were busy sentencing 400 Africans at the rate of one a minute. The Africans were arrested in police raids yesterday.

Most sentences were fines of $2.80 or eight days in jail for Africans who were caught without identification passes. The trials were conducted in the prison and newsmen were not permitted to witness them.

Indications were that the white government of South Africa had won a major victory for its discriminatory racial laws.

Withholding Tax Plan Author Dies

DANBURY, Conn. (AP)—Beardsley Ruml, 65, who invented "pay-as-you-go" tax withholding died yesterday after a heart attack.

Ruml was stricken a week ago at his home at West Redding, Conn., and died at Danbury Hospital.

A former board chairman of the R. H. Macy and Co. department store and the New York Federal Reserve Bank, he was adviser to the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico at his death.

His reputation as an idea man had grown up long before Ruml thought of "pay-as-you-go."

Ruml, a registered Republican who turned New Dealer, thought up the idea for the domestic allotment plan for farm relief which was put into the agricultural adjustment act of 1933.

THREE FACE CHARGES

Principal, Teachers Quit In Paddling Row

VALDOSTA, Ga. (UPI) — A high school principal and more than half the school's 30 teachers resigned last night because the county board of education failed to back them in a controversy over the paddling of a student.

A. B. Martin, principal of the high school at Hahira, Ga., near here, said he expected the rest of the faculty to submit their resignations today.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Cornelius said Martin and one of his teachers paddled their son, Elmer, 14, twice in one day last week. Martin and Mrs. Dwight Maples were charged with assault and battery for the paddling incident last Wednesday.

Also cited in connection with the whipping was Paul Myddleton, a teacher and assistant football coach who has been charged with being an accessory after reportedly witnessing one of the paddlings. Myddleton, Martin and Mrs. Maples are under $500 bond.

Cornelius, a school bus driver, said his son was first paddled by Martin for being downtown at an unauthorized time, and later by Mrs. Maples for being out of the classroom without permission.

The Lowndes County Board of Education held a hearing here yesterday to air the incident, but reached no decision. The only action it took was to grant a maternity leave to Mrs. Maples, which she had requested before the charges were preferred.

Following the heated, four-hour discussion yesterday, Martin said he was resigning his job because he had no other choice. He blamed the board of education and county school Supt. Clyde Meacham for failing to back him and other faculty members involved in the paddling incident.

Dr. Raymond Smith testified at yesterday's hearing that he had examined the youth and found severe bruises.

"These bruises were the results of a severe beating—too severe," the doctor said.

But Martin denied the Cornelius boy had been punished severely. "I've been humiliated," he said. "I have to back up my teachers although I'm not in favor of brutality. The board must back me up 100 per cent or I will resign."

Cornelius testified that he asked Martin to punish his son when he saw him off the school grounds during school hours. "But I didn't tell him to horsewhip him," the irate father father added.

Savage Race Fight Flares At Savannah

SAVANNAH, Ga. (AP)—A savage fight between Negroes and white youths climaxed weeks of racial tension here, where Negroes have been staging sit-down demonstrations and boycotting stores with segregated lunch counters.

Ax handles, pipes, knives and other weapons were swung in the brief but vicious clash in a park last night. A white youth was hospitalized with a serious knife wound in the neck. Two other white youths and a Negro were treated at a hospital and released.

Police jailed two Negroes and seven white persons and began an extensive search of the area for 20 others believed to have taken part in the fight in this Georgia coastal city.

Cause of the burst of violence was not determined.

The battle in the park occurred a few hours after police reported a white man struck a Negro student during a lunch counter sitdown demonstration at the S. H. Kress and Co. store. It was the second such incident in three days.

Warden Feels May 2 Chessman's Last Day

Fred R. Dickson, warden of San Quentin's Prison, said yesterday in Tucson, Ariz., that Caryl Chessman will be executed May 2.

And Chessman feels the same way, Dickson said.

"When I saw him two weeks ago he was his usual egotistical self," said Dickson. "However, he expects to be executed May 2."

Chessman, convicted of 17 felonies in 1948 in Los Angeles, has escaped death dates in the gas chamber eight times through successful appeals and reprieves.

Dickson, in Tucson for a regional wardens' conference, refused to say whether he thought Chessman's life should be spared.

Dickson noted that the 12 witnesses required by law for the execution have been selected. "Most of the time we have trouble getting the 12. This is not true in the Chessman case."

Dickson said he doesn't like capital punishment and has "grave doubts that it is a deterrent against murder."

Chessman, 38, was convicted 12 years ago at Los Angeles of kidnaping with bodily harm, forcing two women into unnatural sex acts.

A. L. Wirin, a Los Angeles attorney, filed Chessman's latest Supreme Court appeal yesterday, contending his client was tried on a simple kidnaping for robbery charge, which can't draw the death penalty.

Chessman, Davis End Differences

Attorney George T. Davis said yesterday Caryl Chessman and he "have resolved our differences."

Last week Chessman wrote Davis, asking him to withdraw from the case involving Chessman's 12-year fight to escape execution in San Quentin Prison's gas chamber.

Chessman accused Davis of "headline hunting" and said the lawyer disregarded Chessman's wishes in handling some phases of the case.

Davis visited Chessman yesterday, as he did on Friday and Saturday.

Marin Overweight Residents Organizing TOPS Club Here

A TOPS Club Inc. is being founded in Marin County. The purpose of the organization to help all those who are overweight to take off pounds sensibly. The club is based on the principle of "group therapy," getting together a group of people who have a problem in common and discussing it frankly without fear of being laughed at or misunderstood. The members of the chapter compete with each other in a friendly fashion while attaining their ideal weight, and in maintaining that weight.

The enthusiasm of the group provides encouragement and incentive to those individuals who lack the will power to accomplish their goal alone. In helping others, TOPS members also help themselves. TOPS provides a social outlet to help overcome the underlying cause of obesity, such as frustration, lack of confidence, and loneliness.

Its headquarters in Milwaukee, Wis. serves as a clearing house for good ideas, makes available to all members through the TOPS Manual, and other literature, the step by step procedure followed by the successful losers. TOPS constantly strives to persuade, inspire, and educate its members. TOPS is not a course of a few weeks or months duration. It is a well planned, long range continuing program dedicated to helping overweight, bringing them recognition and awards for a job well done and utilizing that success and know-how to help all others who will put themselves in a position where the club can aid them.

All those who wish to join the local club are asked to notify Mrs. Melvin Ferguson of Novato.

TOPS Club, Inc. was founded in January 1948 in Milwaukee, by Mrs. Esther Schuland Manz, a housewife who suffered from overweight the same as thousands of others. It was started as a local club, with only four members. As a result of its effectiveness, TOPS Chapters have sprung up all over the nation and keep in touch regularly to pool ideas and ammunition to win the fight against excess weight.

'Wing Your Way To Summer' Fashion Focus Show Theme

Like a bird in a breeze, or a jet on the jump, it's time to "Wing Your Way to Summer" on a fanciful flight to find nonstop fashions that are jet-propelled to fly from late April to early October.

Take-off time to summer is Tuesday, April 26 at 12:30 p.m. at Rickey's popular Fashion Focus luncheon with a cargo of fashionable air freight tagged by Barbara McClure, boat, beach, dinner, dance, travel and town.

Winging their way, and winning their wings will be the Ross Hospital Volunteers honored by Fashion Focus for their outstanding service to Ross Hospital where they are called the Rainbow Ladies. Literally they will wing their way to summer in the soon-to-be dedicated new wing at Ross Hospital.

Co-pilot for the afternoon will be the Alpha Omicron Pi Alumnae Chapter in Marin who have adopted the Endowed Bed Fund of the Ross Hospital Volunteers as one of their special philanthropic endeavors. This Endowed Bed Fund answers a real need, and enables a patient of a Marin doctor, upon approval of the Board of Trustees, to be assisted financially when hospitalization would mean a hardship on his family.

Crewing Tuesday's fashion flight to honor the Rainbow Ladies of Ross Hospital will be a distinctive Belvedere shop giving a "swoosh" to a wardrobe that only comes from being jet-propelled whether beachcombing, vacation-vagabonding, or staying at home.

Soaring high and handsome or sleek and trim will be coiffures by a San Anselmo Salon, to wing their way to summer on eight attractive models representing the Raindow Ladies and the Alpha O's.

Reservations for Tuesday's fashionable flight may be made by calling Rickey's.

Batter-Up Dance To Usher In S.A. Little League Season

The Seventh Annual Batter-Up Dance, ushering in the seventh season of Little League baseball in San Anselmo, is scheduled Saturday night, April 23 at Star Hall in the hub city.

This year's dance, only one scheduled for the season, will be the principal fund-raising event in 1960 for the San Anselmo boy's baseball organization which has grown since 1954 from eight teams for 10-12-year-olds to 19 teams for ages 10 through 17 years.

Mrs. Nicholas T. Nacca, general chairman, pointed out San Anselmo requires no registration or other fees for boys to play, as do many boy's baseball leagues.

"We have high hopes for a big turnout at the dance," she said. "Our costs, including insurance on the boys, are higher this year and still we want every boy to have an opportunity to play. Support of the parents and friends of the League at the season-opening dance is one way to make this possible."

Dancing will be from 10 p.m., until 2 a.m. There will be a midnight buffet with Mrs. Herman Thompson in charge.

Music will be by a combo popular in the Bay Area. Decorations will be in a baseball motif.

Pastor's Mother Pays Visit Here

A welcome guest at the San Rafael Presbyterian manse for the Easter holidays has been the mother of the pastor, Rev. Wesley C. Baker. Mrs. William Baker came from her home in Fullerton, California to be with her son and family and assist during the busy Lenten and Easter church calendar in care of her three grandchildren, Rebecca, 10, Ernest, 8, and Timothy, 5.

A year and a half ago Mrs. Fuller moved to Fullerton, upon the death of her husband, to be near her only son, who then had the parish of Shadow Hills, Presbyterian Church of Sunland, near Los Angeles.

Mrs. Baker, Sr., paying her first visit to the manse, has a great zest for the life of only son, who, to her surprise and joy, chose the ministry.

Mrs. Baker, Jr., Velma, was his wife and classmate at the San Francisco Theological Seminary.

The attractive Velma, one of three daughters in the Allgood family, formerly of Scottsdale, Arizona, has also been very close to her husband's only sister. The three Allgood sisters were known in their early girlhood as Tom, Dick and Harry. There were no brothers. Most personable is "Dick," the second daughter. And she now answers to that name among her many new young Marin friends. For here she quickly won her way into the hearts of the various church groups by her leadership, musical ability and many activities plus delightful personality — a real helpmate for her young and dynamic husband, parson Baker, and a wonderful mother.

The Baker home is always open to their new and old friends. Consequently many guests from near and distant points frequent the manse at 1111 E street, off Fifth avenue, and next door to the First Presbyterian Church, where they became residents in January.

Picnic Planned By Sausalito Yacht Club

At the recent meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of the Sausalito Yacht Club Mrs. Peter Fromhagen, president, introduced and welcomed two new members, Mesdames John Ward and Arthur Beringer, both of Sausalito.

Miss Vicki Kirk of Sausalito presented the Auxiliary with a large scrap book for clippings and pictures. Mrs. Leonard Delmas of Kentfield presented Mrs. Fromhagen with a mahogany gavel.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Hart of Tiburon, members of both the Sausalito Yacht Club and Southern Marin Recreation Center, will co-sponsor with the Auxiliary, a "Shipwreck Dance" to be held at the Southern Marin Recreation Center as the next project to raise funds for clubhouse furnishings. This will be the last affair to be held before the end of June when, it is hoped, the Yacht Club's new clubhouse will be completed.

Although not strictly on the Auxiliary agenda, the Sausalito Yacht Club picnic was a topic of great interest. The picnic, for members, their families and crews, is scheduled for April 24, from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m., at Hospital Cove on Angel Island. There will be a shore boat to ferry those not using their own boats. There are reservations already received for 100 adults and 44 children.

Suburbia House Tour To Feature 6 Homes

Six homes will be shown when "Sophisticated Suburbia," sponsored by St. Stephen's Guild of Belvedere, holds its 10th annual House Tour on Thursday, May 12, followed by tea at the newly-remodeled San Francisco Yacht Club.

Second house on the tour is the Richard O. Pollards occupied by the Robert O. Groses. Also a lagoon home, it is filled with personal mementos collected by the owners. It will be very interesting to tour goers. It was designed by Theodore Bernardi of Worster, Bernardi and Emmons.

Third house on the tour is the home of Mrs. James Lewis, whose architect son-in-law William V. H. Brooke designed it. Small and jewel-like it is almost like apartment living. Interior decoration expresses the personality of the owner and her collection of snuff boxes and treasured antiques.

Fourth house on the tour, designed by Leonard Cahn, is the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chester C. Vargas Jr., cantilevered to jut out over San Francisco. It is furnished with a feeling of pacifica. The exquisite Oriental garden was designed by the owners.

Fifth house on the tour, designed by the architectural firm of Appleton and Wolford, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Joel Horowitz. Its wooded site and treetop beauty makes it particularly interesting. Hardman and Kopp did the interior furnishings.

Sixth home on the tour is the home of Mr. and Mrs. MacBoyle Lewis, located on a flat plateau on the tiptop of Belvedere Island. Designed by Joseph Eshenek it presents a spectacular panoramic view of the entire Bay. Decor and garden by the owners.

Still more is in offing for those who attend the one to five event. After being conducted by shuttle buses around the island, everyone will be served a delicious tea at the newly remodeled San Francisco Yacht Club. Tickets may be obtained from Mrs. T. L. Wark, 18 Teal road, Belvedere, or from Mrs. George Stephens at her Keil Cove home, Tiburon.

Visitor From Canada Makes Many Friends

Mrs. Violet Langford has been enjoying an extended visit with her brother-in-law, Frank Brown of San Rafael, while here from Canada. Mrs. Langford, a sister of the late Cora (Mrs. Frank) Brown, has made many friends here where she came to attend the wedding of her late sister's granddaughter, Patricia Boland of Bolinas.

ALMANAC

Today is Tuesday, April 19, the 110th day of the year, with 256 more in 1960.

The moon is approaching its new phase.

The morning stars are Mercury, Mars, Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1775, the American War for Independence began. The British arrived at Lexington, Mass., and found a small company of Minute Men awaiting them.

In 1861, the first blood was shed in the War between the States in Baltimore when a mob of southern sympathizers attacked a contingent of Massachusetts soldiers parading through the city.

In 1892, Charles E. Duryea of Springfield, Mass., turned the last screw on his horseless carriage and took it out of his shop for a successful drive. He called the first American-made automobile in history the buggyaut.

In 1956, actress Grace Kelly married Monacan sovereign prince Ranier III.

A thought for today: President Abraham Lincoln in his first inaugural address said: "While the people retain their virtue and vigilance, no administration by any extreme of wickedness or folly can very seriously injure the government in the short space of four years."

Too Bad Gov. Brown's Big Savings Claims Are Faulty

This is the time of year (just before elections) when politicians toss around a lot of figures in an attempt to show how well things are going under their firm hands. Some of these figures need challenging.

One that comes immediately to mind is the tremendous claims of economy which Gov. Edmund G. Brown "revealed" by coincidence on the day the state income tax normally fell due.

The sum the governor claimed to have saved in fiscal year 1959-60 is $19,582,500, a sum which we would applaud—if he had saved it. Unfortunately, examination of his "savings" doesn't uphold his claim.

In the list are four major items: General savings $2,000,000; Adjustment of financing for local fairs $11,093,500; Abolishment of special funds $3,613,000; Motor Vehicles $1,153,500. These four total $17,860,000 and are the only claimed savings over $650,000.

General savings, the governor explained, are savings "made generally throughout the state agencies" and "cannot for certain be anticipated to recur." Specifically, vacant jobs often that weren't filled and thus a salary savings claimed. This is a good way to save money—fewer employees—if you don't just hire them later.

The local fairs "saving" of more than 11 million dollars, over half of the total claimed, wasn't a savings at all. Actually it was an expenditure. The governor took the county fair surpluses, which had been building up out of parimutuel recepits, and transferred them to the general fund. This is like taking the money you have saved up in the bank to buy a new refrigerator and spending it to buy food. Before it was saved and drawing interest; now it's spent, gone, no more interest.

We're not arguing whether or not the county fairs were getting too much before or too little now. What we are saying is that the Brown administration didn't save that money, it spent it.

That also goes for the more than 3½ million dollars from the special funds. Brown's administration abolished them and then claimed he "saved" money. All right, if he saved it, where is it now? We had it before.

The last million 150 thousand dollars was saved by the director of the Department of Motor Vehicles in his agency's operation. He achieved this over the objections of other state officials and direct opposition of some legislators of the governor's party. He had to fight to save that money.

Would that Governor Brown's other savings were as real as that he saved in motor vehicles.

WRONG OIL PARALYZES 10,000

Cutting corners by a few sharpsters resulted in temporary paralysis for 10,000 and a permanent disability for 500 poor people in Morocco.

Whole families were suddenly afflicted with tingling pains followed by a numbness of their hands and feet.

Hospital facilities were taxed beyond capacity and thousands hobbled about the streets on makeshift crutches. Health authorities soon discovered that a few hucksters hoping to make a fat profit were the cause of the tragedy.

They diluted the olive oil that poor families use for cooking with a cheap, anticorrosive oil, bought from a surplus supply at a nearby U. S. airbase. It contained triorthocresyl phosphate, which damages or destroys nerve and muscle tissue.

Do everything in your power to protect the God-given right of every human person to be treated justly. You will help to lessen at least some of man's injustices to his fellowman if you do.

"Blessed are they who suffer persecution for justice' sake, for theirs is the kingdom of heaven." (Matthew 5:10)

Grant, O Holy Spirit, that I may work as hard to protect the innocent as others do to harm them.

To Hold Your Husband, Don't Get Sunburned, Advises Eva Gabor

"A wife should always look white, delicate and feminine. Then she can get away with any mischief. Her husband won't mind," she says.

Miss Gabor, who is now wed to broker Richard Brown, is a member of a Hungarian family renowned for two generations for its man-taming skill. She feels, with some justification, she her-self is an "international authority" on how to attract men.

"But just because a man puts a ring on your finger doesn't mean you've got him forever. That's only the beginning. That's when the trouble starts," she says.

"You can never really relax in a marriage. Too often when people marry the wife stops growing — and the man begins to grow. Unless the wife does something, she is bound to lose her husband."

We asked Miss Gabor if she would disclose a few European secrets in the art of winning and holding a husband. She gladly obliged.

"The main thing a woman must always remember is to look feminine," she said.

"She should always wear a hat and never take off her gloves, even when she smokes. She looks more glamorous in gloves.

"But if she wears a flowered hat she should never wear a busy-looking dress. It puts her out of focus."

Never wear low - heeled shoes. It's better for a girl to go barefooted.

Eat in a dimly lit restaurant Then, if a girl has a shiny nose, the glare from it won't blind her escort.

She believes that, by and large, American women dress very well, but that their biggest error is in dressing to please each other.

"WHAT IS THE good of it if another woman thinks you look chic, and your husband thinks you look terrble?" he demanded.

"Another mistake American women make is in wearing flowers. Flowers belong in a vase in the house, not on you. They make you look like a circus horse.

If your husband gives you a corsage, and you don't want to hurt his feelings, pin it to your evening bag.

But the biggest lesson most U.S. women need to learn in the field of romance, she added, is how to make their men feel more manly.

"EUROPEAN women know better how to make the man feel he is the boss. This is a man's need," she says.

"If his wife tells him 'You are the greatest,' her husband has the resources to fight again tomorrow. I cannot stand women who are bossy to men. It makes me shrivel to hear them."

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Need For Facts Not Name Calling

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I noted recently in your letters to the editor column that Elmer Worlund is still considerably alarmed by the threat of Clem Miller's being retained for another term in Congress. Allowing Mr. Worlund the benefit of the doubt, it might be argued that underlying his claims that Mr. Miller is, among other things, the champion of rapists, is the possible contention that Mr. Miller has done an inadequate job in Congress. It is the latter possibility that I have taken the time to investigate. I have found Mr. Miller's record most impressive.

First, as to the number of bills he has authored which have passed the house, inasmuch as Mr. Worlund has made this such an issue, the facts show that Mr. Miller has secured passage of five of his own bills. Investigation also reveals that this is twice the average of his predecessor who served in Congress for 10 years. Despite the fact that Mr. Miller is a freshman Congressman, his record of bills passed is over three times the average of other California Congressmen from the opposition party, all of whom are senior in tenure.

I trust, however, that Mr. Worlund does not measure efficiency solely by the number of bills passed. If we may look beyond the legislative box-score, the record shows for example, that Mr. Miller has taken a leading roll in efforts to control the arms race. Last year he introduced legislation which would have prevented the spread of nuclear weapons to foreign countries. This year he introduced the leading resolution calling for a moratorium on nuclear testing, the latter having been a part of Miller's platform since 1956. He has introduced a bill to step up the technical data and research to make inspection for arms control workable.

In another field, that of conservation, he has been working to reconcile the differences which may exist between those primarily interested in business and those interested in recreation.

His version of the Wilderness Bill is being studied by many as a common ground on which all parties of interest may agree. His work on basic research for the fishing industry is widely hailed as outstanding. The record of the San Rafael conference of last fall which he organized, is to be presented as a House document.

In debate, Clem Miller has already made his mark. He has played key parts in debate on bills from his committee on housing and on the completely revised Federal Credit Union Act. He was also selected by his colleagues to give the closing arguments for the committee bill in the labor debate of last year because of his long experience in labor-management relations. He voted for the labor bill which is now law, contrary to Mr. Worlund's letter and other reports.

Space limitation prevents a complete listing of the legislative accomplishments which make up Clem Miller's outstanding record as a freshman Congressman. I have hopes, however, that the coming election campaign will present arguments on the true issues rather than resort to innuendo as was the case with Mr. Worlund's letter. Certainly, labeling Mr. Miller as "tricky," "shady," "ridiculous," and "disgusting" will present no satisfactory solution. No good will come from hinting that Clem Miller is soft on Communists and rapists nor even claims that Clem Miller favors raising the price of bread.

It strikes me that the interests of our legislative district, our state and our nation can best be served by persons such as Mr. Worlnud directing their efforts towards the basic and important differences between the parties and their candidates. Recent history gives evidence of the harm that can come from political argument based solely upon name calling, fear, insinuation and innuendo.

$10,000 Spent; No Floods Controlled

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Over a year ago the Board of Supervisors (Mr. Fusselman a minority of one) voted to spread a Special Assessment District over a part of Tamalpais Valley. The money raised was to provide local matching funds for a U.S. Army Engineers Flood Control Project. Of the $30,000 thus produced, about $10,000, or one-third of the total, has been spent for legal, engineering and printing fees.

This latter sum was disbursed correctly, albeit it does not provide any flood control works whatsoever. In fact, it seems that due to rising costs, the whole Tamalpais Valley Flood Control Project is now defunct. Thus the $10,000 of tax payers' money already spent is perhaps irretrievably lost to the local taxpayers.

I say perhaps because the Board of Supervisors could, in a noble gesture, restore this lost $10,000 to the poor beleaguered local taxpayers from county funds. (This wouldn't be too inequitable, considering that all Special Assessment Districts are created, sans recourse to a vote or even, necessarily, a petition from the people). But it is the remaining $20,000 that is the main concern of this letter. Is it not time that the governing board of this county make a public accounting of this money, and take steps to return it to the pocketbooks of its legal owners?

In concluding, I wish to say how much simpler all this would be if the Board had heeded the advice of fellow-member Bill Fusselman at the final hearing declaring the aforesaid Assessment District. At that time Fusselman suggested that county road funds be pledged to satisfy the Army Engineers' requirements of that time, and that Special Assessment proceedings be withheld until the last possible moment and until there was a clear road ahead. Now there is no clear road.

Anyone Want Hand Crank Slugger? It Might Be Handy In An Old Mine

Anyone want a hand crank slugger?

Don Bennett of Larkspur has one — at least 75 years old — and he's willing to donate it to a museum or mining institute or wherever is the best place for it.

What is it?

Well, nowadays when a miner wants to go blasting rock in his mine, he uses a pneumatic or electric drill. But back in the old days — way back — the slugger was used.

You just wind it up like a clock — and its drill lets loose and drives into the rock.

BENNETT, a man with a keen eye for a gold mine, found the ancient piece of machinery in an old tunnel near Silver City, Idaho. The way old-timers tell the story, there were two men working the property 75 years ago. They had a squabble and one shot the other, then walked away, leaving everything behind him.

No one had been in the tunnel since that day, the story goes.

Bennett has received lots of advice since an Independent-Journal story on his discovery of gold and silver near Idaho City.

One call came from Howdy Wilson, an old time miner who lives in Belvedere and sells insurance in Larkspur. He is associated with a Belvedere man who owns an iron mine about 100 miles from Bennett's property.

AND SPEAKING of mining, Mort Coombs, manager of the Larkspur branch of the Bank of America, is looking forward to an appropriate holiday for a banker this summer.

He and his son plan to spend part of their vacation panning for gold around Colfax.

CORTE MADERA was apparently the only municipality to count its absentee ballots right after election last Tuesday, and it followed the same procedure in 1958. Everyplace else is doing the counting tonight.

Seems to be some confusion on the law about this.

She followed the little red book of election laws to the letter, page by page, and as a result, it was probably "the most legal election we ever had," she laughed.

If you noticed a bonfire behind town hall morning after the election, it was just the unusued, and properly defaced, ballots going up in smoke — as the law requires.

THERE WAS a minor crisis in Naydeen's home the day after election. Mr. Bascum was missing. Mr. Bascum is a black and white baby rat with a long pink tail, and he belongs to Naydeen's son, Bill, 6.

Bill is in kindergarten at Neil Cummins School, and the kindergarten had seven rats it no longer needed and wanted to give away.

Town Manager Art Brandow has a youngster in the same kindergarten — but he said no.

"I was tireder than Art," sighed Naydeen. "I said okay."

Mr. Bascum disappeared while Bill was cleaning his cage in the Penny yard. But he turned up later in the bushes, to his young owner's delight.

MRS. JIM KILPATRICK, whose husband owns the Bon Air Supermarket in Greenbrae, rolled a ball down the alley at Greenbrae Lanes the other day and knocked down the lucky green pin. She won a pound of bacon.

Said her husband: "It was like sending ice to Alaska."

New FCC Chairman Means To Act To Improve Programming

WASHINGTON—It looks as though the Federal Communications Commission is coming out of its long hibernation.

The liberating views of its new chairman, Frederick W. Ford, is giving the F.C.C., which is supposed to regulate television and radio, a fresh lease on life—and an opportunity to redeem itself.

This is encouraging to everyone who would like to see the commission become a positive force to rescue the public from egregiously bad programming.

FORMER CHAIRMAN John C. Doerfer, who resigned recently, constantly centered his attention on what he thought the F.C.C. couldn't do.

New chairman Ford is a healthy dissenter from these do-nothing views. He is telling the public and the industry and his fellow ocmmissioners that a reading of the whole statute and all court decisions—not just a few of them—gives the commission a large concern with over-all programming. His approach is positive, not negative.

He says quite frankly that when he sees something which needs to be remedied, he intends to use the authority of the F.C.C. to remedy it and if he finds authority lacking, he will go to Congress to ask for it.

FORD DECLARES that the F.C.C. has the right to review a "station's past programming and its proposal for the future" in order to determine whether its future operation "would serve the public interest." In fact, he adds, "a positive duty to undertake such consideration is indicated."

The outgoing chairman contended that since the commission cannot, by law, censor an individual program, it cannot "determine program balance." The new chairman says that it can and will. He points out that in one year an early Federal Radio Commission withheld renewals from 83 of 164 stations and that the type of programs was the "dominant influence."

CHAIRMAN FORD is not censorship - minded. If he were, I would hope to be among the first to protest. He does not propose to tell any network, any station, any broadcaster, any producer what to say or what to produce. He does propose to weigh the "balance" of programming in relationship to the industry's licensed duty to serve the public.

Experimenting With Hypnotism On Unstable Children Dangerous

"Would hypnotism help my boy?" a mother asks.

"He is 14, cries a lot and has bad tantrums. He is as skinny as a rail and does poorly at school. I have a friend who is studying hypnotism. He wants to hypnotize my boy, and experiment with him. Would it be dangerous?"

It could be dangerous. Don't let your friend experiment with your son. I've been reading some reports on the misue of hypnotism by amateurs. The reports were printed in scientific magazines. They are scary.

Healthy, happy, emotionally stable folks can be hypnotized without harm. But emotionally unstable people can be hurt badly. As you describe him, your boy is emitionally unstable.

Here is a typical case concerning a girl of 16. She now is in a mental hospital. She was badly overweight. She was a compulsive eater, and couldn't stop. Of course, she was ashamed of her size. She got got an amateur hypnotist to work on her and took daily treatments for several weeks. Then she went to pieces completely. She may not recover.

Here is another case—a boy of 17. He was a nervous, resentful young delinquent. He and his friends held up a service station. He was caught. It was his second offense. The judge put him on probation, with the understanding that he would go to a psychiatrist for help. Instead his folks sent him to a hypnotist, expecting quicker results. Now he too is in a mental hospital.

In the hands of properly trained specialists, hypnotism is very useful. In the hands of anyone else it is dangerous. Just now it is a fad.

Mill Valley Puts Sprinkler System In At Ball Park

A permanent sprinkler system has been installed by the City of Mill Valley with the cooperation of the Optimist Club and Recco 17 at the Optimist ballpark.

The system will be used for watering the baseball diamond and the city has accepted the maintenance of the park. Planting of the outfield area will be done at the end of the baseball season.

The park, on the site of the old city dump—now Recco 17—will be dedicated May 21 at the opening of the two-day Youth-O-Rama celebration being sponsored by the Mill Valley Optimist Club, chairman E. Andrew Lax said.

Funds raised from the celebration will be used for further ball park installations such as a clubhouse and showers, he said. The youth-in-action show will feature such activities as a baseball game, judo exhibition, wood bucking contest, horse show, bike race and trampoline act. It will open at 11 a.m., May 21 and at noon on May 22. Closing hours have not been set.

Paint on his car was slightly scorched, but there was no other damage.

Many Unwanted Pets Die Miserable Deaths

By FREDERICK M. WINSHIP

NEW YORK (UPI)—If Americans are humane people, why do they allow ever increasing millions of unwanted pets to die miserable deaths each year?

Most of us would rather not be asked this question It arouses memories of kittens turned loose in the country, puppies given away to strangers, surreptitious drownings of entire litters, and children's tears. Even humane means of disposal such as legal gas chambers and crematoriums usually leave animal lovers with a vague but unshakable sense of guilt.

This year Americans will spend more than 2.5 billion dollars on their 50 million pet dogs and cats, yet more than 20 million homeless dogs and cats will die of starvation and exposure and about five million will be destroyed in animal pounds. Is there an answer to the staggering question of ethics posed by these statistics?

A relatively new organization on the national scene, the Friends of Animals, Inc., thinks there is. This group would like to limit the number of dogs and cats born each year, estimated at 33 million and increasing as rapidly as the human population, to the number of permanent homes available to them—about eight million.

"This can be done by convincing the American people it is to their benefit to sterilize their pets rather than letting them breed accidentally," said Dr. Robert C. Schmid, an executive of one of the nation's largest philanthropic foundations, who with his wife was a founding member of Friends of Animals.

"The neutering operation is a simple one and usually inexpensive, but apparently even the small expense involved has kept many people from having it done," Schmid said. "That's where Friends of Animals comes in. We are willing to give financial assistance to those who cannot afford the prevailing fee."

Friends of Animals has begun its operation in the Greater New York area and is willing to help branches of the organization get started in other parts of the country. It hopes eventually all humane societies and dog pounds will cooperate by offering pets for adoption only to persons who agree to sterilize them.

"Once this program is generally adopted, there would be a great reduction in the number of abandoned dogs and cats and our humane societies could begin to allocate their funds mainly to animal welfare services rather than animal disposal," Schmid said. "Of course there would always be enough accidental breeding to provide us with plenty of mongrel pets but for the most part breeding would be left to the professionals."

The Friends of Animals' program has been approved by religious authorities, including the New York Catholice Archdiocese. It has the backing of most pet authorities who stress that neutering does not make cats fat and lazy as commonly believed. It is being actively promoted by many pet-owning celebrities, including June Havoc, James Mason, Fannie Hurst, Budd Schulberg and the Duchess of Windsor.

"My wife and I got interested in this when we first moved to New York and began taking stray kittens into our apartment," said Schmid. "We wound up with 22 cats and an intense interest in how to deal with the problem of animal over population humanely and rationally. Now we thinks we have found the way."

Permit For Yacht Float Expected

J. C. Tinkler, 16, Harbor View court, San Rafael, is expected to receive a permit this week for construction of a piling bulkhead and yacht float in front of his home on San Rafael creek.

Officers at the Army Engineer district in San Francisco reported today that no protests had been received on the proposed construction. Protests were to have been in by Friday.

The float would provide deep water landing for Tinkler's sailboat.

The supposed enmity between cats and dogs is totally lacking in Pittsburgh home of Mrs. Jeanne O'Connor. She reports that Queenie, the boxer, became friendly with Gigi the moment the kitten became a household pet.

British Still Betting On Ships In Pacific

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Passenger ships in the Pacific are getting a lot of competition from airplanes, but the British still are betting on ships. Betting heavily.

The Empire's latest blue chip —a 42 million dollar ship—is the 45,000-ton Canberra, launched in March in Northern Ireland for Orient and Pacific Lines.

She will operate between London and Vancouver, B.C., via Suez, Australia, the Orient and the U.S. West Coast and will be the biggest ship ever to operate a regular schedule in the Pacific.

The Pacific's passenger fleet just about disappeared in World War II, but in recent years there has been a quiet comeback, thanks to some older folks who have been storing up money and time.

Steamship firms are remarkably close mouthed, but there is no doubt there still is plenty of money to be made selling cruises, even if commercial and emergency passengers now fly.

Eugene Hoffman, an American President Lines vice president, points out his firm develops 60 per cent of its business in California and the average age of a cruise passenger is 58 years.

APL, which used to be called the Dollar Lines, would like federal government help to build a Pacific superliner. Executives say there is no doubt they could sell more tickets if they had more space.

Matson Navigation Co., in its last annual report, said the passenger business was improved and after two bad years, showed a small profit.

Matson, without giving money figures, said its Lurline and Matsonia carried 75,300 passengers on the California-Hawaii run, a gain of 23 per cent.

Its Monterey and Mariposa, smaller ships, carried 9,200 on the South Pacific run, a jump of 42 per cent.

Matson did not specify which of its profits came from passengers, but it made $3,051,994 last year, compared with $343,143 in 1958, when a sugar strike in Hawaii hurt business.

Matson is deep in the pineapple and sugar trade.

O&P is building another ship, the 40,000-ton Oriana, for the same trade and already is operating the Orsova, Arcadia, Oronsay, Himalaya, Orcades, Chusan and Iberia, ranging from 24,215 tons to 29,743.

Those are big ships for the Pacific although the Canberra will be only about half the size of the Queen Elizabeth.

When the British get all this going it will mean that there will be 24 regular passenger liners in the Pacific with 21,270 berths. That's 16 fewer ships than before the war but the passenger capacity is about the same and a lot more comfortable. Many prewar ships had steerage, mainly for Orientals.

The brisk business steamships did in taking aging Orientals home to die has disappeared with the U.S. economic blockade of Red China.

Except for one ship, two fleets vanished in the war—Nippon Yusen Kaisha and the Canadian Pacific Railway's white Empress ships. Only the Hikawa Maru, between Tokyo and Seattle, remains of the seven passenger ships NYK used to operate to this country. Six were sunk.

Japanese bombers sank the Empress of Asia in 1942, an Italian sub got the Empress of Canada in the Atlantic in 1943 and the Empress of Russia burned in England in 1945. That left CPR's Pacific fleet with only the Empress of Japan, which was renamed the Empress of Scotland after the Pearl Harbor attack and is now sailing under the German flag as the Hanseatic for the Hamburg-Atlantik Line.

U.S. passenger vessels had the Pacific virtually to themselves for a time after the war — before O&P came along.

APL operates the President Cleveland and President Wilson, both big postwar ships, to the Orient in addition to the President Hoover, a smaller ship brought over from the Caribbean.

APL also has the Presidents Polk and Monroe in around-the-world business.

Matson, the other big U.S. line in the Pacific, operated four luxury liners before the war and still does, but only two are the same ships. Home Lines, Inc, now owns the prewar Matsonia and Mariposa and operates them in the Atlantic as the Vasilissa Frediderikiand Homeric.

The present Matsonia is the old Monterey.

POIGNANT (?) SCENE FROM FORTHCOMING PLAY

"I have come across the ocean to tell you that I have missed you," says Merv Silberberg (as Paul d'Argenson, from Paris) to Tykie Casey (Sabrina Fairchild) in this scene of mixed emotions from the comedy "Sabrina Fair," to be presented by the Ross Valley Players for four weekends starting April 28. Dick Casey (far left) and Fred Brylka (as David and Linus Larrabee) look on with something less than enthusiasm. (Photo by Bert Howell)

Californians Urged To Get Polio Shots

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The State Public Health Department, noting an increase in paralytic cases over a year ago, today urged Californians to get anti-polio vaccinations.

The department said 41 cases of paralytic polio—six more than in the first quarter of 1959—were reported in the first three months of 1960.

"Crippling polio strikes hardest in California during the summer and early fall months," the department said in its monthly report to the governor.

"Mindful of the vaccine shortages which occur during the summer the department urges the unprotected to seek vaccination now in order to have the full three-shot protection needed," the report said.

Compromise Speed

Half the highway is within the Lockport city limits and has a 30 mile per hour limit. But motorists headed west, on the Niagara County side of the road, may drive up to 50 miles per hour. Officials are considering a 40 miles per hour compromise.

San Rafael High Plans Careers Day

More than 60 representatives of careers ranging from engineering to law enforcement, science to stewardesses, will be at the school to talk to students in all grades.

Beginning at 11:45 a.m., students will leave their classrooms for an hour of discussions with representatives of careers they are considering.

Tomorrow night, parents and their youngsters will attend the school to hear the career representatives parents have chosen in a survey. Students also were polled to find their career interests, said head counselor, James Norton.

Included at the evening meeting will be a talk by a U.S. Department of Labor representative, on "Manpower, the Challenge of the 1960."

Next in popularity were engineering, 190; stewardess work, 127; and law enforcement, 117.

Cesare Siepi, a major basso of the Metropolitan Opera, began as a good amateur prizefighter. His mother persuaded him to study opera because boxing "cut up his face too much."

Music Chest To Offer 3rd Scholarship

A third memorial scholarship will be offered by the Marin Mustic Chest this year, thanks to the generosity of a Sausalito woman, it was announced today by Mrs. Wallace Scott, Music Chest president.

Mrs. Raul Periera of 17 Glen drive, Sausalito, is contributing a $200 scholarship to be known as the Raul Periera Violin Scholarship in memory of her late husband, who was a well-known musician and teacher. Although Periera taught piano, his "first love" was the violin, according to his widow.

The Periera Scholarship will be offered this year along with the Maude Fay Symington Scholarship, named in honor of the founder and organizer of the Music Chest, now residing in San Francisco, and the Louise N. Furst Scholarship, given in memory of a past president of the Music Chest.

The organization also sets aside 5 per cent of money subscribed during its summer concert season subscription drive for scholarships. This will make possible a total of five scholarships this year for deserving young Marin musicians, said Mrs. Scott.

Auditions will be held some time in August, she said.

Plight Of Sand Sifter

ASBURY PARK, N. J. (AP)—There is a sad decline in the once prosperous art of beachcombing.

Adam Schultz, 68, who has been sifting the sands along the Atlantic Coast for the past 30 years, has had to take odd jobs to make ends meet.

2 San Rafael Annex Plans Move Ahead

On a motion by Dr. Charles W. Aby and second by Fred Jensen, the city council approved a resolution of intent to annex the Nunes ranch, which will push the northern limits of the city to Lucas Valley road. Eichler Homes, Inc., plans to continue building homes on the Nunes land with access from Del Ganado and Monticello roads in Terra Linda.

A long-standing petition by residents of Terra Linda for annexation to the city also got official encouragement.

DISTRICT FACILITIES

Councilmen decided the recreation and firehouse facilities now owned by the Terra Linda Community Services District would be of sufficient value to take care of the $75-per-lot annexation fee which the city charges.

In other words, instead of requiring the $75 fee for each of the 1,126 developed lots, the city would be willing to accept the four and a half acres of recreation and firehouse facilities as the annexation fee for all of Terra Linda.

With the annexation fee question resolved, the Terra Linda residents were given consent to go ahead with circulation of petitions for annexation. Terra Lindans hope to put the matter to a vote in November.

CHECK ON DITCH

City Manager Dan E. Andersen said he has tried to get assurance from the county that the entire ditch would be repaired without cost to the city. However, he has not been able to pin down that assurance.

Mayor John F. McInnis and other councilmen stressed that completion of the ditch would be one of the conditions required before Terra Linda is annexed.

RECORD ERASED

Board Kills 'Debate' On Fluoridation

Alarmed at the idea of being involved in any kind of a "debate" over the issue of fluoridation, the Marin County Board of Supervisors unanimously voted today to "delete from the minutes and expunge from the record" any action it might have taken in that direction.

Doubt seemed to exist as to just what the board actually had done.

Every member seemed convinced it had not meant to sponsor anything that could be called a debate, yet that word crept into the minutes of April 12 and County Clerk George S. Jones confessed that "how the word 'debate' got in is unknown."

The flurry developed when Mrs. William Loran, chairman of the pro fluoridation Children's Dental Health Committee of Marin County, showed up with proposed rules for the combat.

Mrs. Loran put in a letter including the clause, "the board has suggested a debate," basing this on a communication from Jones after the board had decided on a meeting proposed by Dr. Stephen A. Duff, vice chairman of the anti-fluorida-

Close Council Races To Be Settled Tonight

Cities Will Count Absentee Ballots In Vote Canvasses

Winners of city council seats in five Marin municipalities will be decided tonight as absentee ballots are opened at official election convasses.

Councils of all nine cities that held elections last Tuesday will meet tonight to canvass returns. In five — Belvedere, Larkspur, Mill Valley, San Anselmo and Sausalito — the canvass will be crucial, for it will determine who will be sworn in as new councilmen.

COMBINE MEETS

San Anselmo and Sausalito councils will combine the vote canvass with regular meetings.

Count of the absentees will determine two out of three of the councilmen to be seated in Larkspur. James Lienkaemper was assured election with 550 votes, without the absentees. Closely grouped behind Lienkaemper were L. A. Daveler with 519, Mrs. Jane W. Epidendio with 510, and Daniel Allen, incumbent mayor with 503. There are 35 absentee ballots to be tallied.

Count of the absentees will determine the winners of one seat in Belvedere, one in Mill Valley and one in Sausalito.

IN BELVEDERE

In Belvedere, the contest in doubt is between Dr. John H. Flint, who received 242 votes in the unofficial tally last week, and Vice Adm. Frank E. Beatty, who got 226. There are 34 absentee votes to be counted.

Dr. Robert P. Watkins, incumbent mayor, was assured re-election in the Belvedere voting, with 351 votes without the absentees. Incumbent Councilmen E. G. (Ned) Weed appeared safely assured of re-election with 268 votes—needing very few of the absentees to defeat either Flint or Beatty.

In Mill Valley, count of 70 absentee ballots will determine whether incumbent George Blackwell or William M. Secor wins a council seat.

UNOFFICIAL TALLY

In the unofficial tally, Blackwell had 1,319 votes and Secor, 1,304. Michael Wornum easily won election with 1,597, and George D. Monardo appeared safe in second spot with 1,378.

The San Anselmo contest in doubt is between a pair of running mates: John M. Reichmuth and Robert E. Rouse, candidates of the San Anselmo Citizens for Good Government. With two council seats at stake in the Hub City, incumbent Mayor Arthur W. Smith easily won re-election with 1,157 votes. With 30 absentees to be counted, Reichmuth had 1,000, and Rouse, 996.

In doubt in Sausalito is whether Michael A. Harris or Carl G. Wooley will fill the third of three seats at stake in the election. In last week's tallk, with 67 absentee votes remaining to be opened, Harris had 744 votes, and Wooley, 712.

INCUMBENTS SAFE

All the council meetings tonight are to begin at 8 o'clock.

After the new council is constituted, the San Anselmo city fathers will tackle two matters held over from the former administration: Whether to allow San Anselmo Garbage Disposal to continue a temporary rate

Anti-Rhee Mobs Battle Police, Army In Korea; Scores Killed

VIOLENCE IN SEOUL—Two policemen in Seoul, South Korea, swung their clubs yesterday as they helped break up a riot staged by opponents of President Syngman Rhee in protest of the Rhee regime's handling of the March 15 presidential election. Demonstrations were continuing today. (AP Wirephoto via radio from Tokyo)

Martial Law Imposed; U.S. Voices Concern

SEOUL, South Korea (Wednesday) (UPI)—Die-hard anti-government rioters battled police and troops into the early dawn today after a day and night of bloody street fighting which held President Syngman Rhee a virtual prisoner in his own presidential palace.

At least 82 were reported dead in Seoul, along with 300 seriously injured. Five were reported killed in the southern port of Pusan.

Two Americans were injured in Seoul.

The government decreed martial law in six Republic of Korea cities to combat mushrooming demonstrations which started as a protest against last month's national elections. The demonstrators charged the elections won by government candidates were fraudulent.

U. S. Ambassador Walter P. McConaughy called on President Rhee to express concern over the rioting and to add the hope the government would take into account "basic causes and grievances behind the disorders."

(In Washington, the United States appealed to the South Korean government and anti-government demonstrators to settle "justifiable grievances" without further bloodshed.

(The State Department endorsed and repeated the statement issued by ambassador McConaughy.

(Department spokesman Lincoln White refused to say whether the United States was suggesting that Korea hold new elections when it urged Rhee to "take account of the basic causes and grievances" behind the demonstrations.

(Secretary of State Christian A. Herter called in Korean Ambassador You Chang Yang to discuss the riots.)

Government troops and armored cars firing at point blank range rolled them back with heavy casualties but the mobs attacked again and again.

A group of 10 trucks assaulted a police box at Tangdong, two miles east of Seoul. Another group in 20 trucks fought a running gun battle with police.

But by morning, most of the city was quiet except for army jeeps and trucks warning over loudspeaker systems against further violence. Citizens were told to remain indoors.

In Pusan, rioters broke through a police barrage of tear gas and rifle fire to tear up police headquarters, smashing windows and furniture and finally setting fire to the building.

Policemen there had to escape over the rooftop to avoid mobs which also burned or destroyed several police vehicles and fire trucks and engines.

Yesterday's wild demonstrations partly were in protest against police violence earlier in Masan and also against the alleged election frauds.

In Seoul, the fighting raged close to American Army installations and homes occupied by Americans but there was no known attack on any of them. U. S. troops were kept in their bases as a precaution.

County Budget Handed To Supervisors

A 213-page volume containing Marin County's proposed budget for the fiscal year 1960-61 was submitted today to the Marin County Board of Supervisors by County Administrator Donald A. Jensen.

Its total for funds affecting the entire county was as previously revealed, $11,747,250, calling for a rate of $2.494 on each $100 of assessed valuation on the secured roll.

To this is to be added $452,315 for county library costs, not affecting the entire county, involving an extra 14.88-cent rate, boosting the total in affected areas to $2.6428.

MEETINGS SET

Jensen said copies had been given to each board member and to all department heads.

The board decided to start daily conferences with department heads on April 27, skipping the next day but thereafter proceeding steadily save for weekends until the final figures are settled upon.

As compiled by County Auditor-Controller Leon A. deLisle, the preliminary figures represent "stringent 'pruning' through budgeting procedures," said Jensen. He said he had subsequently conferred about them with department heads.

Few new services or programs are being recommended, said Jensen, with these exceptions:

MEDICAL CARE

Jensen recommended a full-time medical director to head the county medical department and the nursing staff at hospital and farm, due to annual outlay of $750,000 and staff of 55 employees.

A juvenile bureau is recommended jointly by the sheriff and administrator, initially consisting of two employees.

Jensen recommends a new county collections officer for the auditor's office, on the ground that though establishment of the office will cost $9,300, "collection of just debts" will more than make up.

No budget has been established for mental health, Jensen noted, pending a report to the board from the Mental

San Rafael To Try Parking Fee Plan

San Rafael is all set to try a new method of discouraging all-night parking in residential streets, and at the same time give those without garages the right to park in the street by paying a monthly fee.

On a motion by Dr. Charles W. Aby and a second by Fred Jensen, the city council last night asked the city attorney and city manager to draw up this ordinance:

Everyone, whether he has a garage or not, may park all night in residential streets by paying a parking permit fee of $7.50 per month. Those without permits may not park more than one hour at a time between 2 a.m. and 6 a.m.

Aby reasoned that the $7.50 fee is more than the usual parking fee in town and should tend to make motorists put cars in driveways or garages whereever possible.

On the other hand, those who find it impossible to provide offstreet parking space may still park on streets by paying $7.50 each month and getting a permit card to put in their cars.

Aby suggested that the system of permits be tried for a year or so.

City Atty. Albert E. Bagshaw said this parking permit system may be constitutional because the permit is available to all citizens, just so they put up the fee. A similar Santa Ana ordinance appears unconstitutional, in the city attorney's opinion, because it provides permits for "hardship cases" to be determined by the city treasurer.

The new proposal for San Rafael would not concern itself with "hardship" cases. Everyone who pays $7.50 and has a permit in the car would be exempt. All others would be tagged if they left cars for more than an hour between 2 and 6 a.m.

City fathers indicated that the ban against all-night parking in the downtown business area would continue in effect. Permits would be allowed only for residential areas.

ODDS 60-40 ON BAY AREA RAIN BY TOMORROW

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Sunny skies in Northern California today are expected to yield to cloudiness in the extreme northern areas and showers by tonight in the northwest.

Cloudiness was expected throughout the entire area by tomorrow with falling temperatures in the central region.

In the San Francisco Bay area, there was a 60 per cent chance of rain tomorrow.

U. S. Aims Sharp Words At Castro

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States today called on Prime Minister Fidel Castro of Cuba to realize the danger which "international communism" poses to his and other free countries.

In a statement issued by the State Department, this government also came the closer yet to branding Castro a dictator.

It said one of the hallmarks of dictatorship "such as that of Hitler and Mussolini was the muzzling of the free press." It noted that 95 per cent of Cuba's press "is under government control."

Damage Costs Family New Marin City Home

It was in-and-then-out-again for Mrs. Beulah Augustus and her five children at the new low-rent housing project in Marin City.

Twenty-four hours after moving into their spanking new apartment at 48 Cole drive, the Augustuses today were given three days' notice of eviction by the Marin County Housing Authority.

The rules are strict in the new homes, Mrs. Augustus found.

Bert Klahn, housing authority executive director, said he had received a complaint yesterday of drinking by Mrs. Augustus and three male guests.

He investigated, he said, and found a toilet seat had been torn off and there were fingerprints on the newly painted walls.

The county welfare department placed the four children, ranging in age from 9 to 6, in foster homes. Mrs. Augustus was served notice of eviction today—first to be ousted from the project into which the first residents moved only last Friday. She is separated from her husband.

Declared Klahn:

"This eviction should serve as a warning to all present and future tenants that the housing authority will not tolerate for one minute any violation of the lease agreement or overlook abuse of the property.

NMWD Board To Consider Contract

The meeting, scheduled for 8 p.m., will be held in the district office.

It's Election Day For Two States

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) carries his West Virginia presidential primary campaign to the steel-manufacturing city of Wheeling for factory tours and speech-making.

Kennedy and Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.) are entered in the May 10 West Virginia primary as Democratic presidential candidates. Humphrey is to resume his West Virginia campaigning next week.

Louisiana voters will elect a successor to Gov. Earl K. Long and experts predict ballad-singer Jimmie Davis, a Democrat, will run away with the race.

Many, including Long, feel Davis assured his election in the traditionally Democratic state on Jan. 9 when he defeated New Orleans Mayor deLesseps S. Morrison in a Democratic runoff.

SECOND TRY

Case is seeking his second six-year term in the Senate while Morris is making his second bid for a GOP Senate nomination. He ran third in a three-way primary in 1958.

Case is rated a slight favorite but some Republican observers said Morris gained strength in a campaign they viewed as a scrap between GOP liberals and conservatives.

In West Virginia Kennedy began gringing up religion on his own yesterday instead of waiting for others to ask about it. He said the change in tactics stemmed from his recognition that his Roman Catholic religion is "quite obviously hanging in everybody's mind."

He added: "I just thought that, rather than wait, I'd bring in out into the open."

AREA PRAISED

In Los Angeles, Democratic national chairman Paul Butler toured the city's Sports Arena, site of the 1960 Democratic National Convention, and called it "the greatest convention hall in the country today."

A member of the arrangements committee, Camille F. Gravel Jr., of Alexandria, La., said "I think the whole setup is ideal."

Butler said he will recommend to the committee that the Democratic candidate make his acceptance speech at the final session in the Los Angeles Coliseum which seats upwards of 100,000 persons.

Woman Gains On Sergeants In Walk Race

Dr. Barbara Moore, a vegetarian who walked herself out of her shoes while descending the steep eastern slope of the Sierra Nevada, starts from the Nevada state line 13 miles west of here. She walked 53 miles yesterday over Donner Pass.

Sgt. Patrick Moloney and Mervyn Evans start from a bivouac 10 miles west of Lovelock, 90 miles ahead of Dr. Moore who left San Francisco a day behind them. They did 10 miles less than Dr. Moore during their last stint.

The servicemen said their attempt to beat the record of 79 days for walking across the country is not related to Dr. Moore's hike, and refuse to speed up their schedule of around 45 miles per day to race with her.

But she still thinks she can pass them. David Solomon, her escort, said she plans to cover 65 to 70 miles a day from now on.

"She's feeling stronger than ever," he said.

Dr. Moore, 56, suffered a sore ankle crossing the mountains.

"My escort left me for hours and I didn't have a pair of shoes to change," she said.

"But I'm fresh as a daisy," she added.

Retail prices of food in the United States rose 4.3 per cent from December, 1952, to December, 1958.

THE SENATORS' NO. 1 ROOTER

Special Disarmament Organization Planned

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Eisenhower administration has decided to create a special disarmament organization to mastermind negotiations with the Soviets on arms reduction.

President Eisenhower has given a go-ahead to the project with the aim of upgrading the importance of disarmament policy in the day-to-day conduct of foreign relations.

Experts from many government agencies and departments are to be grouped into a single staff led by a high-ranking chief whose sole responsibility will be development of disarmament strategy.

Their head is to be a distinguished civilian whose background and reputation will give him easy access to all Cabinet officers as well as stature with foreign government leaders.

Authoritative officials who disclosed this today said the decision has no connection with repeated charges by Sen. John Kennedy (D-Mass) that U.S. negotiators "are ill prepared" and "inadequately instructed" for talks with the Soviets. Kennedy is a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Administration leaders began considering this move last November, they said.

Kennedy, in a Wisconsin speech March 25, called upon Eisenhower to create an "arms control research institute" to coordinate government-wide planning, research and development in the disarmament field. He said it should report directly to Eisenhower.

Despite Kennedy's advice, the administration has decided that the new disarmament organization is to be put within the State Department and will not be made part of the President's executive offices.

Article Features San Rafael Lights

San Rafael's new street lights on Fourth street, which have received wide publicity, are illustrated and explained in the April issue of Public Works magazine, published monthly in Ridgewood, N. J.

The article is written by Norris M. Rawles, San Rafael supervisor of public works. Rawles says he believes San Rafael's new lights are second only to those on State street in Chicago. He points out that installation of new 62,000-lumen lights and modernization of the main street provide an answer to the regional shopping center "threat."

Big Fire In Oakland

OAKLAND (AP) — A four-alarm fire destroyed $30,000 worth of scrap lumber, wooden pallets and paint and varnish in a salvage, repair and storage yard yesterday.

Exploding drums and tins of paint and varnish blew high in the air. Flames ate into the lumber piles, roared up 300 feet and covered a square block.

All available fire equipment, including the Oakland fireboat, Navy rigs and two Coast Guard cutters, battled the blaze for an hour. No one was hurt.

Two Slayers Sought

STARVED ROCK STATE PARK, Ill. (UPI)—Police said yesterday an examination of human hair indicated two persons were responsible for the killing of three Chicago women.

Sheriff Ray Eutsey said the hair was found in the left hand of one of the victims, Mrs. Mildred Linquist, and on a glove worn by a second woman, Mrs. Francis Murphy.

Eutsey said technicians at Eastman Kodak Co. at Rochester, N.Y., told him by telephone the hair found on the two women was human but came from different persons.

Historic Note

SHAWNEETOWN, Ill. (AP)—The city of Shawneetown, which is preparing for its sesquicentennial, shares with Washington, D. C., the distinction of being a city plotted by the federal government.

Congress established Shawneetown in 1810 when it authorized a survey to establish a distributing postoffice for the raw frontier territory. The town is located on the Ohio River about 35 miles southwest of Evansville, Ind.

For the next 20 years, Shawneetown was the main cross roads of the frontier territory which later became the states of Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Tennessee and Missouri.

Negro Home Bombed

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI)—An early-morning explosion today wrecked the home of a Negro attorney who has fought many anti-segregation suits here.

Police said a bomb apparently was tossed at or placed under the home of Alexander Looby, a city councilman. The Negro lawyer and his wife, who were asleep in a back room, escaped injury.

The force of the explosion shattered windows for blocks around the Looby home and damaged two houses next door.

The suspension was the first interruption of telecasting in Colombia since the government-controlled network went on the air in 1953.

De Gaulle and his wife arrived in the Canadian capital from Paris last night, beginning a 17-day visit to Canada, the United States and French Caribbean territories.

Man Sent To Prison For Non-Support

A former Marin County resident, who has failed to support his wife and three children since 1957, must serve a maximum of five years in state prison for felony non-support.

Judge N. Charles Brusatori of Marin Superior Court ordered the prison sentence yesterday for Frank Hagain, 44, who was arrested in San Diego and returned to Marin on April 4 after a three-year search.

The judge noted that Hagain has been prosecuted for non-support since 1954 and drew a suspended prison term in 1957 for felony non-support, for which he served a year in county jail. When Hagain got out in 1958, he left the state.

District attorney's investigators William Bemiss and Antoan W. Adam tracked him down to San Diego The investigators estimate that Hagain's family has received about $6,000 in county welfare aid because of Hagain's failure to support them.

Trampolines 'Out' For Corte Madera

The Corte Madera Town Council said a flat "no" last night to a proposal for a trampoline center on Tamalpais drive adjacent to the Corte Madera Shopping Center.

By a 4-to-0 vote, councilmen turned down an appeal from promoters of the center for a reversal of the planning commission's denial of their application to build the center. Councilman Albert E. Kogler was absent.

The councilmen, after considering the matter for an hour, found there was "no reason to reverse the planning commission decision."

TWO-YEAR PERMIT

Jumpolene, Inc., which proposed to build the center, said the planning commission findings were not valid for denial of a conditional use permit. It asked for a permit for two years.

Zoning administrator William McBride, in a letter to the council, said the application did not meet the requirements of the zoning ordinance. No parking area was to be furnished; the proposal called for use of surplus area in the shopping center. And the area was to be enclosed by a six-foot fence, whereas the zoning law requires complete enclosure of facilities such as gymnasiums.

Mayor Roger F. Morse said the proposed center had a "completely unsatisfactory design," calling for principal access off the parking lot.

'NOT PRACTICAL'

"Any sort of situation that would cause a stream of pedestrians to move across a busy parking lot doesn't seem to be practical. It would be inviting an accident every day it is in operation," the mayor said.

Al Silver, secretary of Jumpolene, told the council that trampolines were a very healthful activity. According to statistics of the last eight months, there have been only 42 injuries among four million jumpers, he said.

The center would be a "condition," so it would fit the conditional use section of the zoning ordinance, he claimed.

He noted that other jurisdictions had granted use permits for trampoline centers.

The National Trampoline Assn. soon will have intercity competition in the sport, Silver said. The trampoline center would be a boon to the shopping center, giving parents a place to leave their children, he said.

The traffic problems would exist, whether or not the center is allowed, he added.

A representative of the shopping center said the merchants thought the trampolines would be an attraction to bring people to the center and increase business.

CHARLES K. GLENN

Seminary Students Pick Georgian As President

Charles Kenneth Glenn, a second-year ministerial student from Carlton, Ga., has been elected president of the student body at Golden Gate Baptist Theological Seminary on Strawberry Point for the next academic year.

He succeeds John F. Welch, who will be graduated along with 79 other students April 29.

Glenn won the contest over T. L. Epton, a religious education student, in a runoff after the first ballot had been declared indecisive because no candidate had received the necessary 51 per cent of the votes.

In the initial vote, by secret ballot, Glenn received 87 votes; Epton, 57; Robert Nowell, 22, and James Rigler, 15. In the runnoff, Glenn received 116 to Epton's 63.

An honor graduate of Furman University at Greenville, S.C., Glenn enrolled at Golden Gate in 1958 and this year served as program vice president of the student body and editor of the biweekly student paper, the Strawberry Pointer.

Other officers elected were:

Jack Johnson, Sand Springs, Okla., program vice president; Mrs. George Maeda, Honolulu, social vice president; Joan Garey, West Memphis, Ark., secretary; Jerry Brumbelow, San Antonio, Texas, treasurer; Joe Tarry, Lovington, N.M., historian; Kenneth Glass, Scottsboro, Ala., athletic chairman; Elwyn Gunn, Dallas, Texas, editor, Strawberry Pointer; Jerral Miles, Live Oak, Sutter county, music director; Ramona Kitchens, Glendale, Ariz., pianist, and Mrs. Edward Smith, El Dorado, Ark., organist.

MEMPHIS ZOO SCENE OF JUNGLE DRAMA

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—Midnight, the sleek panther, is behind bars and looking ferocious once again in the safety of its own cage.

The 125-pound animal sprang through a cage door accidentally left open at the Memphis Zoo yesterday, and spent two hours of freedom stalking attendants. It clawed the arm of attendant Charles Headden, 25.

Then the animal, frightened by police with riot guns and an attendant with a shotgun, retreated into a dark closet of a refreshment stand and was trapped.

Way Cleared For Final Passage Of Rights Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Rules Committee cleared the way today for final congressional passage Thursday of civil rights legislation aimed at guaranteeing the voting rights of Negroes.

The committee approved a resolution calling for House acceptance of changes the Senate made in the bill before passing it April 8.

House concurrence in the 16 Senate revisions would send the bill to the White House for President Eisenhower to sign it into law.

The House, which approved its own version of the bill March 24, will receive the Senate measure Thursday on a take-it-or-leave it basis as a result of today's committee action.

The rules committee, which channels legislation to the floor, assured final House passage by permitting the House to act on the measure by a majority vote.

Without rules committee clearance, the House would have required a two-thirds majority to send the civil rights bill to the White House.

Accident Victim Now Reported Satisfactory

Mrs. Pierrette Nordan, who was badly injured when her car overturned on Highway 101 in San Rafael Friday, was reported in satisfactory condition today at San Rafael General Hospital.

Hub Site Eyed For Trampoline Center

The San Anselmo City Council tonight will consider an application of Jumpolene, Inc., for lease of the property where the old Northwestern Pacific Railroad powerhouse was recently demolished. The company, which is seeking trampoline center sites in many communities, propose such a center in the area, which is just off Sir Francis Drake and Center boulevards.

The old brick powerhouse, used for many years for city equipment storage, was torn down early this year. No use is now being made of the property, although surfacing for a parking lot has been discussed.

Jumpolene has received approval of plans for such a center at the Nave Shopping Center in Novato.

An application for a similar trampoline setup at the Corte Madera Shopping Center was turned down last night by the Corte Madera Town Council. Still another application, for a center in Terra Linda, was held for further consideration yesterday by the Marin County Planning Commission.

Trampoline Center Request Delayed

Unofficially, the postponement request was so that developers could study the trampoline center already approved for the Jumpoline Inc., at the Nave Shopping Center, in Novato.

Lagunitas Trustees Set Meeting Back

The Lagunitas School District board will meet at 8 p.m., April 26, in place of a meeting regularly scheduled for this Thursday.

The change, according to Clerk Winifred S. Frederick, was made necessary because there is no chance of having a quorum this Thursday. The board will hold a special meeting Friday at 8 p.m. to discuss the preliminary 1960-61 budget and to evaluate personnel.

Crosses Party Line

Said Maas, after delivery of the $250 phonograph:

Tam Panel To Eye English Program

A committee of Tamalpais Union High School District English teachers will study reorganization of the district's English curriculum in a month-long workshop in August, to come up with a new course of study they hope will be good for at least three years.

The district board last night approved plans for the workshop after hearing a panel presentation on ideas the English teachers want to explore.

Among other things, the teachers want to know:

1. Should a second semester of American literature be required? One semester is now required for juniors.

2. Should the present oral English program be continued as a separate course or incorporated into other courses throughout the three years of English now required?

3. Should a fourth year of English be added to the requirements? Many students take a fourth year now, even though it is not required, the teachers said.

4. Can new research in semantics and linguistics, and the effects of mass media and propaganda be incorporated into the advanced English courses?

At the workshop teachers will do research, discuss their ideas and hear discussions from persons outside the district. In the fall they will present their recommendations to the English teachers to work into their curriculum. During the year a course of study will be developed.

Plans for the workshop were discussed by Robert D. Torrey, director of instructors; Maurie Ballard, Edward C. Bode and Albert L. Lavin, English department chairmen at Redwood, Tamalpais and Sir Francis Drake High Schools, respectively, and Harry L. Belgrade, representative of the district English teachers at large.

Within 12 months, Torrey said, the board probably would be hearing from several other departments with similar requests, particularly the mathematics and language departments.

Not more than 10 teachers will take part in the summer workshop on the English curriculum. They will be paid at a rate not yet determined.

The board hired the following teachers for 1960-61: Karen Andrews, homemaking, Tamalpais High; Robert Baugh, language, Redwood (he is now a substitute at Tamalpais); Freeman D. Blake, social studies, Redwood; Vincent Boyle, English, Drake; Robert Ewen, English, Redwood; Lyle J. Fisher, mathematics, Redwood; David Hawkins, mathematics, Tamalpais; Luverne Lull, business education, Drake; Marilyn Robison, physical education, Drake; John Passone, English, Drake, and Gerald Warren, industrial arts, Tamalpais.

Resignations were accepted from Mrs. Roberta Yankey, a long-term substitute physical education teacher at Drake, effective immediately, and from Harry Worthylake, industrial arts teacher at Tamalpais, effective at the end of this term. Mrs. Joan M. Smith was appointed to replace Mrs. Yankey for the rest of the year.

The board authorized Supt. Chester G. Carlisle to enter a contract for an audit of the district's 1959-60 financial transactions, as required by law.

'DEBATE'

tion Marin Pure Water Committee.

The letter suggested procedure and covered four points:

1. That the resolution be based on "the subject that is being voted on" soon by the people and be worded to include the U.S. Public Health Service's recommendation of fluoridation "at approximately one part per million is a beneficial public health measure to reduce the incidence of tooth decay."

2. That members of the debate teams, two to a side, be qualified local people with no outsiders.

3. That the debate be during the first week of May rather than between May 23 and 27 as suggested by Duff.

4. That a group of scientists weigh the arguments and make a summation of conclusions.

Mrs. Logan suggested a resolution embodying these points. The board recoiled in horror. Sample outbursts:

Chairman Walter R. Castro: "We don't want a hassle. Let's keep it under control, like that Pt. Reyes National Park matter."

Supervisor William Gnoss: "That word 'debate' has caused the feeling that we're going to have a terrific thing."

Supervisor William D. Fusselman: "This board has no place in the picture except to offer a room. It's fantastic. This is before the voters and we should bow out; we have no place in it."

Supervisor Vera Schultz: "I believe we should clarify how the board got into the position of sponsoring the meeting, and withdraw its sponsorship."

Supervisor James Marshall: "Isn't it possible just for both sides to get together and arrange something?"

Mrs. Loran expressed readiness to withdraw if such a discussion wouldn't serve the public interest. Everybody agreed that there was just no telling how the thing got christened "debate."

"I move," said Fusselman, "that any statement in the minutes with reference to fluoridation reflecting action hitherto taken by the board be deleted from the minutes and expunged from the record."

Approval was prompt and unanimous.

Health Advisory Board.

Jensen pointed out that an increase in tax rate for capital improvement from 43.7 to 46 cents is recommended, continuing the basic 42-cent rate for Civic Center and the normal program of setting aside $48,000 for a veterans memorial auditorium.

"An important feature of this budget," said Jensen, "is a revised capital improvement program for board review and decision. This program seeks to outline the complete needs of the county in capital improvements, including recreation and the airport, over the next seven years.

"As a master plan for future development, decision in this respect will be of particular importance."

Due to Novato incorporation, Jensen pointed out, there will be $128,730 less general fund revenue and $90,000 loss in sales tax revenue allocated to roads—but expenditures won't drop proportionately.

Jensen said it's indicated that $70,000 more than last year will be required to bring unappropriated reserve to normal level, and general fund balance is estimated at $147,748 less than last year.

Decision in February to include a one-step 5 per cent salary increase for county employees resulted in net increase of approximately $150,000 in expenditures, Jensen said.

"Marked increases" were noted in costs of departments caring for indigents and delinquents, including 24 per cent boost in the probation department budget, 65 per cent rise in Juvenile Hall budget, 30 per cent boost in general relief and 16 per cent increases in medical department and hospital and farm.

But Jensen said he has recommended decreases of around $120,000 in departmental requests. Nor are county services to Novato provided, though no decrease is given the sheriff's office and planners since both plan to utilize staff freed from Novato work for other jobs.

Richmond Youth's Body Identified

The decomposed body taken from the ocean north of McClure's Beach Sunday has been officially identified as that of 19-year-old Wayne E. Gearhart of Richmond, who fell into a whirlpool March 27, County Coroner Frank J. Keaton today reported.

The demonstrations began early today when thousands of teen-agers massed outside the National Assembly building and began a march on Rhee's official residence. They smashed their way through police barricades and shouted "down with dictatorial government."

The government called in the combat-ready 15th Division and soon armored vehicles were roaring through the streets, raking the rioters with machine gun and cannon fire.

Two Offices Burglarized In San Rafael

Burglars prowled through two doctors' offices at the Professional Medical Center in north San Rafael this morning, ignoring valuable equipment and narcotics but taking petty cash, San Rafael police reported.

Further north, in Novato, thieves broke into the North Bay Garden Supply and Alves Pools at 7596 and 7592 Redwood Highway. A $67 table model radio is missing from the garden supply firm, but nothing seems to be gone from the pool company, sheriff's offices said. A crowbar was used to break a window at Alves Pools. The rear door was pried at the garden supply.

The doctors' offices entered were those of Dr. Gerson Jacobs and Dr. Maurice Salomon at Professional Center Parkway, across Highway 101 from Terra Linda. A cleaning woman from Vallejo discovered the break-in this morning and called police.

Officer Richard Douglas said the theft may have occurred between 2 and 7 a.m. today. Persons who were working late report seeing a car parked near the offices, he said.

Board Creates New Kentfield District Posts

Three posts for acting assistant principals in the Kentfield School District were created by district board members meeting last night.

Named to fill the posts were William Hartley at Adeline E. Kent School, John Richard at Wolfe Grade School, and R. Harold Hybert at Greenbrae School.

DePue reported that interviews had begun to find a principal for the Greenbrae and Wolfe Grade schools, with the field narrowed to five from the original 30 applicants.

In other business, the district board:

1. Heard a report that construction on the first addition to the Wolfe Grade School probably will be completed ahead of the Sept. 5 schedule.

2. Considered preliminary plans for a sport area at the Kent School, to contain two baseball diamonds, a 100-yard track and a field sport area, estimated to cost $12,000.

3. Heard that a sixth grade would be added in September to the Wolfe Grade School, which now has five grades.

4. Appointed George Renworth as principal of the Kentfield summer session. Renworth will move from principal of the Greenbrae-Wolfe Grade schools to become principal of Kent School in September.

5. Heard a report on a proposed eighth grade course in economics. A method of financing the course has not been found.

6. Approved hiring of accountants Weiser, Dreiman and Weseman of Oakland to audit district books.

'LACK OF COURAGE'

Retiring Planner Rips Into Belvedere Council

By DEE DEE ABRAMSON

A retiring Belvedere planning commissioner last night leveled a verbal blast at the Belvedere City Council for what he termed "ineffective action and lack of courage."

Commissioner Thomas L. Wark's outburst came during the commission's discussion of a second proposal for amendment of the subdivision ordinance, which was referred to the commission for its recommendation by the council two weeks ago.

"This is an insult to our intelligence," Wark said. "The mayor (Dr. Robert P. Watkins) bulldozed the council members into giving a vote when they did not have all the facts. I am insulted at both the resolution and its referral to this commission. We did not propose our recommendation lightly."

The planning commission's recommendation to modify the subdivision ordinance to permit construction of homes on pilings on the western tidelands of Belvedere Island was rejected by 3-0 vote of the city council.

"The people of Belvedere are not going to buy this land. . . . With the next tax increases and the sewer bond issue coming up, it is Pollyanna-ish to assume they will," declared Wark.

He added: "This is my last night on the commission and I feel we have been trifled with. We have spent months getting concessions from Belvedere Properties, Inc., which they have given us. I feel the council's decision to give this back to us shows no courage."

Commission Chairman George Goddard nodded vigorously during the outburst. Commissioner Thomas M. Lacey commented: "I do not think this resolution merits any consideration. This accomplishes nothing that the present subdivision ordinance does not accomplish."

Commissioner Joseph C. Marshall added, "What can I say?" Commissioner Kenneth E. Frost was absent.

The resolution, proposed by attorney Carl Hoppe, whose property abuts that of the proposed development, calls for making it "unlawful to subdivide inundated land in Belvedere and unlawful to include any inundated land in lot subdivision." The reslution gave "inadequate fire-fighting eqiupment and destruction of public health, safety and welfare" as reasons for the proposal.

Goddard said, "Now that the election is over, I think the council will get down to brass tacks and we should not be offended by its turning down our resolution. . . . They had other things on their mind." And Wark added, "Yes . . . politicking."

The commission will give the city council at tonight's adjourned meeting copies of the three engineering reports on the proposed subdivision.

Washington Firms Prepare To Begin Nicasio Dam Job

Marin County's prospects are for abundant water supply during at least the next few years, Marin Municipal Water District officials indicated today as preparations started for immediate construction of the Nicasio dam by low bidders who received their contract yesterday.

Check of the bid of three Washington state firms showed it in order although nearly a million dollars under engineering estimates. The contract accordingly went for $1,780,569 to Cherf Brothers, Inc., Sandkay Construction, Inc., and Cheney Construction, jointly, when the award was made at 4 p.m. yesterday.

This group, lowest of eight bidders, is expected to be under way by May 1 to complete the job under a penalty-clause arrangement in early December.

This, it was explained, means that rainfall of the 1960-61 season can be impounded in a reservoir with a maximum capacity of 7,500,000,000 gallons —largest in the county and comparing with a top limit in the present largest, Kent Lake, of 5,500,000,000 gallons.

Construction will entail erection of a dam embankment and spillway, installation of outlet pipe and inlet structure, and relocation of the Pt. Reyes-Petaluma county highway.

It was on this last item that the low bidders scored heavily below estimates, setting a figure of $952,775 as against the $1,625,546 which had been estimated.

Planners Delay Action On Drake's Bay Tract

Marin County planning commissioners agreed yesterday to postpone consideration of a "resort type" subdivision at Drake's Bay to their May 2 meeting.

Members agreed they were not well enough acquainted with the proposed project and noted that developers are asking many exceptions to subdivision requirements.

Consideration of the proposed Drake's Bay work, some 50 acres about four miles southwest of Inverness Park at the southeast end of Limantour Spit, took up an hour of the afternoon meeting at the county office building on Grand avenue in San Rafael.

Promoting the subdivision is a corporation which includes 10 persons, San Francisco attorney Benjamin P. Bonelli explained after the hearing.

Among concessions asked for the proposed development are requests that no sidewalks be constructed "because of the nature of the project," that roads be private, that no curbs and gutters be constructed "because of the nature" of the project.

Most important to the commissioners was the request that the tentative map submitted yesterday be approved without specific plans for sewage disposal and water availability.

Bonelli countered by saying the soil in the area is appropriate for septic tank use. Water is available from a creek in the area, which has a 1,000-acre watershed controled by the subdividers, he said.

A letter from the Marin County Fire Department noted that no water storage was provided on the map. The letter recommended six-inch mains instead of the minimum four-inch one.

Road grades need not be as steep as the planned 16 per cent grade, there are as few as possible roads for the number of lots, no soil tests indicate the area's suitability for septic tanks and road access was doubtful, with some very narrow access stretches interspersed with wider ones, VanPelt said.

Bonelli answered that he had no "worries" about suitability of septic tanks, and that a reputable firm had designed the subdivision.

Tract Map Approved

The San Anselmo Planning Commission last night approved a tentative map for the portion of Rafael Club Estates that will be in San Anselmo.

The 55-acre subdivision, planned for a hillside that straddles San Rafael and San Anselmo, will include a clubhouse.

A total of 24 lots will be in San Anselmo. Developers are John J. Farrar and William Batey of Key-Marin Realty. The San Rafael Planning Commission already has approved the portion of the tract in San Rafael.

The action taken last night is scheduled to be reviewed by the San Anselmo City Council May 3.

Ross Meeting Delayed

The Ross School Board did not meet last night as scheduled because of lack of a quorum. Supt. Stephen Parodi said the meeting has been re-scheduled for 8 o'clock tonight at the school.

Rebel Force Boldly Attacks Town In Cuba

HAVANA (UPI) — An insurgent band of troops believed led by ex-Maj. Manuel Beaton attacked the East Cuban city of Palma Soriano today in one of the boldest moves yet carried out by the anti-Castro forces.

Reports from Oriente province said the insurgents battled government troops for half an hour before being repelled. The reports said the government troops took some prisoners but there was no immediate confirmation here.

The attack was considered significant here because of its very boldness, with the insurgents daring to come out of the Sierra Maestra mountains in a hit-run raid. Premier Fidel Castro has been personally directing operations against the guerrillas.

Castro returned to Havana yesterday and ran into reports of new opposition. Today he resumed his attacks on the United States and said President Eisenhower had "no right" to speak out against him, the Cuban revolution or the Cuban government.

AT RESERVE MEET — Capt. John D. Reiner, Naval Reserve, of Lafayette, who is president of the Department of California, Reserve Officers Assn., will preside at the department's 32nd annual convention April 29, 30 and May 1 at Bermuda Palms in San Rafael.

Annexation Petition Accepted By Board

The acceptance will be forwarded to the Marin County Board of Supervisors for its approval, according to secretary Samuel A. Fletcher.

THEY HAD THEIR RUNNING LIGHTS ON

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The Coast Guard received a call to investigate an eerie green light several feet above the Mississippi River and moving downstream.

Out went a 40-footer with a full crew. The boat caught up with the green glow early yesterday, 14 miles south of New Orleans.

It was a swarm of lightning bugs.

Population Surge Seen As Causing Boom In Building

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—President John Noble Richards of the American Institute of Architects said yesterday that "in the next 40 years we will have to double everything we have now—homes, schools, hospitals, factories and so on," because of the population growth.

"Space is our most precious commodity.

"I think there will be more vertical building, more multi-story apartments with open areas behind. Also I think there'll be a reaction among the people against tract homes."

Alto Project Given Conditional Approval

Marin County planning commissioners looked long and decided yesterday to approve an addition to the Goodman Building Supply Co., Alto, if . . .

The addition to the building supply layout at 775 Redwood highway was approved after a 40-minute discussion.

Mrs. Mary Summers, planning director, told the board that if the yard was allowed to continue to operate, it would be the only industrially zoned area on the Redwood highway from Sausalito to Corte Madera.

Commissioners discussed the long history and "why" of the zoning, then voted to approve a smaller and lower addition than requested, with provisions that a foliage screen be planted on the frontage road, that it be painted a subdued color, and that lumber storage be discontinued in the non-conforming part of the yard land.

In other business, the commission:

1. Tentatively approved a change in building plans for the Mariner Oaks apartment development in Tiburon, noting that the new plans kept to the aim of the original. Tentative approval was given, pending legal advice on methods needed to change approval of plans.

2. Continued to the next meeting a hearing on unapproved grading 6 -shrd in a portion of Las Colindas Unit 6.

3. Approved a tentative map of Red Hill subdivision Unit 2, if sidewalks are provided on both sides of the street.

4. Approved construction of a self-service laundry on the southwest side of the Redwood highway just north of the DeLucchi Fish and Poultry Market, Ignacio.

5. Set for the May 2 meeting a hearing on a petition to rezone from commercial to apartment on Labrea way between Pt. San Pedro road and Adrian way in Santa Venetia.

6. Approved plans for construction of a five-unit apartment house in the Golf Links Tract on Merrydale road north of San Rafael.

7. Approved an application from Carmen Webb for establishment of a restaurant at the intersection of Carrie and First streets, Tomales, subject to architectural supervision and the provision that any other future use on that site be reviewed by the commission.

8. Approved plans of Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. for a building to house telephone communication equipment on Highway 1 near First street, Tomales. The building will be a small wood frame structure.

9. Approved plans for construction of a four-plex in Marin Terraces Subdivision 2 just west of 11 Homestead boulevard, Mill Valley.

10. Approved the addition of a second-story to an existing residence at 387 Pine Hill road, Tamalpais Valley, without provision of on-site parking.

11. Postponed to the May 2 meeting decision on whether to allow Douglas M. Christensen to build a home with an overhanging deck jutting beyond the property line on a hillside lot in Kent Woodlands.

YOUNGSTERS FIND INDIAN BONES

Harbor Loans Approval Near, Mill Valley Told

Engineer Jesper C. Strandgaard told the Mill Valley Parks and Recreation Commission last night that "within a couple of weeks we should have complete approval of both the feasibility report and the loans for the Mill Valley small craft harbor."

Strandgaard, with his associate Stanley M. Bala, has prepared the feasibility report.

The engineer said Mill Valley has taken the first steps to purchase land needed for the harbor by making the first agreement last Friday to buy some land from Herb Shapiro. Strandgaard said a condemnation suit is to be filed for about an acre of the Alexander property.

The city feels, he added, that it will be possible to make negotiated purchases of the Biggio, Bothin and Bowd properties, totaling about 15 acres.

Strandgaard said Mill Valley is the only city in California applying for these loans which has submitted final plans. "We should be in good shape," he said.

A special meeting of the commission has been set at 7:30 p.m., next Monday to discuss capital outlay and the summer recreation program, according to Mrs. Lee Collor.

The commission also:

1. Heard a report from William Wood that some of the wood has rotted in the municipal golf clubhouse and it will be necessary to replace some of the foundation and put in a concrete retaining wall, for which the city has authorized spending $400.

2. Went on record saying no commercial sign should be displayed on any park or recreation facility.

3. Decided to review the caterer-custodian contract at the golf club with the idea of reducing the loss of revenue to the city.

4. Authorized the city manager to replace the meters at the municipal tennis courts.

5. Studied an over-all plan of municipal golf clubhouse remodeling submitted by Carl Book, Mill Valley architectural designer. The plans, with work donated by Book, will be sent to the architectural advisory committee for consideration.

Man Jumps To Death From Window

Jay Derlen, 54, owner of Novato Upholstery, leaped to his death last night out of a second story window of his hospital room at San Rafael General Hospital.

Deputy County Coroner Harold Keaton said Derlen dropped about 30 feet to the pavement on the east side of the hospital and apparently died instantly. He had been ailing for a long time with a heart condition.

Keaton said Derlen had been despondent because of his long illness but had never actually threatened suicide.

His family had visited him earlier last night. The nurse looked in, then left. About 8 p.m., Derlen's window was open, and he was gone from his bed.

Funeral arrangements are pending.

Marin Boy Turns Up In Tennessee

The boy hitchhiked to Nashville and apparently intends to stay there and go to school, the chief said.

San Rafael Businessmen Plan Advertising Program

Fifty San Rafael businessmen met for breakfast today in the Independent-Journal Building and voted unanimously to conduct a community-wide institutional advertising program.

Al McLeod, chairman of the retail merchants committee of the Greater San Rafael Chamber of Commerce, said the program will begin as soon as a special advertising subcommittee lays out the plans. The program will probably begin with a series of newspaper display ads and, after about a year, may also include billboards, radio time, direct mail and folders.

"Our trading area," said McLeod, "is now ready for such a program because we are anticipating the huge population expansion within the next few years. Moreover, we must also educate many Marinites who work in 'the City' that their wants can be filled in our places of business."

Irving Chapman, who presented the rough layouts of the advertising campaign, said such a program will not only build business traffic, but will encourage new capital investments.

Charles Catania emphasized that the big problem is to educate Marinites that they can be served here.

Other items discussed briefly were improvement of parking and traffic flow, improved customer service, revitalized sales promotion events, store modernization efforts and the attractions of new stores.

A. F. Schmitz was named chairman of the new advertising committee.

Novato Planners To Meet Tonight

The Novato Planning Commission, which became an official body on April 13, will hold its organizational meeting tonight at 8 o'clock in the city hall.

The meeting is primarily a study session with Mrs. Mary Summers, county planning director. A permanent commission chairman will be selected, according to acting chairman Harley McAskill.

There is a 300-mile stretch of straight railroad track in Australia—between Port Pirie and Kalgoorlie.

COUNCIL ROUNDUP

Opposition Fails To Block Subdivision

Opposition by residents of Elkin Court last night failed to block a four-lot subdivision in San Rafael off Scenic avenue behind the Elkin Court homes.

Last month the city planners approved the subdivision proposed by John Farrar and his engineer, Robert Kane, who agreed to widen an existing water district road from the present 12 feet to 15 feet. Kane pointed out that use of the road is the only way to develop the four lots, and it is not economically feasible to widen the road to more than 15 feet.

Residents of Elkin court appealed to the city council last night. Councilmen said they think the road is too narrow, but since they could see no other feasible way to develop the land, they took no action. This means Farrar may proceed with the subdivision.

In other actions last night, the city council:

1. Bought a fire truck chassis for $2,578.12 from Ames Ford Sales. This was the lowest legal bid from among four auto dealers. DeLong Chevrolet submitted a lower bid of $2,311.60. However, it was tossed out because it was not accompanied by the required 10 per cent bond.

2. Called for bids on an estimated $28,250 project to install a storm drain on Lindaro street from Woodland avenue to Second street.

3. Asked Norris Rawles, public works director, to draw up a list of particulars on what must be done to bring an unaccepted portion of Elizabeth way up to city standards. About 300 feet of Elizabeth way, between Fairhills Manor and San Rafael Highlands, installed by Lloyd Grandi, was never accepted by the city. City Atty. Albert E. Bagshaw said the city can set up an assessment district to improve the road and assess the cost on a front-foot basis. He reported that Grandi offered to repave the road but said other improvements required by the public works department cannot be met. Rawles will specify the requirements.

4. Asked the public works department to submit some sketches showing "Welcome to San Rafael" signs to be posted at the entrance to the city. Councilman Louis H. Baar proposed a six-by-four foot redwood sign that will cost about $210. He said he knows of someone who is willing to donate about $1,100 for the signs. Mayor John F. McInnis said he has heard that someone may even donate four times that amount.

5. Councilman Baar reported that a council committee and B street merchants are working on a possibility of bringing diagonal parking to the west side of B street on this condition: That sidewalks would be cut back four feet at merchants' expense, thus widening the street to allow diagonal parking on one side.

State's Sheriffs For Death Penalty

Undersheriff Michael N. Canliss of San Joaquin County, secretary-treasurer of the California State Sheriffs Assn., said today this stand was taken in one of several resolutions adopted at the 66th annual convention at Palm Springs.

The death penalty, the sheriffs concluded, is a deterrent to many professional criminals who otherwise would use unnecessary force in the commission of ordinary crimes.

Actors Approve Pact

More than 1,500 guild members, meeting in the Hollywood Palladium last night, voted unanimous approval of the agreement reached April 8.

Ratification means the studios are free to begin work on new productions.

Pt. Reyes Park Debate

The San Rafael Lions Club will have its own debate tomorrow on whether the Pt. Reyes Peninsula should become a national park. Lothar Salin will present the "pros" and Bryan McCarthy, the "cons," at a luncheon meeting at 12:15 p.m. at Travelers Inn, with Gordon Phillips as moderator.

West Marin Holds District Merger Meet

The first of three meetings on possible unionization or unification of school districts in West Marin was held last night at Point Reyes Station.

It was a meeting of the augmented committee of the Marin County Committee on School District Organization, and most of the trustees of school districts from Bolinas to Sonoma County were present.

The meeting was mostly introductory in content. Procedures were outlined on what the county committee must do in order to get up a study for recommendation of changes.

County school office representatives pointed out that the study does not, at this time, propose to recommend one district for the entire area, but rather, probably will recommend several districts.

A second meeting will be held at 8:30 p.m., May 16, at Tomales High School, but no recommendation will be made until after a third meeting.

Clubs Agree To Sponsor Seniors' Day

Marin Rod and Gun Club and San Rafael Rotary Club today announced they will jointly sponsor "Marin Seniors Day" on June 2 at the Rod and Gun Clubhouse and picnic grounds at Pt. San Quentin.

The event will be for all senior citizens of the county, without charge. There will be fishing from the club pier, and a chicken barbecue luncheon. Games will be in progress throughout the day.

The event is scheduled to start at 9 a.m. and continue until 4 p.m. Prizes will be awarded to seniors attending, said Manny Charnow, chairman.

William T. Bagley, secretary of the Marin Seniors Coordinating Council, will be chairman of the host committee. J. P. O'Connell of San Anselmo will be master of ceremonies, assisted by Don Bennett of Larkspur.

Special invitations are being issued to residents of the Marin County Hospital and Farm and to organized groups of senior citizens, said Charnow.

Tickets for the day's activities are available to all senior citizens free from Charnow.

Giacomo Puccini, Italian composer of "La Boheme," "La Tosca" and other popular operas, died in 1924.

ST. BERNARD ON WRONG END OF THE RESCUE

MT. BALDY (AP) — His faithful St. Bernard didn't come to Don Palmer's aid when he got stranded on a mountain ledge near Mt. Baldy.

Palmer followed the deputies down a steep 1,000-foot cliff. The rescuers carried the 165-pound Simon Bolivar in a litter, people style, all the way.

Plastic Bags Still Taking Their Toll

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Filmy plastic bags continue to suffocate one child a month in California despite a 1959 law requiring a warning label, the state Public Health Department reported today.

Twelve children died in 1959 of suffocation directly connected with plastic film products, and two such deaths have been recorded in the first three months of 1960, the department said.

In addition, there have been 28 suicides in which plastic film products were involved.

Map Of Tract Wins Approval From Planners

Tentative map for a six-lot subdivision on Palm avenue between Olive and Magnolia won approval of the San Rafael Planning Commission at a special meeting yesterday afternoon.

The commission granted the approval to the subdivision to Edward W. Burgar Inc. and George Wark on these conditions: The cul-de-sac leading into the subdivision from Palm would have 26 feet of paving, three-foot sidewalk all around the curb, not setback variance on Palm avenue but a five-foot setback variance on homes facing the cul-de-sac.

A group of residents, headed by Dr. Rafael G. Dufficy, who opposed the subdivision originally, agreed that the project would be acceptable with these conditions.

The planners also gave architectural approval for a new storage and sales building for Sherwin-Williams Paint Co. The new building will go up on the southwest corner of Third and Brooks streets.

Ends Recruit Training

Kenneth C. Barnes, Navy apprentice petty officer second class of Tomales, has been graduated from nine weeks of recruit training at the San Diego Naval Training Center.

Planners In Larkspur To Consider Rezoning

The Larkspur Planning Commission for the fifth consecutive time, at 8 o'clock tonight, will consider a petition by Schultz Building Co. for rezoning of about 37 acres on Bon Air Hill in Greenbrae.

At the last four commission meetings, two members have been absent. A four-fifths favorable vote is required for rezoning.

The commission also will hear an application by James Stockman, proprietor of the Edgewater Inn, for a variance to permit a bill board on the west side of Highway 101 just within the City of Larkspur. The commission gave Stockman permission to erect the sign at its meeting April 5, then discovered later that the property was zoned residential and not, as it thought, industrial.

Stockman had been forced to remove a billboard from a site in Corte Madera because it was non-conforming.

Several other items postponed from previous meetings will come before the commission again.

They include plans of Eugene Bissatini for a six-unit apartment house at Hillcrest and Bayo Vista avenues; the tentative map of Piedmont Terrace, an 11-lot subdivision between Chevy Chase and Piedmont road, and a request for business rezoning of a residential lot immediately south of the Garden Spot nursery at 1144 Magnolia avenue.

Marin City Organ Concert Scheduled

The First Presbyterian Church of Marin City will present Wilbur Russell, minister of music at San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo, in an organ concert at 8:30 p.m. Saturday.

The concert will be in the Marin City lounge. Russell will be accompanied by the bell choir of San Anselmo and the First Presbyterian church choir.

A new organ, recently purchased by thec hurch, will be dedicated at the concert.

A dinner in the auditorium will precede the concert, according to Harry Bailey. He said persons wishing to make reservations should see Mel Unruh of 103 Woodland avenue, San Anselmo, or James Quiett or Jesse Berry of Marin City.

Parking Area Offered At Corte Madera Wye

The state Division of Highways is willing to lease a 1.1 acre parcel of land at the Corte Madera traffic interchange on Highway 101 to the Town of Corte Madera or to private enterprise for parking purposes, the town council learned last night.

The land, previously used by commuters for parking their cars before boarding buses to San Francisco, was fenced recently by the state. The council then asked the Division of Highways for reconsideration of this action.

LETTER READ

In a letter read last night, J. P. Sinclair, assistant state highway engineer, said it was to the state's best interest to see that the parcel was fenced. The state's intention was to see that the property be returned to local tax rolls as soon as possible, he added.

He pointed out that the state cannot expend gasoline tax funds to provide parking.

Sinclair said a drainage ditch running the length of the property was a definite hazard. In the past the state has had problems from damages and injuries suffered by individuals trespassing, he added.

The engineer said the state had planned to offer the "excess" land for sale at public auction. When the town indicated interest in buying it, the state canceled plans to sell at auction.

PRICE TOO HIGH

(The state put a $28,000 price tag on the property, however, and the council decided against the purchase.)

Last month the town zoned the property as a low-density one-family residential district.

The state still wants to dispose of the property, Sinclair said, and would be willing to consider leasing for parking purposes, if a variance were made for such a use.

Town Manager Arthur H. Brandow said there was still shoulder parking available at the interchange at peak periods.

The matter was referred to the planning commission on suggestion of Mayor Roger F. Morse. The commission will get in touch with representatives of improvement associations east of the highway to get their recommendations on what should be done.

Police Chief Frank L. Nelson in a memorandum to the council, recommended that deliberate or flagrant violations of the town's burning ordinance be prosecuted.

Mayor Morse noted that it was a burden on taxpayers to have to turn out fire equipment if a fire was caused by a violation, rather than an accident. Violation of the ordinance is a misdemeanor punishable by a maximum of $100 fine or 30 days in jail, or both. The recommendation was referred to the police and fire committee for review.

The council, after a public hearing, adopted an ordinance which changes the composition of the board of adjustment from three planning commissioners to two commissioners and one at-large member.

Another ordinance was introduced which provides that all land being annexed to the town be zoned as "R1A," low-density residential district, until it is zoned to conform with the general plan. A public hearing will be held May 16.

The council also:

1. Cancelled a previous request to the Public Utilities Commission to hold in abeyance a public hearing on crossing signals of the railroad on Tamal Vista boulevard. An agreement has been signed with Paganini and Fifer interests for installation of flashing signals at their expense if the traffic situation makes them necessary before 1968.

2. Approved an agreement with Reed School District for a Marin Estates playground project. The district is to buy the equipment and the town will install and maintain it.

3. Approved a stop sign policy setting up procedures for determining when a stop sign is necessary.

There are no railroads in Iceland.

Frank Lane Explains Controversial Trades

NEW YORK (AP)—The real reason Frank Lane, dynamic general manager of the Cleveland Indians, traded away slugger Rock Colavito and Herb Score, once appraised as a million-dollar pitcher, was that he was simply fed up with both of them.

In an exclusive telephone interview with the Associated Press today, Lane frankly told why, on successive days, he swapped outfielder Colavito to Detroit for Harvey Kuenn, and left-hander Score to the Chicago White Sox for Barry Latman, a 23-year-old unproven right-hander.

Lane did not say directly he was fed up with the two players but he candidly explained the shortcoming of each and told why he believes, contrary to general opinion, the trades greatly improve the Indians.

Among other things, Lane intimated that the departure of Colavito and Score, long-time buddies and roommates, would result in greater harmony on the Indians. He believes Colavito is an overrated player and that Score has slipped to the point where he was useless to the club.

Laue emphasized, however, that he still regards both as fine young men and has no personal grievance against either.

"Joe Gordon doesn't like me," Lane said Score told him. "He doesn't have any sympathy for me. I'd like to be traded to a manager who is more sympathetic."

That just about made up Lane's mind.

"When Herb began to look for sympathy," Lane said, "I knew we couldn't keep him any longer. As a matter of fact, I told Herb that if he wanted Joe to like him all he had to do was win some games for us."

Lane attributed Score's failure to win in recent years to a mental condition. Score's record last year was 9-11.

"It's more psychological than physical," he said. "I believe he still hasn't gotten over that terrible eye injury he suffered in 1957 when he was struck by a line drive hit by Gil McDougald. He keeps thinking it could happen again.

"I don't think Score is through. I just think he can't win for Cleveland. Maybe he'll pitch more effectively in Chicago with the bigger park and a manager like Al Lopez who knows him and likes him and may give him more sympathy."

As for the Colavito-Kuenn trade, Lane has a lot to say.

"I made a survey this spring of eight or nine of the league's best pitchers. Without mentioning the pitchers' names, I asked them to name the most dangerous hitters and the toughest to pitch to. Rocky was high on the list of most dangerous but the pitchers agreed they can get him out with certain pitches.

"Every pitcher rated Kuenn as either the toughest or the second toughest to pitch to with men on bases. Rocky was far down the list.

"Rocky helped us only when he hit a home run. His other weaknesses detract from his value. He is slow, his arm is erratic, he is not the best outfielder, and he can't move up a runner. When he doesn't hit a home run, he either strikes out, flies out, or grounds the ball to the left side of the infield. He doesn't know the first thing about the hit-and-run. He is always swinging for homers. They glamorize Rocky but don't help the club.

"The fans remember only the home run. They don't see the liabilities. I can see Rocky hitting 50 to 55 home runs in Detroit and still he will not be as valuable as Kuenn. That's because Kuenn is the more complete player.

"Detroit doubtless is chortling with glee over getting Colavito. They may not do so when they realize his home runs don't necessarily win games. We had him. We know."

EX-NAVY END SIGNS WITH OAKLAND PROS

OAKLAND (AP) — The Oakland Raiders' passing-catching combination will consist in the main of quarterback Paul Larson and end Ron Beagle.

Beagle, an All America end at Navy in 1954 and 1955, signed yesterday to play for his former coach, Eddie Erdelatz. Larson, the nation's leading collegiate passer in 1953, signed a contract with the American Football League team Saturday.

Larson, ex-California ace, played with the Chicago Cardinals in 1957.

Beagle spent the last four years as a Marine Corps officer. Erdelatz called him the best end he had coached in his nine years at Annapolis.

Playing with the Raiders will be the 6 foot 1 athlete's first try at professional football. He is 26 and weighs 195.

Ingo, Patterson Ready To Sign For Title Fight

NEW YORK (AP)—If the lawyers clear up the details, heavyweight champion Ingemar Johansson and Floyd Patterson may be able to sign official contracts late today for their return fight at the Polo Grounds June 20 or 22.

"I hope so," said the unbeaten Swede, who arrived last night from Switzerland. "From what I understand everything is supposed to be ready. I want to fly back to Swizerland tomorrow and start hard training."

AGREEMENT

According to the promoters, Feature Sports Inc., one of the major barriers in the way of the fight was cleared yesterday when FSI reached an agreement for the purchase of all stock of Floyd Patterson Enterprises. This stock is held by Patterson and his manager, Cus D'Amato.

The manager is unlicensed in New York but the ex-champion has said he will fight in New York whether D'Amato is in his corner or not.

OBSTACLES

Two other obstacles have to be cleared by the promoters, however, before they can get around to the important business of selling tickets and the television rights.

First, the state athletic commission wants to get a long look at the contracts.

Gen. Melvin Kruelewitch, commission chairman, said every word will be inspected to make sure everything is clear and above board before approval is given.

CONFERENCE

Another state agency was deeply concerned. Attorney General Louis Lefkowitz called in all of the principals for a conference today to discuss some of the hangovers of the first fight last Juue 26.

Among those requested to appear were Johansson, his adviser Edwin Ahlquist, Patterson, D'Amato, FSI president Roy Cohn, and their attorneys.

Sign or not, Johansson and Patterson are getting an education. If the legal-beagling keeps up, they may qualify for law degrees before they step into the ring.

Giants, Dodgers Ready For Year's 1st 'Crucial'

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — It's Giant-Dodger time again, with San Franciscans aching for revenge over the world champions from Los Angeles.

The two National League leaders, each 4-1, opened a two-game set today in new Candlestick Park.

The Dodgers beat the Giants 14 of 22 games last season and won nine here in Seals Stadium.

The Giants were leading the league by two full games when the Dodgers came to town with eight games left last season.

Roger Craig beat Johnny Antonelli 4-1, Don Drysdale whipped Mike McCormick 5-3, Johnny Podres bested Sam Jones 8-2 and the Giants were out of the lead. They never recovered from the sweep, finishing third.

Podres, a southpaw who whipped the San Franciscans three-for-three in 1959, today opposes southpaw Billy O'Dell, late of Baltimore.

O'Dell, 10-12 in the American League last season, pitched and lost to Chicago in relief last Thursday night. Podres is still 0-0; and was 14-9 in '59.

The Giants are running this season, eight stolen bases in nine attempts, and it will be interesting to see if manager Bill Rigney keeps them moving against Dodger catcher John Roseboro.

Roseboro is the guy who nailed the Chicago White Sox in the World Series every time they started for second.

Manager Walt Alston indicated rookie Tommy Davis, leading hitter in the Pacific Coast League last season, would start in right field in place of Duke Snider, who had little success with southpaws (.133) last season.

Alston however, has left-handed hitters who murder the leftys—Wally Moon hit .391 against them while Norm Larker was .360.

TAM FAVORED AS MCAL RACE OPENS FRIDAY

Tamalpais Indians, champions of the Marin County Athletic League's recent tournament, are favored to win the league round-robin title in the pennant race that begins this Friday.

Three games are on tap, including a double-header at San Rafael's Albert Field. The twin-bill starts off with Novato against Redwood at 4 o'clock and the nightcap at 6 o'clock features Marin Catholic against San Rafael's Bulldogs.

HALLANDALE, Fla. (AP) — Carry Back ($6.70) set a track record of 57 3/5 seconds for 5 furlongs yesterday in the feature at Gulfstream Park.

Montana Ready For 1st Title Bout Since '23

The snow-capped Rockies provide a backdrop for one of the most usual fight promotions in years. Men in high-heeled cowboy boots and 10-gallon hats are debating the merits of champion Gene Fullmer and challenger Joey Giardello who meet tomorrow night for the National Boxing Assn. version of the world middleweight title in the Montana State College fieldhouse.

Not since Jack Dempsey and Doc Kearns sacked Shelby in 1923 for the heavyweight match with Tom Gibbons has a title bout been staged within the boundaries of this mountain state. The bitter taste of that costly production in Shelby, some 200 miles away, still lingers.

Nobody will go broke this time. Thanks to the television sponsors who are putting up a reported $100,000 and a booming gate sale that already has produced $85,000, the promotion appears to be a guaranteed success.

Giardello, a 12-5 underdog, has finished training at Livingston, some 25 miles to the east.

TED TIES GEHRIG MARK — Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox is greeted by teammate Gary Geiger (37) as he crosses the plate after hitting a homer in the second inning of yesterday's American League opener in Washington. It was Ted's 493rd homer in his long major league career, and tied him with the late Lou Gehrig of the Yankees in fourth place on the all-time home run total list. Ahead of them are Babe Ruth (714), Jimmy Foxx (534) and Mel Ott (511). (UPI Telephoto)

LAST TIME ALL SEASON?

Washington Senators Lead Loop On Opening-Day Win

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

The American League starts its 60th season in four cities today with everybody trying to catch the Washington Senators.

An estimated 125,000 fans should turn out in good weather hoping for at least partial answers to three big questions:

Are the New York Yankees really that bad?

The American League, left at the post when the National League started its race on April 12, staged its "presidential opener" before President Eisenhower in Washington, D.C., yesterday when Camilo Pascual set a club record of 15 strikeouts in a 10-1 victory over the Boston Red Sox. Washington fans thus were assured of rooting for a first-place team at least one day of the season.

Pascual, whose 17-10 record and six shutouts stamped him as a star last season, pitched a three-hitter and his 15 strikeouts broke the club mark of 14 held by Walter Johnson and Jim Shaw. The Red Sox' run resulted from the 493rd homer of Ted Williams' career — tying Lou Gehrig's lifetime total. Jim Lemon, Bob Allison, Earl Battey and Billy Consolo homered for the Senators.

An estimated 35,000 fans will see the White Sox open at home against the Kansas City Athletics, but the day's top crowd —about 40,000—is expected at Cleveland's Municipal Stadium where the fans apparently are debating whether to hoist the American Flag or Frank Lane to the centerfield flag pole.

The Indians will have American League batting champion Harvey Kuenn playing centerfield and batting second while the Tigers will have ex-Cleveland favorite Rocky Colavito in right field and batting fifth. Kuenn and Colavito were the principals in Sunday's senational trade that brought the fury of many Cleveland fans down on Lane's head.

A crowd of about 20,000 will see the Yankees open against the Red Sox in Boston and another 30,000 will see the Senators play the Orioles in Baltimore.

Early Wynn, 40, a 22-game winner in 1959, has been named to pitch for the White Sox against 16-game winner Bud Daley, a left-handed knuckleballer who beat the A.L. champs three times last season. Minnie Minosa and Gene Freese, two of the Sox' important winter acquisitions, will be in left field and at third base respectively when Chicago takes the field. Ex-Yankees Hank Bauer and Norm Siebern will make their debuts for Kansas City.

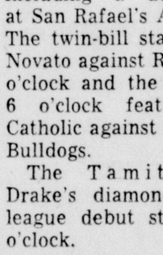
Can You Afford Their Services?



These days, sickness or accident might readily require the services of doctors, nurses and other persons.

That is why Metropolitan is introducing two new policies which aim to help meet these heavy costs.

It, too, is designed to help you obtain necessary medical care in serious circumstances. And also provides payment towards "at home" medical expenses. Both these policies are at a cost within the average budget.

Your Metropolitan Representative will be glad to tell you in detail all the features of these two policies . . . so why not call him today?

CALIFORNIA OUTDOORS

Poor Salmon Rapidly Losing Their 'Homes'

Why?

Listen to Walter T. Shannon, director of the California Department of Fish and Game:

"As California's population has mushroomed, there has arisen a constantly increasing need for dwellings, industry, water diversions, hydroelectric power, more intensive agriculture, highways and other appurtenances of modern human civilization.

"Haste, lack of knowledge and indifference have often permitted these developments to come about with little regard for fish and wildlife."

"So what,?" you say.

IMPORTANT RESOURCE

"The salmon resource is important to this state in a number of ways. It supplies recreation to a great number of citizens and provides economic benefits to sporting goods suppliers, boat renters, motels, restaurants, gasoline stations and other associated businesses.

"The commercial fishing industry supplies a livelihood for 1,800 fishermen fishing from 1,600 boats. This contributes to the economic welfare of many seaside fishing communities of the state."

Shannon said that in 1956 the value of commercial salmon landings to fishermen was nearly four million dollars and sport fishermen spent 150,000 angler days fishing for salmon. It costs the average salmon angler $16 a day when he is out fishing, for a total annual expenditure of $2,400,000.

The villain, so far as the salmon is concerned, is the gravel industry, which removes spawning gravels from stream beds.

SPAWNING CONDITIONS

1. Water of high quality and oxygen content, free from silt, abrasive and toxic materials and with a temperature below 57 degrees.

2. Water depth an average of two feet.

3. Water velocity of about two feet per second.

4. Gravel of various sizes up to 12 inches in diameter, relatively free of fine materials so as to permit a flow of water of high oxygen content around the eggs to keep them alive.

The salmon eggs are laid under the gravel and stay there to develop for a period of two months or more before they are hatched out into small fish.

If the gravel is removed it ruins the area for spawning. There no longer is a constant supply of gravel being washed down into streams during the winter rains because dams have been placed in most streams. "It is no longer possible to take a few of the riffles out and permit the salmon to go up to the next one because over 90 per cent of the original spawning area has been lost and there are few next riffles to go to," said Shannon.

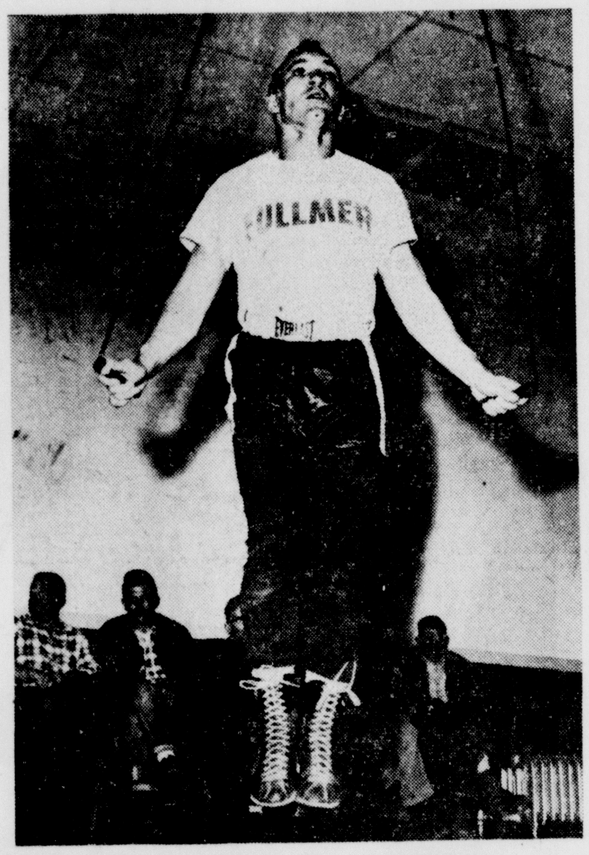
The director said that of the 436 sand and gravel producers in the state, eight were operating in the major salmon spawning areas during the fall of 1959. The Merced River has been damaged by these operations more than any other in the Central Valley.

POSSIBLE SOLUTION

Shannon has a possible solution to the problem.

Pointing out that stream-laid sand and gravel deposits underlie large areas of California and constitute a virtually inexhaustible reserve, he suggests restricting gravel removal in salmon spawning areas.

"In the light of these inexhaustible reserves," he adds, "building programs, highway construction, airport development and the like will not suffer from a lack of material if control is exerted over that minor segment of the gravel removal operations in this state destroying the salmon spawning grounds."



CHAMP IN PEAK CONDITION

Middleweight Champion Gene Fullmer jumps ropes as he winds up training for his title fight with Joey Giardello tomorrow night. The 15-rounder will take place in the field house at Montana State College in Bozeman, Montana.

Palmer Top Money Winner In Golf

DUNEDIN, Fla. (AP)—Arnold Palmer, winner of five golf tournaments and $44,300 this season, leads the pros in the money earned category.

The weekly standings issued by the Professional Golfers Assn. showed Palmer, who plays out of Ligonier, Pa., has garnered the prize money by entering 13 tournaments and finishing in the top five eight times.

Ken Venturi of Palo Alto was second but far behind with $23,300 won in eight tournaments. Dow Finsterwald of Tequesta came next with $21,800 earned in 10 events.

On Shooting Team

A member of the East Marine Corps Recruit Depot's Rifle and Pistol team at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, Parris Island, S. C., is Marine Acting Sgt. Albert K. Thompson, son of Cmdr. and Mrs. A. C. Thompson of 37 Barber avenue, San Anselmo.

Women Golfers Ready For Big Dallas Tourney

DALLAS (AP)—Thirty women professionals of the golf tour will compete in the $10,000 Dallas Open tournament that starts Thursday. Favorites are numerous but Fay Crocker's getting the most attention.

The veteran from Montevideo, Uruguay, leads the money winners through seven tournaments and also boasts the top stroke average. Miss Crocker has banked $5,908.80 and averaged 73.48.

Sad Sam's 'You-Or-Me' Attitude Key To Great Pitching Success

HANLEY

One simple remark Bill Rigney made about Sam Jones after another no-hitter eluded the Toothpick Man in the middle game of the Cub series perhaps best described the secret of Sam's success.

"Everytime he goes out on that mound he gives you a good day's work," said the Giant manager.

Certainly the big fellow has lots of ability—a hummer, a change up and a sweeping sidearm curve—but there are a number of other pitchers in the National League, and the American, too, with as much if not more ability.

Not all of them, however, have Sam's "you-or-me" attitude with every batter he faces. That is the only way his big competitive heart allows him to work—as hard as he can on each batter stepping to the plate.

That was the way he pitched to Walt Moryn the other day when The Moose came on as a pinch-hitter with two out in the eighth and belted a homer on a 2-1 pitch for the only marker and only hit off Sam in his second win of the 1960 season that is just one week old.

JONES' "you-or-me attitude, just as Rigney's simple yet penetrating remark pinpointed the secret of his success, was reflected in a comment Sam made after that game.

"I didn't want to walk The Moose," he said. "I wanted to make him hit or strike out. I was just trying to get them out one at a time."

And there was no bitterness in Jones because Moryn did hit. "Give the guy credit," he said. "He really hit it." Jones was satisfied because "we won it" although he readily allowed "sure, I'll take the no-hitter if I get it."

THERE WAS another time when Sam was bitter about being deprived of a no-hitter. That was the night of June 30 last year when an official scorer capriciously called a tarnished topper that did not get off the infield grass a hit even though a clean play by Andre Rodgers, who twice fumbled the ball, would have nipped the admittedly speedy Junior Gilliam at first base. The scene of that robbery was the Los Angeles Coliseum and even the Dodger fans lustily booed the call and shared Sam's bitterness.

In an ironical parallel, Gilliam's "hit" also came with two out in the eighth inning, just as Moryn's did the other day. But there the parallel ends. Nobody found fault with Moryn's smasher, least of all Sam.

All Giant fans know of Sam's near-misses with the perfect one in those games and also how a midwest storm halted a no-hitter he had in the works against St. Louis last September at seven innings. They know too that he already has one no-hit game in the books, a 1955 job for the Cubs against the Pirates. Some may have forgotten that last May in Seals Stadium the mazing Sam, the Toothpick Man, had another no-hitter going with two out in the seventh.

THAT WAS on May 13 when Sam struck out an even dozen Phillies and finally wound up with a two-hit 6-0 shutout. The first hit in that game came in the seventh, not a big smash like Moryn's or an odious one like Gilliam's, but nevertheless a clean hit even though it was a swinging bunt down the third base line by Willie Jones on which Jimmy Davenport had no play. Gene Freese later in the eighth inning removed whatever curse, if any, attached to the topper by Sam's namesake with an undisputed pinch-hit single to left.

Koch Quint Captures Keg Title

Herm Salkin's 554 series led the champions. Other totals for the winners were Phil Dunning 550, Nick Nacca 574, Ed Clinton 507 and Sam Pillus 488. Nacca's 203 was high game.

GREENBRAE'S "Early Thursday Nighters" League will reach a tension-loaded climax this week in the final round of competition.

Drake Market is in first place, but only by one-half game over the Flatiron Hotel—so the final night should be a thriller.

The Drake team took over the lead in last week's play by winning three of four points from McPhail's while the Flatiron was losing a 3-1 count to Swain Realty.

Dodgers Get Pitcher From Montreal Club

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Los Angeles Dodgers have purchased the Montreal contract of pitcher Ed Rakow, making him eligible for immediate service.

To get him officially on the roster, the Dodgers had to send rookie outfielder Al Norris to St. Paul of the American Assn. Norris hit .265 for Spokane of the Pacific Coast League last year. Rakow was with the Dodgers through spring training and did an impressive job in relief.

Elorde To Defend Title In S. F. Bout

MANILA (AP)—Flash Elorde, the world junior lightweight champion, has agreed to a return match with Harold Gomes in San Francisco July 6, Elorde's manager said today.

Manager Lope Sarreal said he has accepted practically all of the terms, including the purse for Elorde and the July 6 date and the site. The offer was from San Francisco matchmaker Benny Ford.

"There are a few details we still have to iron out, but they are minor in nature," Sarreal told the Associated Press.

Sarreal said, "We want to be sure that Sammy Richman will abide by all stipulations in our return match contract." He did not elaborate. Richman is Gomez' manager.

S. Africa Negroes Report For Work As Boycott Fails

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa, (UPI)—Heavily armed police and troops seized more than 160 Negroes today in a series of raids carried out to crush the last traces of a failing stay-at-home strike.

African workers threatened with loss of their jobs and closing of schools already were pouring out of their native townships in mass disregard of a stay home call from native nationalist leaders.

Today soldiers with fixed bayonets raided African townships near Port Elizabeth and rounded up "undesirables" in what police called "operation cleanup."

Other hundreds of troops lined the main entrances to New Brighton Township to guard the way of Negroes wanting to return to work. Armored vehicles were stationed along roads leading into the townships.

Police, who rounded up some 450 Negroes yesterday, said the stay-home campaign by the banned African National Congress seemed a "complete failure" in Port Elizabeth where thousands of natives jammed into buses to go to work as usual.

No violence had been reported in other big South African centers. In Johannesburg Africans reported for work as usual and officials at bus terminals said the scene was normal.

There were no reports of Africans remaining away from their jobs anywhere in the country.

Africans flocked to work in the port city of Durban, scene of much of South Africa's racial troubles, and in Johannesburg, where the stay-home campaign had been concentrated.

At East London, about 500 miles from Johannesburg, four magistrates were busy sentencing 400 Africans at the rate of one a minute. The Africans were arrested in police raids yesterday.

Most sentences were fines of $2.80 or eight days in jail for Africans who were caught without identification passes. The trials were conducted in the prison and newsmen were not permitted to witness them.

Indications were that the white government of South Africa had won a major victory for its discriminatory racial laws.

A man of ideas

Withholding Tax Plan Author Dies

DANBURY, Conn. (AP)—Beardsley Ruml, 65, who invented "pay-as-you-go" tax withholding died yesterday after a heart attack.

A former board chairman of the R. H. Macy and Co. department store and the New York Federal Reserve Bank, he was adviser to the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico at his death.

His reputation as an idea man had grown up long before Ruml thought of "pay-as-you-go."

Ruml, a registered Republican who turned New Dealer, thought up the idea for the domestic allotment plan for farm relief which was put into the agricultural adjustment act of 1933.

THREE FACE CHARGES

Principal, Teachers Quit In Paddling Row

VALDOSTA, Ga. (UPI) — A high school principal and more than half the school's 30 teachers resigned last night because the county board of education failed to back them in a controversy over the paddling of a student.

A. B. Martin, principal of the high school at Hahira, Ga., near here, said he expected the rest of the faculty to submit their resignations today.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Cornelius said Martin and one of his teachers paddled their son, Elmer, 14, twice in one day last week. Martin and Mrs. Dwight Maples were charged with assault and battery for the paddling incident last Wednesday.

Also cited in connection with the whipping was Paul Myddleton, a teacher and assistant football coach who has been charged with being an accessory after reportedly witnessing one of the paddlings. Myddleton, Martin and Mrs. Maples are under $500 bond.

Cornelius, a school bus driver, said his son was first paddled by Martin for being downtown at an unauthorized time, and later by Mrs. Maples for being out of the classroom without permission.

The Lowndes County Board of Education held a hearing here yesterday to air the incident, but reached no decision. The only action it took was to grant a maternity leave to Mrs. Maples, which she had requested before the charges were preferred.

Following the heated, four-hour discussion yesterday, Martin said he was resigning his job because he had no other choice. He blamed the board of education and county school Supt. Clyde Meacham for failing to back him and other faculty members involved in the paddling incident.

Dr. Raymond Smith testified at yesterday's hearing that he had examined the youth and found severe bruises.

"These bruises were the results of a severe beating—too severe," the doctor said.

But Martin denied the Cornelius boy had been punished severely. "I've been humiliated," he said. "I have to back up my teachers although I'm not in favor of brutality. The board must back me up 100 per cent or I will resign."

Cornelius testified that he asked Martin to punish his son when he saw him off the school grounds during school hours. "But I didn't tell him to horsewhip him," the irate father father added.

Savage Race Fight Flares At Savannah

SAVANNAH, Ga. (AP)—A savage fight between Negroes and white youths climaxed weeks of racial tension here, where Negroes have been staging sit-down demonstrations and boycotting stores with segregated lunch counters.

Ax handles, pipes, knives and other weapons were swung in the brief but vicious clash in a park last night. A white youth was hospitalized with a serious knife wound in the neck. Two other white youths and a Negro were treated at a hospital and released.

Police jailed two Negroes and seven white persons and began an extensive search of the area for 20 others believed to have taken part in the fight in this Georgia coastal city.

Cause of the burst of violence was not determined.

The battle in the park occurred a few hours after police reported a white man struck a Negro student during a lunch counter sitdown demonstration at the S. H. Kress and Co. store. It was the second such incident in three days.

Warden Feels May 2 Chessman's Last Day

Fred R. Dickson, warden of San Quentin's Prison, said yesterday in Tucson, Ariz., that Caryl Chessman will be executed May 2.

And Chessman feels the same way, Dickson said.

"When I saw him two weeks ago he was his usual egotistical self," said Dickson. "However, he expects to be executed May 2."

Chessman, convicted of 17 felonies in 1948 in Los Angeles, has escaped death dates in the gas chamber eight times through successful appeals and reprieves.

Dickson, in Tucson for a regional wardens' conference, refused to say whether he thought Chessman's life should be spared.

Dickson noted that the 12 witnesses required by law for the execution have been selected. "Most of the time we have trouble getting the 12. This is not true in the Chessman case."

Dickson said he doesn't like capital punishment and has "grave doubts that it is a deterrent against murder."

Chessman, 38, was convicted 12 years ago at Los Angeles of kidnaping with bodily harm, forcing two women into unnatural sex acts.

A. L. Wirin, a Los Angeles attorney, filed Chessman's latest Supreme Court appeal yesterday, contending his client was tried on a simple kidnaping for robbery charge, which can't draw the death penalty.

Chessman, Davis End Differences

Attorney George T. Davis said yesterday Caryl Chessman and he "have resolved our differences."

Last week Chessman wrote Davis, asking him to withdraw from the case involving Chessman's 12-year fight to escape execution in San Quentin Prison's gas chamber.

Chessman accused Davis of "headline hunting" and said the lawyer disregarded Chessman's wishes in handling some phases of the case.

Davis visited Chessman yesterday, as he did on Friday and Saturday.

As he left the prison, the attorney told reporters "Caryl and I have resolved our differences."

Nothing useful is wasted in the telephone business — even old lines you might think are ready for the junk heap. For it's here that telephone men recover a metal precious to your phone service. You might say they're copper mining in the sky. On this one job, pictured above, we salvaged 1,500 miles of copper wire — wire to be melted down and turned into new lines to carry your calls again. It's economy like this that helps us give you the most value for your telephone dollar.

Added Importance

Leather soles take on added importance in the fashion parade. Some spectators use the sole itself for decorative interest. A mudguard effect is achieved on one shoe by bringing the sole up over the sides of the shoe.

Marin Overweight Residents Organizing TOPS Club Here

A TOPS Club Inc. is being founded in Marin County. The purpose of the organization to help all those who are overweight to take off pounds sensibly. The club is based on the principle of "group therapy," getting together a group of people who have a problem in common and discussing it frankly without fear of being laughed at or misunderstood. The members of the chapter compete with each other in a friendly fashion while attaining their ideal weight, and in maintaining that weight.

The enthusiasm of the group provides encouragement and incentive to those individuals who lack the will power to accomplish their goal alone. In helping others, TOPS members also help themselves. TOPS provides a social outlet to help overcome the underlying cause of obesity, such as frustration, lack of confidence, and loneliness.

Its headquarters in Milwaukee, Wis. serves as a clearing house for good ideas, makes available to all members through the TOPS Manual, and other literature, the step by step procedure followed by the successful losers. TOPS constantly strives to persuade, inspire, and educate its members. TOPS is not a course of a few weeks or months duration. It is a well planned, long range continuing program dedicated to helping overweight, bringing them recognition and awards for a job well done and utilizing that success and know-how to help all others who will put themselves in a position where the club can aid them.

All those who wish to join the local club are asked to notify Mrs. Melvin Ferguson of Novato.

TOPS Club, Inc. was founded in January 1948 in Milwaukee, by Mrs. Esther Schuland Manz, a housewife who suffered from overweight the same as thousands of others. It was started as a local club, with only four members. As a result of its effectiveness, TOPS Chapters have sprung up all over the nation and keep in touch regularly to pool ideas and ammunition to win the fight against excess weight.

'Wing Your Way To Summer' Fashion Focus Show Theme

Like a bird in a breeze, or a jet on the jump, it's time to "Wing Your Way to Summer" on a fanciful flight to find nonstop fashions that are jet-propelled to fly from late April to early October.

Take-off time to summer is Tuesday, April 26 at 12:30 p.m. at Rickey's popular Fashion Focus luncheon with a cargo of fashionable air freight tagged by Barbara McClure, boat, beach, dinner, dance, travel and town.

Winging their way, and winning their wings will be the Ross Hospital Volunteers honored by Fashion Focus for their outstanding service to Ross Hospital where they are called the Rainbow Ladies. Literally they will wing their way to summer in the soon-to-be dedicated new wing at Ross Hospital.

Co-pilot for the afternoon will be the Alpha Omicron Pi Alumnae Chapter in Marin who have adopted the Endowed Bed Fund of the Ross Hospital Volunteers as one of their special philanthropic endeavors. This Endowed Bed Fund answers a real need, and enables a patient of a Marin doctor, upon approval of the Board of Trustees, to be assisted financially when hospitalization would mean a hardship on his family.

Crewing Tuesday's fashion flight to honor the Rainbow Ladies of Ross Hospital will be a distinctive Belvedere shop giving a "swoosh" to a wardrobe that only comes from being jet-propelled whether beachcombing, vacation-vagabonding, or staying at home.

Soaring high and handsome or sleek and trim will be coiffures by a San Anselmo Salon, to wing their way to summer on eight attractive models representing the Raindow Ladies and the Alpha O's.

Reservations for Tuesday's fashionable flight may be made by calling Rickey's.

Batter-Up Dance To Usher In S.A. Little League Season

The Seventh Annual Batter-Up Dance, ushering in the seventh season of Little League baseball in San Anselmo, is scheduled Saturday night, April 23 at Star Hall in the hub city.

This year's dance, only one scheduled for the season, will be the principal fund-raising event in 1960 for the San Anselmo boy's baseball organization which has grown since 1954 from eight teams for 10-12-year-olds to 19 teams for ages 10 through 17 years.

Mrs. Nicholas T. Nacca, general chairman, pointed out San Anselmo requires no registration or other fees for boys to play, as do many boy's baseball leagues.

"We have high hopes for a big turnout at the dance," she said. "Our costs, including insurance on the boys, are higher this year and still we want every boy to have an opportunity to play. Support of the parents and friends of the League at the season-opening dance is one way to make this possible."

Dancing will be from 10 p.m., until 2 a.m. There will be a midnight buffet with Mrs. Herman Thompson in charge.

Music will be by a combo popular in the Bay Area. Decorations will be in a baseball motif.

Picnic Planned By Sausalito Yacht Club

At the recent meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of the Sausalito Yacht Club Mrs. Peter Fromhagen, president, introduced and welcomed two new members, Mesdames John Ward and Arthur Beringer, both of Sausalito.

Miss Vicki Kirk of Sausalito presented the Auxiliary with a large scrap book for clippings and pictures. Mrs. Leonard Delmas of Kentfield presented Mrs. Fromhagen with a mahogany gavel.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Hart of Tiburon, members of both the Sausalito Yacht Club and Southern Marin Recreation Center, will co-sponsor with the Auxiliary, a "Shipwreck Dance" to be held at the Southern Marin Recreation Center as the next project to raise funds for clubhouse furnishings. This will be the last affair to be held before the end of June when, it is hoped, the Yacht Club's new clubhouse will be completed.

Although not strictly on the Auxiliary agenda, the Sausalito Yacht Club picnic was a topic of great interest. The picnic, for members, their families and crews, is scheduled for April 24, from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m., at Hospital Cove on Angel Island. There will be a shore boat to ferry those not using their own boats. There are reservations already received for 100 adults and 44 children.

Pastor's Mother Pays Visit Here

A welcome guest at the San Rafael Presbyterian manse for the Easter holidays has been the mother of the pastor, Rev. Wesley C. Baker. Mrs. William Baker came from her home in Fullerton, California to be with her son and family and assist during the busy Lenten and Easter church calendar in care of her three grandchildren, Rebecca, 10, Ernest, 8, and Timothy, 5.

A year and a half ago Mrs. Fuller moved to Fullerton, upon the death of her husband, to be near her only son, who then had the parish of Shadow Hills, Presbyterian Church of Sunland, near Los Angeles.

Mrs. Baker, Sr., paying her first visit to the manse, has a great zest for the life of only son, who, to her surprise and joy, chose the ministry.

The attractive Velma, one of three daughters in the Allgood family, formerly of Scottsdale, Arizona, has also been very close to her husband's only sister. The three Allgood sisters were known in their early girlhood as Tom, Dick and Harry. There were no brothers. Most personable is "Dick," the second daughter. And she now answers to that name among her many new young Marin friends. For here she quickly won her way into the hearts of the various church groups by her leadership, musical ability and many activities plus delightful personality — a real helpmate for her young and dynamic husband, parson Baker, and a wonderful mother.

The Baker home is always open to their new and old friends. Consequently many guests from near and distant points frequent the manse at 1111 E street, off Fifth avenue, and next door to the First Presbyterian Church, where they became residents in January.

Suburbia House Tour To Feature 6 Homes

Six homes will be shown when "Sophisticated Suburbia," sponsored by St. Stephen's Guild of Belvedere, holds its 10th annual House Tour on Thursday, May 12, followed by tea at the newly-remodeled San Francisco Yacht Club.

Second house on the tour is the Richard O. Pollards occupied by the Robert O. Groses. Also a lagoon home, it is filled with personal mementos collected by the owners. It will be very interesting to tour goers. It was designed by Theodore Bernardi of Worster, Bernardi and Emmons.

Third house on the tour is the home of Mrs. James Lewis, whose architect son-in-law William V. H. Brooke designed it. Small and jewel-like it is almost like apartment living. Interior decoration expresses the personality of the owner and her collection of snuff boxes and treasured antiques.

Fourth house on the tour, designed by Leonard Cahn, is the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chester C. Vargas Jr., cantilevered to jut out over San Francisco. It is furnished with a feeling of pacifica. The exquisite Oriental garden was designed by the owners.

Fifth house on the tour, designed by the architectural firm of Appleton and Wolford, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Joel Horowitz. Its wooded site and treetop beauty makes it particularly interesting. Hardman and Kopp did the interior furnishings.

Sixth home on the tour is the home of Mr. and Mrs. MacBoyle Lewis, located on a flat plateau on the tiptop of Belvedere Island. Designed by Joseph Eshenek it presents a spectacular panoramic view of the entire Bay. Decor and garden by the owners.

Still more is in offing for those who attend the one to five event. After being conducted by shuttle buses around the island, everyone will be served a delicious tea at the newly remodeled San Francisco Yacht Club. Tickets may be obtained from Mrs. T. L. Wark, 18 Teal road, Belvedere, or from Mrs. George Stephens at her Keil Cove home, Tiburon.

On this day in history:

In 1775, the American War for Independence began. The British arrived at Lexington, Mass., and found a small company of Minute Men awaiting them.

In 1861, the first blood was shed in the War between the States in Baltimore when a mob of southern sympathizers attacked a contingent of Massachusetts soldiers parading through the city.

In 1892, Charles E. Duryea of Springfield, Mass., turned the last screw on his horseless carriage and took it out of his shop for a successful drive. He called the first American-made automobile in history the buggyaut.

Too Bad Gov. Brown's Big Savings Claims Are Faulty

This is the time of year (just before elections) when politicians toss around a lot of figures in an attempt to show how well things are going under their firm hands. Some of these figures need challenging.

One that comes immediately to mind is the tremendous claims of economy which Gov. Edmund G. Brown "revealed" by coincidence on the day the state income tax normally fell due.

The sum the governor claimed to have saved in fiscal year 1959-60 is $19,582,500, a sum which we would applaud—if he had saved it. Unfortunately, examination of his "savings" doesn't uphold his claim.

In the list are four major items: General savings $2,000,000; Adjustment of financing for local fairs $11,093,500; Abolishment of special funds $3,613,000; Motor Vehicles $1,153,500. These four total $17,860,000 and are the only claimed savings over $650,000.

General savings, the governor explained, are savings "made generally throughout the state agencies" and "cannot for certain be anticipated to recur." Specifically, vacant jobs often that weren't filled and thus a salary savings claimed. This is a good way to save money—fewer employees—if you don't just hire them later.

The local fairs "saving" of more than 11 million dollars, over half of the total claimed, wasn't a savings at all. Actually it was an expenditure. The governor took the county fair surpluses, which had been building up out of parimutuel recepits, and transferred them to the general fund. This is like taking the money you have saved up in the bank to buy a new refrigerator and spending it to buy food. Before it was saved and drawing interest; now it's spent, gone, no more interest.

We're not arguing whether or not the county fairs were getting too much before or too little now. What we are saying is that the Brown administration didn't save that money, it spent it.

That also goes for the more than 3½ million dollars from the special funds. Brown's administration abolished them and then claimed he "saved" money. All right, if he saved it, where is it now? We had it before.

The last million 150 thousand dollars was saved by the director of the Department of Motor Vehicles in his agency's operation. He achieved this over the objections of other state officials and direct opposition of some legislators of the governor's party. He had to fight to save that money.

Would that Governor Brown's other savings were as real as that he saved in motor vehicles.

WRONG OIL PARALYZES 10,000

Cutting corners by a few sharpsters resulted in temporary paralysis for 10,000 and a permanent disability for 500 poor people in Morocco.

Whole families were suddenly afflicted with tingling pains followed by a numbness of their hands and feet.

Hospital facilities were taxed beyond capacity and thousands hobbled about the streets on makeshift crutches. Health authorities soon discovered that a few hucksters hoping to make a fat profit were the cause of the tragedy.

They diluted the olive oil that poor families use for cooking with a cheap, anticorrosive oil, bought from a surplus supply at a nearby U. S. airbase. It contained triorthocresyl phosphate, which damages or destroys nerve and muscle tissue.

Do everything in your power to protect the God-given right of every human person to be treated justly. You will help to lessen at least some of man's injustices to his fellowman if you do.

"Blessed are they who suffer persecution for justice' sake, for theirs is the kingdom of heaven." (Matthew 5:10)

Grant, O Holy Spirit, that I may work as hard to protect the innocent as others do to harm them.

To Hold Your Husband, Don't Get Sunburned, Advises Eva Gabor

"A wife should always look white, delicate and feminine. Then she can get away with any mischief. Her husband won't mind," she says.

Miss Gabor, who is now wed to broker Richard Brown, is a member of a Hungarian family renowned for two generations for its man-taming skill. She feels, with some justification, she her-self is an "international authority" on how to attract men.

"But just because a man puts a ring on your finger doesn't mean you've got him forever. That's only the beginning. That's when the trouble starts," she says.

"You can never really relax in a marriage. Too often when people marry the wife stops growing — and the man begins to grow. Unless the wife does something, she is bound to lose her husband."

We asked Miss Gabor if she would disclose a few European secrets in the art of winning and holding a husband. She gladly obliged.

"The main thing a woman must always remember is to look feminine," she said.

"She should always wear a hat and never take off her gloves, even when she smokes. She looks more glamorous in gloves.

"But if she wears a flowered hat she should never wear a busy-looking dress. It puts her out of focus."

Never wear low-heeled shoes. It's better for a girl to go barefooted.

Eat in a dimly lit restaurant Then, if a girl has a shiny nose, the glare from it won't blind her escort.

She believes that, by and large, American women dress very well, but that their biggest error is in dressing to please each other.

"WHAT IS THE good of it if another woman thinks you look chic, and your husband thinks you look terrble?" he demanded.

"Another mistake American women make is in wearing flowers. Flowers belong in a vase in the house, not on you. They make you look like a circus horse.

If your husband gives you a corsage, and you don't want to hurt his feelings, pin it to your evening bag.

But the biggest lesson most U.S. women need to learn in the field of romance, she added, is how to make their men feel more manly.

"EUROPEAN women know better how to make the man feel he is the boss. This is a man's need," she says.

"If his wife tells him 'You are the greatest,' her husband has the resources to fight again tomorrow. I cannot stand women who are bossy to men. It makes me shrivel to hear them."

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Need For Facts Not Name Calling

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I noted recently in your letters to the editor column that Elmer Worlund is still considerably alarmed by the threat of Clem Miller's being retained for another term in Congress. Allowing Mr. Worlund the benefit of the doubt, it might be argued that underlying his claims that Mr. Miller is, among other things, the champion of rapists, is the possible contention that Mr. Miller has done an inadequate job in Congress. It is the latter possibility that I have taken the time to investigate. I have found Mr. Miller's record most impressive.

First, as to the number of bills he has authored which have passed the house, inasmuch as Mr. Worlund has made this such an issue, the facts show that Mr. Miller has secured passage of five of his own bills. Investigation also reveals that this is twice the average of his predecessor who served in Congress for 10 years. Despite the fact that Mr. Miller is a freshman Congressman, his record of bills passed is over three times the average of other California Congressmen from the opposition party, all of whom are senior in tenure.

I trust, however, that Mr. Worlund does not measure efficiency solely by the number of bills passed. If we may look beyond the legislative box-score, the record shows for example, that Mr. Miller has taken a leading roll in efforts to control the arms race. Last year he introduced legislation which would have prevented the spread of nuclear weapons to foreign countries. This year he introduced the leading resolution calling for a moratorium on nuclear testing, the latter having been a part of Miller's platform since 1956. He has introduced a bill to step up the technical data and research to make inspection for arms control workable.

In another field, that of conservation, he has been working to reconcile the differences which may exist between those primarily interested in business and those interested in recreation.

His version of the Wilderness Bill is being studied by many as a common ground on which all parties of interest may agree. His work on basic research for the fishing industry is widely hailed as outstanding. The record of the San Rafael conference of last fall which he organized, is to be presented as a House document.

In debate, Clem Miller has already made his mark. He has played key parts in debate on bills from his committee on housing and on the completely revised Federal Credit Union Act. He was also selected by his colleagues to give the closing arguments for the committee bill in the labor debate of last year because of his long experience in labor-management relations. He voted for the labor bill which is now law, contrary to Mr. Worlund's letter and other reports.

Space limitation prevents a complete listing of the legislative accomplishments which make up Clem Miller's outstanding record as a freshman Congressman. I have hopes, however, that the coming election campaign will present arguments on the true issues rather than resort to innuendo as was the case with Mr. Worlund's letter. Certainly, labeling Mr. Miller as "tricky," "shady," "ridiculous," and "disgusting" will present no satisfactory solution. No good will come from hinting that Clem Miller is soft on Communists and rapists nor even claims that Clem Miller favors raising the price of bread.

It strikes me that the interests of our legislative district, our state and our nation can best be served by persons such as Mr. Worlnud directing their efforts towards the basic and important differences between the parties and their candidates. Recent history gives evidence of the harm that can come from political argument based solely upon name calling, fear, insinuation and innuendo.

$10,000 Spent; No Floods Controlled

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Over a year ago the Board of Supervisors (Mr. Fusselman a minority of one) voted to spread a Special Assessment District over a part of Tamalpais Valley. The money raised was to provide local matching funds for a U.S. Army Engineers Flood Control Project. Of the $30,000 thus produced, about $10,000, or one-third of the total, has been spent for legal, engineering and printing fees.

This latter sum was disbursed correctly, albeit it does not provide any flood control works whatsoever. In fact, it seems that due to rising costs, the whole Tamalpais Valley Flood Control Project is now defunct. Thus the $10,000 of tax payers' money already spent is perhaps irretrievably lost to the local taxpayers.

I say perhaps because the Board of Supervisors could, in a noble gesture, restore this lost $10,000 to the poor beleaguered local taxpayers from county funds. (This wouldn't be too inequitable, considering that all Special Assessment Districts are created, sans recourse to a vote or even, necessarily, a petition from the people). But it is the remaining $20,000 that is the main concern of this letter. Is it not time that the governing board of this county make a public accounting of this money, and take steps to return it to the pocketbooks of its legal owners?

In concluding, I wish to say how much simpler all this would be if the Board had heeded the advice of fellow-member Bill Fusselman at the final hearing declaring the aforesaid Assessment District. At that time Fusselman suggested that county road funds be pledged to satisfy the Army Engineers' requirements of that time, and that Special Assessment proceedings be withheld until the last possible moment and until there was a clear road ahead. Now there is no clear road.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

Leonard Bernstein is influencing music lovers with the oldie about a man who could not decide whether to marry a beautiful girl who was tone deaf or something of a hag with the voice of an angel. He decided on the latter. The morning after their nuptials he woke up, took an objective look at his bride, nudged her, and implored, "For heaven's sake, SING!"

A young oil company executive, stationed in Saudi Arabi writes that the liquor in those parts tastes exactly like varnish. In fact, after just one drink the other day, he earned a disapproving look from the head of the refinery and the accusation, "Young man, you are under the influence of lacquer."

One mirror does not constitute a vital threat to me,
But when I'm trying on a suit
I get a sudden full-length view of profile and of rear —
A sight I'm unaccustomed to and which I always fear.

Anyone Want Hand Crank Slugger? It Might Be Handy In An Old Mine

Anyone want a hand crank slugger?

Don Bennett of Larkspur has one — at least 75 years old — and he's willing to donate it to a museum or mining institute or wherever is the best place for it.

What is it?

Well, nowadays when a miner wants to go blasting rock in his mine, he uses a pneumatic or electric drill. But back in the old days — way back — the slugger was used.

You just wind it up like a clock — and its drill lets loose and drives into the rock.

BENNETT, a man with a keen eye for a gold mine, found the ancient piece of machinery in an old tunnel near Silver City, Idaho. The way old-timers tell the story, there were two men working the property 75 years ago. They had a squabble and one shot the other, then walked away, leaving everything behind him.

No one had been in the tunnel since that day, the story goes.

Bennett has received lots of advice since an Independent-Journal story on his discovery of gold and silver near Idaho City.

One call came from Howdy Wilson, an old time miner who lives in Belvedere and sells insurance in Larkspur. He is associated with a Belvedere man who owns an iron mine about 100 miles from Bennett's property.

AND SPEAKING of mining, Mort Coombs, manager of the Larkspur branch of the Bank of America, is looking forward to an appropriate holiday for a banker this summer.

He and his son plan to spend part of their vacation panning for gold around Colfax.

CORTE MADERA was apparently the only municipality to count its absentee ballots right after election last Tuesday, and it followed the same procedure in 1958. Everyplace else is doing the counting tonight.

Seems to be some confusion on the law about this.

She followed the little red book of election laws to the letter, page by page, and as a result, it was probably "the most legal election we ever had," she laughed.

If you noticed a bonfire behind town hall morning after the election, it was just the unusued, and properly defaced, ballots going up in smoke — as the law requires.

THERE WAS a minor crisis in Naydeen's home the day after election. Mr. Bascum was missing. Mr. Bascum is a black and white baby rat with a long pink tail, and he belongs to Naydeen's son, Bill, 6.

Bill is in kindergarten at Neil Cummins School, and the kindergarten had seven rats it no longer needed and wanted to give away.

Town Manager Art Brandow has a youngster in the same kindergarten — but he said no.

"I was tireder than Art," sighed Naydeen. "I said okay."

Mr. Bascum disappeared while Bill was cleaning his cage in the Penny yard. But he turned up later in the bushes, to his young owner's delight.

MRS. JIM KILPATRICK, whose husband owns the Bon Air Supermarket in Greenbrae, rolled a ball down the alley at Greenbrae Lanes the other day and knocked down the lucky green pin. She won a pound of bacon.

Said her husband: "It was like sending ice to Alaska."

New FCC Chairman Means To Act To Improve Programming

WASHINGTON—It looks as though the Federal Communications Commission is coming out of its long hibernation.

The liberating views of its new chairman, Frederick W. Ford, is giving the F.C.C., which is supposed to regulate television and radio, a fresh lease on life—and an opportunity to redeem itself.

This is encouraging to everyone who would like to see the commission become a positive force to rescue the public from egregiously bad programming.

FORMER CHAIRMAN John C. Doerfer, who resigned recently, constantly centered his attention on what he thought the F.C.C. couldn't do.

New chairman Ford is a healthy dissenter from these do-nothing views. He is telling the public and the industry and his fellow ocmmissioners that a reading of the whole statute and all court decisions—not just a few of them—gives the commission a large concern with over-all programming. His approach is positive, not negative.

He says quite frankly that when he sees something which needs to be remedied, he intends to use the authority of the F.C.C. to remedy it and if he finds authority lacking, he will go to Congress to ask for it.

FORD DECLARES that the F.C.C. has the right to review a "station's past programming and its proposal for the future" in order to determine whether its future operation "would serve the public interest." In fact, he adds, "a positive duty to undertake such consideration is indicated."

The outgoing chairman contended that since the commission cannot, by law, censor an individual program, it cannot "determine program balance." The new chairman says that it can and will. He points out that in one year an early Federal Radio Commission withheld renewals from 83 of 164 stations and that the type of programs was the "dominant influence."

CHAIRMAN FORD is not censorship-minded. If he were, I would hope to be among the first to protest. He does not propose to tell any network, any station, any broadcaster, any producer what to say or what to produce. He does propose to weigh the "balance" of programming in relationship to the industry's licensed duty to serve the public.

Experimenting With Hypnotism On Unstable Children Dangerous

"Would hypnotism help my boy?" a mother asks.

"He is 14, cries a lot and has bad tantrums. He is as skinny as a rail and does poorly at school. I have a friend who is studying hypnotism. He wants to hypnotize my boy, and experiment with him. Would it be dangerous?"

It could be dangerous. Don't let your friend experiment with your son. I've been reading some reports on the misue of hypnotism by amateurs. The reports were printed in scientific magazines. They are scary.

Healthy, happy, emotionally stable folks can be hypnotized without harm. But emotionally unstable people can be hurt badly. As you describe him, your boy is emitionally unstable.

Here is a typical case concerning a girl of 16. She now is in a mental hospital. She was badly overweight. She was a compulsive eater, and couldn't stop. Of course, she was ashamed of her size. She got got an amateur hypnotist to work on her and took daily treatments for several weeks. Then she went to pieces completely. She may not recover.

Here is another case—a boy of 17. He was a nervous, resentful young delinquent. He and his friends held up a service station. He was caught. It was his second offense. The judge put him on probation, with the understanding that he would go to a psychiatrist for help. Instead his folks sent him to a hypnotist, expecting quicker results. Now he too is in a mental hospital.

In the hands of properly trained specialists, hypnotism is very useful. In the hands of anyone else it is dangerous. Just now it is a fad.

Mill Valley Puts Sprinkler System In At Ball Park

A permanent sprinkler system has been installed by the City of Mill Valley with the cooperation of the Optimist Club and Recco 17 at the Optimist ballpark.

The system will be used for watering the baseball diamond and the city has accepted the maintenance of the park. Planting of the outfield area will be done at the end of the baseball season.

The park, on the site of the old city dump—now Recco 17—will be dedicated May 21 at the opening of the two-day Youth-O-Rama celebration being sponsored by the Mill Valley Optimist Club, chairman E. Andrew Lax said.

Funds raised from the celebration will be used for further ball park installations such as a clubhouse and showers, he said. The youth-in-action show will feature such activities as a baseball game, judo exhibition, wood bucking contest, horse show, bike race and trampoline act. It will open at 11 a.m., May 21 and at noon on May 22. Closing hours have not been set.

Gasoline Flares Up In Garage

A can of gasoline ignited in a garage at 176 Picnic avenue at 12:30 p.m. yesterday, but the flames were quickly doused with little or no damage.

John E. Williams, owner, said he was working on his 1953 sedan inside the garage when the gasoline caught fire. He said he does not know how the fire started.

Paint on his car was slightly scorched, but there was no other damage.

Many Unwanted Pets Die Miserable Deaths

By FREDERICK M. WINSHIP

NEW YORK (UPI)—If Americans are humane people, why do they allow ever increasing millions of unwanted pets to die miserable deaths each year?

Most of us would rather not be asked this question It arouses memories of kittens turned loose in the country, puppies given away to strangers, surreptitious drownings of entire litters, and children's tears. Even humane means of disposal such as legal gas chambers and crematoriums usually leave animal lovers with a vague but unshakable sense of guilt.

This year Americans will spend more than 2.5 billion dollars on their 50 million pet dogs and cats, yet more than 20 million homeless dogs and cats will die of starvation and exposure and about five million will be destroyed in animal pounds. Is there an answer to the staggering question of ethics posed by these statistics?

A relatively new organization on the national scene, the Friends of Animals, Inc., thinks there is. This group would like to limit the number of dogs and cats born each year, estimated at 33 million and increasing as rapidly as the human population, to the number of permanent homes available to them—about eight million.

"This can be done by convincing the American people it is to their benefit to sterilize their pets rather than letting them breed accidentally," said Dr. Robert C. Schmid, an executive of one of the nation's largest philanthropic foundations, who with his wife was a founding member of Friends of Animals.

"The neutering operation is a simple one and usually inexpensive, but apparently even the small expense involved has kept many people from having it done," Schmid said. "That's where Friends of Animals comes in. We are willing to give financial assistance to those who cannot afford the prevailing fee."

Friends of Animals has begun its operation in the Greater New York area and is willing to help branches of the organization get started in other parts of the country. It hopes eventually all humane societies and dog pounds will cooperate by offering pets for adoption only to persons who agree to sterilize them.

"Once this program is generally adopted, there would be a great reduction in the number of abandoned dogs and cats and our humane societies could begin to allocate their funds mainly to animal welfare services rather than animal disposal," Schmid said. "Of course there would always be enough accidental breeding to provide us with plenty of mongrel pets but for the most part breeding would be left to the professionals."

The Friends of Animals' program has been approved by religious authorities, including the New York Catholice Archdiocese. It has the backing of most pet authorities who stress that neutering does not make cats fat and lazy as commonly believed. It is being actively promoted by many pet-owning celebrities, including June Havoc, James Mason, Fannie Hurst, Budd Schulberg and the Duchess of Windsor.

"My wife and I got interested in this when we first moved to New York and began taking stray kittens into our apartment," said Schmid. "We wound up with 22 cats and an intense interest in how to deal with the problem of animal over population humanely and rationally. Now we thinks we have found the way."

Permit For Yacht Float Expected

J. C. Tinkler, 16, Harbor View court, San Rafael, is expected to receive a permit this week for construction of a piling bulkhead and yacht float in front of his home on San Rafael creek.

Officers at the Army Engineer district in San Francisco reported today that no protests had been received on the proposed construction. Protests were to have been in by Friday.

The float would provide deep water landing for Tinkler's sailboat.

British Still Betting On Ships In Pacific

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Passenger ships in the Pacific are getting a lot of competition from airplanes, but the British still are betting on ships. Betting heavily.

The Empire's latest blue chip —a 42 million dollar ship—is the 45,000-ton Canberra, launched in March in Northern Ireland for Orient and Pacific Lines.

She will operate between London and Vancouver, B.C., via Suez, Australia, the Orient and the U.S. West Coast and will be the biggest ship ever to operate a regular schedule in the Pacific.

The Pacific's passenger fleet just about disappeared in World War II, but in recent years there has been a quiet comeback, thanks to some older folks who have been storing up money and time.

Steamship firms are remarkably close mouthed, but there is no doubt there still is plenty of money to be made selling cruises, even if commercial and emergency passengers now fly.

Eugene Hoffman, an American President Lines vice president, points out his firm develops 60 per cent of its business in California and the average age of a cruise passenger is 58 years.

APL, which used to be called the Dollar Lines, would like federal government help to build a Pacific superliner. Executives say there is no doubt they could sell more tickets if they had more space.

Matson Navigation Co., in its last annual report, said the passenger business was improved and after two bad years, showed a small profit.

Matson, without giving money figures, said its Lurline and Matsonia carried 75,300 passengers on the California-Hawaii run, a gain of 23 per cent.

Its Monterey and Mariposa, smaller ships, carried 9,200 on the South Pacific run, a jump of 42 per cent.

Matson did not specify which of its profits came from passengers, but it made $3,051,994 last year, compared with $343,143 in 1958, when a sugar strike in Hawaii hurt business.

Matson is deep in the pineapple and sugar trade.

O&P is building another ship, the 40,000-ton Oriana, for the same trade and already is operating the Orsova, Arcadia, Oronsay, Himalaya, Orcades, Chusan and Iberia, ranging from 24,215 tons to 29,743.

Those are big ships for the Pacific although the Canberra will be only about half the size of the Queen Elizabeth.

When the British get all this going it will mean that there will be 24 regular passenger liners in the Pacific with 21,270 berths. That's 16 fewer ships than before the war but the passenger capacity is about the same and a lot more comfortable. Many prewar ships had steerage, mainly for Orientals.

The brisk business steamships did in taking aging Orientals home to die has disappeared with the U.S. economic blockade of Red China.

Except for one ship, two fleets vanished in the war—Nippon Yusen Kaisha and the Canadian Pacific Railway's white Empress ships. Only the Hikawa Maru, between Tokyo and Seattle, remains of the seven passenger ships NYK used to operate to this country. Six were sunk.

Japanese bombers sank the Empress of Asia in 1942, an Italian sub got the Empress of Canada in the Atlantic in 1943 and the Empress of Russia burned in England in 1945. That left CPR's Pacific fleet with only the Empress of Japan, which was renamed the Empress of Scotland after the Pearl Harbor attack and is now sailing under the German flag as the Hanseatic for the Hamburg-Atlantik Line.

U.S. passenger vessels had the Pacific virtually to themselves for a time after the war — before O&P came along.

APL operates the President Cleveland and President Wilson, both big postwar ships, to the Orient in addition to the President Hoover, a smaller ship brought over from the Caribbean.

APL also has the Presidents Polk and Monroe in around-the-world business.

Matson, the other big U.S. line in the Pacific, operated four luxury liners before the war and still does, but only two are the same ships. Home Lines, Inc , now owns the prewar Matsonia and Mariposa and operates them in the Atlantic as the Vasilissa Fredideriki and Homeric.

The present Matsonia is the old Monterey.

POIGNANT (?) SCENE FROM FORTHCOMING PLAY

"I have come across the ocean to tell you that I have missed you," says Merv Silberberg (as Paul d'Argenson, from Paris) to Tykie Casey (Sabrina Fairchild) in this scene of mixed emotions from the comedy "Sabrina Fair," to be presented by the Ross Valley Players for four weekends starting April 28. Dick Casey (far left) and Fred Brylka (as David and Linus Larrabee) look on with something less than enthusiasm. (Photo by Bert Howell)

Californians Urged To Get Polio Shots

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The State Public Health Department, noting an increase in paralytic cases over a year ago, today urged Californians to get anti-polio vaccinations.

The department said 41 cases of paralytic polio—six more than in the first quarter of 1959—were reported in the first three months of 1960.

"Crippling polio strikes hardest in California during the summer and early fall months," the department said in its monthly report to the governor.

"Mindful of the vaccine shortages which occur during the summer the department urges the unprotected to seek vaccination now in order to have the full three-shot protection needed," the report said.

Compromise Speed

Half the highway is within the Lockport city limits and has a 30 mile per hour limit. But motorists headed west, on the Niagara County side of the road, may drive up to 50 miles per hour. Officials are considering a 40 miles per hour compromise.

Music Chest To Offer 3rd Scholarship

A third memorial scholarship will be offered by the Marin Mustic Chest this year, thanks to the generosity of a Sausalito woman, it was announced today by Mrs. Wallace Scott, Music Chest president.

Mrs. Raul Periera of 17 Glen drive, Sausalito, is contributing a $200 scholarship to be known as the Raul Periera Violin Scholarship in memory of her late husband, who was a well-known musician and teacher. Although Periera taught piano, his "first love" was the violin, according to his widow.

The Periera Scholarship will be offered this year along with the Maude Fay Symington Scholarship, named in honor of the founder and organizer of the Music Chest, now residing in San Francisco, and the Louise N. Furst Scholarship, given in memory of a past president of the Music Chest.

The organization also sets aside 5 per cent of money subscribed during its summer concert season subscription drive for scholarships. This will make possible a total of five scholarships this year for deserving young Marin musicians, said Mrs. Scott.

Auditions will be held some time in August, she said.

Plight Of Sand Sifter

ASBURY PARK, N. J. (AP)—There is a sad decline in the once prosperous art of beachcombing.

Adam Schultz, 68, who has been sifting the sands along the Atlantic Coast for the past 30 years, has had to take odd jobs to make ends meet.

San Rafael High Plans Careers Day

More than 60 representatives of careers ranging from engineering to law enforcement, science to stewardesses, will be at the school to talk to students in all grades.

Beginning at 11:45 a.m., students will leave their classrooms for an hour of discussions with representatives of careers they are considering.

Tomorrow night, parents and their youngsters will attend the school to hear the career representatives parents have chosen in a survey. Students also were polled to find their career interests, said head counselor, James Norton.

Included at the evening meeting will be a talk by a U.S. Department of Labor representative, on "Manpower, the Challenge of the 1960."

Next in popularity were engineering, 190; stewardess work, 127; and law enforcement, 117.

Cesare Siepi, a major basso of the Metropolitan Opera, began as a good amateur prizefighter. His mother persuaded him to study opera because boxing "cut up his face too much."
